Temporary Order On Development Refused By Wilson

Decision Precedes Full-Scale Trial On Legality Of Project

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court late yesterday refused to issue an order temporarily halting development of Marincello, prior to a full-scale trial on legality of the project.

The decision followed lengthy hearings on a suit by the City of Sausalito restraining the County of Marin from issuing building permits for Marincello.

In his written opinion, Judge Wilson said the issues involved whether the plaintiffs will ultimately win on the merits of their case, the extent to which such a success would be made meaningless if "status quo" in development was not maintained by a temporary injunction, and damages which the defendants—County of Marin and Frouge Corp.—will suffer if the development is halted but it is later determined that it should not have been.

The judge held that, even if a proposed access road and off-site work are now undertaken, he sees no irreparable harm to the plaintiffs. The land is private ownership, he said, and the plaintiffs have no right to prevent a change.

Judge Wilson said the developers could suffer loss amounting to several hundred thousand dollars if they were temporarily halted and it was later determined that a permanent injunction should not be issued.

He said need of the plaintiffs, including John P. and Constance L. Erickson, and Herbert and Frances M. Perkins, for a temporary injunction was based mainly on a "theoretical apprehension of what could happen rather than on the actual threat of immediate harm."

The plaintiffs contend that the controversial 2,100-acre tract among the Marin headlands was illegally rezoned by the county from residential-agricultural to planned community.

FBI Agent Killed In Kidnap Hunt

SHADE GAP, Pa. (UPI) — An FBI agent was shot and killed today by a sniper believed to be the "mysterious masked mountain man" who kidnaped a 17-year-old school girl. FBI agents and State Police surrounded the sniper's refuge.

A State Police officer said the missing girl was spotted with the sniper in an area known as Burnt Cabin in adjacent Fulton County, about 10 miles south of this tiny community in the rugged Tuscarora Mountains. The officer said the girl, Peggy Ann Bradnick, appeared unharmed.

County Budget Scrutiny Vowed

Marin County supervisors today promised to take a hard look at the proposed $25.9 million budget for fiscal 1967 after formally receiving it from County Administrator Alan Bruce.

His recommended budget would require a tax rate of $2.39 per $100 assessed valuation. Rate this year was $2.185.

"I recommend that we barebone this budget to its essentials, but not at the expense of employees," Supervisor Peter H. Behr said. "I would like to see a cut of 15 to 20 cents in the tax rate."

The budget includes $650,000 for pay increases for employees, about 10 per cent of the current payroll.

Gemini Shot Delayed As Agena Disappears

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The launching of the Gemini 9 astronauts on a rendezvous and space-walk mission was postponed today for at least two weeks when their Agena target satellite failed to achieve orbit.

An Atlas rocket blazed away from Cape Kennedy at 8:15 a.m. (PDT) to propel the Agena into space. But eight minutes leter, mission director William C. Schneider reported:

"We have lost the Agena bird. We don't know exactly what happened to it. The Gemini will not fly today."

He then scrubbed the launch of Gemini 9 pilots Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan, who were to have spent three days in space practicing maneuvers essential to Apollo man-to-the-moon trips.

For Stafford, it was the second similar disappointment. He and Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. were in the Gemini 6 spacecraft last Oct. 25 and had their mission postponed when their Agena target satellite exploded six minutes after liftoff.

During their three days in space, they were to have practiced several rendezvous and docking techniques with the Agena, attempted space rescue missions, fired the Agena engines to change orbits, and Cernan was to have made a record 2-hour, 25-minute space walk.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said yesterday that if the Agena failed to achieve orbit, Stafford and Cernan would have to wait at least two weeks until an alternate satellite could be placed on the launch pad.

This satellite, called an alternate target docking adptor (ATDA) is not as sophisticated as the Agena. It has no propulsion system. It was built after the Gemini 6 failure for just such an emergency.

Federal Aide Calls Parley In Bus Strike

Commuters Balloon Bay Bridges Traffic; Many Ride Ferries

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Commuters settled into emergency transportation means today while a new mediation effort to end the Western Greyhound Lines strike in 12 Western states was organized in Washington.

The strike by about 5,000 drivers and station clerks started at midnight Saturday. It idled 1,500 buses, including 365 commuter runs in the San Francisco area. About 110,000 daily riders in the 12 states had to find other transportation.

U.S. SUMMONS

Both the AFL-CIO Amalgamated Transit Union and Greyhound said negotiating representatives will be on hand in Washington tomorrow for new federal mediation talks. They were called personally by William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

"The continuation of the work stoppage is having a serious impact on communities involved as well as parties themselves," Simkin said in a telegraphed message to both sides.

San Francisco area commuters organized car pools and Southern Pacific added cars on its Peninsula train runs between San Jose and San Francisco.

A second boat was added on the ferry run between Tiburon, in Marin County north across the bay, and San Francisco.

FERRY USE UP

The 7 and 7:30 a.m. ferries carried a total of 366 passengers, up from 208 yesterday and triple the normal average of 120.

Golden Gate Bridge tallied 7,200 more cars than normally, according to bridge district engineer Robert Davidson. The total crossings were 77,734 yesterday.

Greyhound estimated that it normally carries about 13,000 daily round trip commuters on runs across the Golden Gate and San Francisco-Oakland Bay

Westmore Pleads Insanity

Both Westmore's attorney, Richard Werthimer of San Francisco, and Assistant Dist. Atty. Leonard Shaw waived a jury trial. Court trial was shceduled before Judge Thomas F. Keating for June 27.

Shaw said the trial probably will take two days.

Westmore is accused of the shootings in his apartment at 1155 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, last Nov. 5. He was sent to Atascadero State Hospital last Nov. 23, then returned March 25 after being pronounced mentally able to stand trial.

Mafia Kingpin 'Joe Bananas' Turns Self In

JOSEPH BONANNO
Mafia lord surrenders

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mafia leader Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno, object of a world-wide search since he was "kidnaped" 19 months ago, surrendered to federal authorities today to face charges in a sealed indictment.

The 57-year-old chief of a New York-Long Island Cosa Nostra family looked fit and little changed when he gave himself up at the office of U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau. He disappeared in New York Oct. 21, 1964, in the company of two gunmen on the eve of his sccheduled appearance before a rackets grand jury.

It was believed Bonanno decided to come out of hiding to end pressure on his family, Cosa Nostra associates and friends who have been summoned repeatedly before the federal grand jury which has been investigating his disappearance. One of the chief witnesses has been the mobster's eldest son, Salvatore Bonanno of Tucson, Ariz.

The son was believed to have tried to salvage his father's empire from a rival Cosa Nostra family headed by Gaspare (Little Gaspar) Digregorio, whom authorities suspected of engineering Bonanno's kidnaping—if it actually was a kidnaping. Salvatore Bonanno narrowly escaped death last Jan. 28 in a wild underworld gun battle in Brooklyn.

Bonanno was taken immediately after his surrender to the courtroom of Judge Marvin Frankel to answer to an indictment handed down more than a year ago, presumably for obstruction of justice. Dapperly dressed in a gray suit and hat and wearing dark glasses, the Mafia chief smiled affably as he shook hands with reporters.

"How do you feel, Joe?" he was asked.

"Well, under the circumstances as well as could be expected," he replied.

"Joe, were you really kidnaped? It wasn't phony?" came the $64 question.

"I got nothing to say . . ." Bonanno answered.

More than 100 FBI men and scores of interpol agents, in addition to local police, have been involved in the search for Bonanno. His trail led authorities as far afield as Tunis, Rome, Palermo, Montreal and Mexico City without success.

Ky Alerts Troops In Treason Charge

SAIGON (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military government alerted troops of its elite 7th Infantry Division today to stand by in case of Buddhist rioting in Saigon. Two battalions—about 1,000 men — were reported moving in from the south.

The Buddhist hierarchy hurled charges of treason and murder against the regime. Monks in Saigon's main pagoda said they planned to start a 48-hour hunger strike Thursday. In the northern provinces, others said they would give their lives if necessary to force the government to end its crackdown on that part of the country.

As the junta faced the political peril of a new round of fiery suicides by monks, dissident troops of the army's 1st Corps also kept up their resistance to the government.

A soldier in Hue fired two pistol shots at a U.S. helicopter carrying the new Vietnamese commander of the 1st Corps, Maj. Gen. Huynh Van Cao, and the U.S. Marine chief of staff in Viet Nam, Brig. Gen. Jonas M. Platt, on a mission to win over dissident officers of the Vietnamese 1st Army Division.

No one aboard the helicopter was hurt, but a gunner returned the fire and killed the soldier.

While the Hue radio continued its antigovernment broadcasts, only an occasional shot was

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. air cavalrymen hurled heavy reinforcements against a force of 350 or more North Vietnamese regulars in the central highlands today and reported the Communists were on the run.

Helicopters airlifted three battalions of cavalry reinforcements to the battle scene 15 miles west of An Khe and 250 miles northeast of Saigon.

The U.S. command in Saigon said 28 Communist troops were killed in the opening six-hour fight yesterday, but a division officer at the scene estimated total enemy dead at 85.

American casualties were listed as moderate.

In the fighting northwest of Qui Nhon, about 150 American air cavalrymen took on what was thought to be a North Vietnamese platoon yesterday afternoon.

A U.S. spokesman said the Communists were well camouflaged and dug-in, and probably equipped with Soviet 120mm mortars, the largest type used by the Communists which the Soviets have supplied only in recent months.

The U.S. command listed these results for the 1st Infantry Division's Operation Birmingham which began April 24 and ended today:

Five Suspects Indicted In Painter Union Case

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Grand Jury indicted five men last night in the slaying of Dow Wilson as police said they linked his assassination to the killing of still another labor leader.

It was in his bar, police alleged, that the five men occasionally met and one time plotted to kill the bearded union leader.

Wilson, 40—a fiery-tongued, AFL-CIO Painters Union leader — was shot down April 5 on a San Francisco street. Lloyd Green, 45, Painters Union local financial secretary in Hayward, was cut down by a shotgun blast May 7.

Both had questioned the handling of a welfare fund for Painters Union local 478 in Sacramento.

Murder and conspiracy to commit murder indictments were returned against Max Ward, 47, painting contractor at Carmichael, near Sacramento; Norman Call, 46, Sacramento painting contractor; Carl M. Black, 47, Oakland accountant; Richard Rock, and Clyde Simmonds, 75, Sacramento contractors' association official.

Ward and Call were employer-trustees for the $500,000 welfare fund and Black its auditor.

Al Nelder, deputy police chief, said a policeman found a sketch of Green's home in a garbage can in Call's home at the time of the arrest in Sacramento.

San Rafael Council Ready To Try Exclusive Garbage Service Pact

The San Rafael City Council last night informally agreed to give Marin Sanitary Service the exclusive right to collect garbage in the city.

The city's charter gives the council power to grant franchises in the city, "provided that no exclusive franchise shall ever be granted."

City Atty. David Menary Jr. said today the garbage company will get a "contract," not a franchise"—but it will be exclusive. Action on the agreement was put over until June 6, so minor changes could be worked out.

The contract would be for 10 years, with an option to renew for 15 years. The garbage company would pay the city $250 a month for five years and an additional $100 a month for every five-year period after that.

Attorney Albert Bianchi, speaking for the company, said the firm would not raise rates for three years. The city has the right to review and fix rates and to cut off the contract if the company fails to perform as required.

The difference between a franchise and a contract, Menary said today, was settled by the State District Court of Appeals in a case involving Vallejo.

What was called a franchise had been given to one company to collect garbage, but another

Red-Hater Held After Killing

DETROIT (AP) — A former taxicab driver who police said vowed to "start shooting Communists" two months ago was in custody today after the fatal shooting of a member of the leftist Socialist Workers party in downtown Detroit.

Waniolek

Two college students described as members of the Young Socialist alliance were also shot yesterday in the party's office here, one of them critically wounded.

Police jailed Edward Waniolek, 40, Detroit, and said they would seek a murder warrant against him.

Waniolek was seized four hours after the slaying of Leo Bernard, 28, and wounding of Jan Edward Garrett, 22, and Walter Graham, 19, all of Detroit. He surrendered meekly in a library.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A militant civil rights worker who organized Alabama's all-Negro Black Panther political party has taken over as chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

He is Stokley Carmichael, 24, of New York who said the organization planned to "intensify its efforts in the area of independent politics.

"For Negroes to join the Democratic party in Alabama is the equivalent of Jews joining the Nazi party," Carmichael said recently.

Some observers regarded Carmichael's election as a move by SNCC toward third-party politics for Southern Negroes.

A. F., Army Tell Worry Over Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force says it will be unable to meet any emergencies outside Viet Nam under its proposed budget for fiscal 1967. And the Army says it may not have enough funds to carry out its operations the rest of this fiscal year.

Both services aired their money complaints to House subcommittees two months ago. Their testimony was released separately today.

Maj. Gen. Durward L. Crow, comptroller of the Air Force, told the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee March 16 that budget cuts imposed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the Bureau of the Budget will permit 100 per cent performance in Viet Nam, but not much elsewhere.

The general also said the cuts would mean the reduction of the airborne alert, which keeps a number of B-52s aloft carrying nuclear weapons at all times.

Among the items cut over the Air Force's protest, Crow said, was the airborne alert.

On the Army side of the ledger, Maj. Gen. B.F. Taylor, director of the Army's budget, told a House Appropriations subcommittee he did not think both the regular and supplemental 1966 appropriations of more than $4.5 billion would be enough to carry Army operation and maintenance until June 30, the end of the 1966 fiscal year.

'Political' Teacher Tossed Out

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Betty Meeker, a sixth grade teacher charged with commenting on political philosophies in class, will not be returning to Murphy Ranch Elementary School next fall.

The East Whittier School Board, which heard the charges against Mrs. Meeker, 41, fired her yesterday. She had taught two years in the district and fails by one year to attain tenure. Her $6,800 salary will end after spring semester.

Mrs. Meeker said after her 13-day hearing: "I plan to continue planting seeds of Americanism in any ground placed before me."

Parents testified that Mrs. Meeker remarked to her class that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is a Socialist, that Negroes are inferior and that Dr. Martin Luther King is a Communist.

She also was charged with being reluctant to teach her students "new math" and with leaving her students unsupervised in the classroom and on the playground.

Wolden Says His Home Not A Gift

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Returning from the hospital to his bribery trial, San Francisco Assessor Russell Wolden contends his luxury apartment, which the prosecution claims was a gift and a bribe, was no bargain.

The trial resumed yesterday after a week's recess during which Wolden was treated for a bronchial infection. Wolden took the stand for the seventh day to answer cross examination by Francis W. Mayer, chief assistant district attorney.

One of the 11 counts of the indictment against Wolden charges Wolden was given $38,500 worth of shares in the cooperative apartment at 2100 Pacific Ave., where he lives.

When asked about the transaction, Wolden said the deal was not unusual. He said he had assumed a $35,000 mortgage and his share of the maintenance costs for the building.

"Luxury apartments were a drug on the market at that time," Wolden added. "I could have done much better."

Wolden was also questioned about campaign contributions he received from James R. Arditto, a Los Angeles lawyer who represents the Regal Pale Brewing Co.

Mayer said Regal Pale Brewing Co. started contributing from $1,000 to $2,000 a year to Wolden's campaign fund in 1963, a year after Wolden's office had penalized the company for failing to report property in 1962.

"Wasn't it that in 1962 Regal Pale made no campaign contribution?" asked Mayer.

"That's very insulting, Mr. Mayer, and you know it isn't true. At no time was there any suggestion that if a taxpayer made a campaign contribution he would get different treatment," Wolden answered.

At one point, when spectators laughed at Wolden's testimony, Superior Court Judge Lewis Drucker of Los Angeles halted the questioning. He said he would permit no further outbursts.

Drucker, a retired judge, became trial judge when the jurists in San Francisco's Superior Court disqualified themselves.

Hope Dims For Election Of Bosch

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Former President Juan Bosch is reported planning to pull out of the presidential election contest because of new violence against members of his Dominican Revolutionary party — PRD.

Authoritative sources said Bosch also is asking the PRD, which he founded, to withdraw from the campaign. Election day is June 1.

Bosch has been regarded as the leading presidential candidate, mainly because his party has been rated the largest political force in the Dominican Republic since Bosch's sweeping victory in the 1962 election.

Republicans Dispute Goldwater Prediction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leading Republican senators disputed today Barry Goldwater's contention that the 1968 GOP convention will be as conservative as the one which nominated him for president in 1964.

"Some of the same faces will be back — but not with the same minds," said Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, former GOP national chairman.

Scott aid in an interview that when Republicans assemble again, they will be bidding for power, not arguing ideology. And he said that means the party's professionals will line up with the front unner.

Another former Republican chairman, Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky said conservatives will be in the majority in 1968 — but he said they will represent "a moderate type of conservatism."

Morton said a more extreme conservatism prevailed in 1964. "Next time," he said, "I think we'll have a sort of balance, to the right of center."

Morton said that is what Goldwater was forecasting when he said Sunday on the CBS television-radio program "Face the Nation" that makeup of the 1968 convention would be no different than that of 1964.

Even a Goldwater ally, Arizona Sen. Paul J. Fannin, said he doubts the 1968 convention will be a copy of the last one.

"I think it will probably be a more balanced convention," he said in a separate interview.

Morton, Scott and other Republicans indicated the 1968 convention could be similar in pattern to that of 1952, when former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio battled for the nomination.

"That was a power struggle," said an official at the Republican National Committee. "It wasn't ideology."

East San Rafael Plan Approved By Council

The San Rafael City Council last night adopted a plan for East San Rafael which includes a four-lane shoreline boulevard along the east border of the existing levee.

There were some questions but no strong objection as Planning Consultant Daniel P. Coleman, who prepared the plan, presented it at the council's second public hearing.

The plan covers the area from Kerner Boulevard eastward to the levee, but does not include tidelands east of the levee.

Coleman said the landscaped shoreline boulevard would be a scenic road and "would give a new entrance to San Rafael."

The proposed boulevard would run from Highway 17 near the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge to Paganini Point, with a bridge crossing San Rafael Canal.

Coleman's plan also calls for a road from the Highway 101 interchange in Greenbrae across the Hutchinson quarry and over Highway 17 to the new residential area and the shoreline boulevard.

Included in the plan are an industrial sector along Highway 17, about 750 apartment units and 250 single family homes, a regional park in the Paganini Point area, yacht harbor and commercial recreation area opposite Paganin Point, and a greenbelt along the easement for high voltage lines as a buffer between industrial and residential areas.

One resident, who property is zoned commercial, objected because it is shown as multiple residential in the plan, and a boat yard owner wanted assurance that the bridge across the canal would be high enough for boat traffic.

Coleman said the proposed bridge would provide ample clearance because it will be "only a half bridge" with the San Pedro Point end on high ground.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

1. Authorized Councilman Louis H. Baar to proceed with arrangements to have San Rafael become a sister city with Saint-Raphael, France, under a program which would involve cultural exchanges and activities by citizens of both cities.

2. Awarded Maggiora and Ghilotti Inc. of Corte Madera, lowest of six bidders, a contract for storm drainage improvements on Fourth Street at A Street and Lootens Place at $13,178.

3. Awarded M. K. McLellan Co. of San Anselmo a contract for a drainage correction project on Magnolia and Palm avenues at $15,275, with the Dominican Convent to pay half.

4. Postponed action on hiring a consultant to revise the city zoning ordinance. Mayor C. Paul Bettini appointed councilmen Baar and Harry A. Barbier to meet with representatives of two firms seeking the appointment.

5. Granted Robert L. Thompson an extension until June 6 to clear wrecked cars from his lot at 51 Jordan Street, and authorized City Atty. David Menary Jr. to file court action against Thompson for violating the zoning ordinance if he does not comply.

6. Authorized a quit claim deed giving Anna Jordan a portion of city property at San Pedro and Mooring roads in return for a portion needed for widening of San Pedro Road.

7. Postponed pending review, approval of specifications for landscaping at the new city hall.

8. Directed City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen to ask State Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley to push the city's request for freeway connections to two streets, Francisco Boulevard West and Irwin Street, south of the Highway 101 viaduct.

9. Received a request from San Rafael City Schools to adopt an ordinance requiring large developers to provide land for schools at cost, and a report from Menary that this provision is in his draft of a subdivision ordinance.

10. Set for hearing June 6 rezoning of Lynn Court Highlands at the end of Lynn Court off Irwin Street from single family residential to planned community district.

11. Set for hearing June 6 zoning of Quail Hill west of the Northgate Shopping Center, now unclassified, as planned community district.

12. Set for hearing June 6 an appeal by R. E. Bohanna of Marin Neon Co., San Rafael, of planning commission denial of signs at McPhail's Appliances, 917 C Street, and Pearson Yacht Sales, 557 Francisco Boulevard.

13. Set for June 6 hearing on a proposed zoning ordinance amendment that would eliminate requirement for excavation permits when no dirt is taken on or off the site.

14. Authorized Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles to hire more laborers until June 30.

15. Referred to the public works department a letter from Laurel Dell Parent-Teacher Assn. requesting a pedestrian overpass or underpass from the Bret Harte area to the area of the Montecito Shopping Center for high school students.

16. Authorized Rawles to attend the Western Pubilc Works Conference in Portland, Ore., June 12-14.

17. Agreed to consider taking steps to halt merchants from sweeping sidewalk debris into the street. Councilman Fred E. Jensen said merchants sweep debris into gutters which have just been swept by the city street sweeper.

18. Postponed until June 6 action on appeal of Eugene Aureguy and Harold G. Mackenzie of conditions imposed by the planning commission on a permit for a shopping center along the Highway 101 frontage road, southeast of the Terra Linda interchange.

19. Sent a letter to Arthur W. Fiedler, who resigned May 4 as chairman of the city parks and recreation commisston, commending him for his service.

20. Authorized removal of four-way stop signs at Vistawood Way and Ridgewood Drive after protests from residents and a report from Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa that the traffic flow along Ridgewood is moderate.

Tiki Carver West's Wife Asks Divorce

Sausalito tiki carver Barney West, owner of "Tiki Junction", is accused of beating his wife Shirley, 33, in a divorce suit filed in Marin Superior Court.

Mrs. West is suing her husband of six years for divorce, charging cruelty. She asks community property including a share of their home at 160 Summit Drive, Corte Madera, a $4,-500 sailboat, three vehicles and the shop in Sausalito. She also asks custody of the two children, 5, and 3, years old, and support for them and herself.

Judge Harold J. Haley yesterday issued a temporary order restraining West from harrassing Mrs. West. He scheduled a hearing at 2 p.m. on May 25 for the wood carver to show why he should not pay temporary support and be further enjoined from bothering his wife.

Council Shuns Marin Park Bonds Stand

San Rafael city councilmen said last night it is not their role to endorse Marin County's proposed $4.3 million park bond issue on the June 7 ballot.

Councilman Charles W. Aby said he favored the bond issue, but "there are people we represent who may be against the bond issue and it's not our business to tell them how to vote."

Councilman Louis H. Baar said, "Let the people decide."

Councilman Harry A. Barbier said he was "for the park bonds," but that as a policy the council doesn't take a stand on issues before the voters.

The council received a recommendation from the city parks and recreation commission that it endorse the bond issue.

Commission Chairman Charles Tacchi said passage of the bond issue would enable the city to achieve many of its aims in recreation. If the bonds passed, San Rafael would receive $511,-738.

Mrs. Gatov To Speak

Woman Proposed To Union's Board

COMBINED AP & UP

LONG BEACH — An ex-school teacher who once dreamed nightmares after working on an auto assembly line was the principle choice today to become the first woman member of the United Auto Workers International Executive Board.

She is Olga M. Madar, 51 today, chosen by the powerful Walter Reuther caucus last night to be its nominee for a new board position it is recommending to the UAW's 20th Constitutional Convention.

Reuther explained yesterday to newsmen his reasons for supporting a woman board member. Union locals have long had women officials. "Women have had to fight prejudice," he said.

Reuther, in his opening address to the delegates yesterday, said:

"We do not intend to sign a basic agreement (in 1967 contract talks) unless it contains a guaranteed annual salary." He called hourtly wages "historically obsolete, economically unsound and morally indefensible."

He also said he would ask the convention to pass a resolution seeking a negotiated settlement of the Viet Nam conflict, saying "there is no military solution to a problem which is primarily social, political and economic in nature."

Reuther said that in connection with the drive for a guaranteed annual wage the industry "may need time to make some emotional adjustments."

Earlier, Gov. Edmund G. Brown told the delegates that the economic and social gains of the Kennedy-Johnson administrations were being threatened by "the hot flames of a new McCarthyism."

He said the 1966 election campaign had "an old familiar ring —the ring of 1946, when a Republican landslide ushered in a new era of repression and recession.

It was in 1946, Brown said, that Richard M. Nixon went to congress "in a campaign of smear and innuendo." It was also in 1946, he said, that Joseph McCarthy went to Washington. And it was the same year that swept in votes for the Taft-Hartley bill.

Brown accused Republican gubernatorial candidate Ronald Reagan of "marching up and down California describing unemployment insurance as a 'prepaid vacation plan for freeloaders.' "

Jerome R. Collins of Boardwalk 2 in Larkspur complained to the police Sunday that someone stole the stereo tape deck from his car while it was parked on Plaza Drive Saturday night.

County Planners Run Into Questions On Tract Parks

The Marin County Planning Commission was unable to untie a tough knot yesterday in the proposed subdivision ordinance amendment that would require developers to dedicate land for parks.

Who would be responsible for development and maintenance of the dedicated lands? That was the problem.

Under the proposal, a developer with a residential tract of 100 or more lots would be required to dedicate park sites, while those with smaller tracts would be reqiured to put up an in lieu fee.

Also up in the air was how big the sites should be. Commissioners agreed that relating park site size strictly to the number of lots would not be a good standard.

The commission agreed to discuss the proposal again July 11.

To Speak On Parks

County Recreation Director Pierre Joske will speak about "Ideas on Parks and Recreation" at a meeting of the Marin Conservation Council at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Marin Rod and Gun Club.

Radio Equipment Gone From Plane Cockpit

Harold W. Michaelis of 126 Grande Vista, Novato, reported to the Marin County Sheriff's Office at 12:45 p.m. Sunday that radio equipment valued at $1,500 had been stolen from the cockpit of a plane at the Marin County Airport near Novato.

Michaelis said that he and Jay Alexander of 14 Gardner Drive, Novato, were partners in ownership of the plane.

Human Rights Group Streamlined By Board

The Marin County Human Rights Commission will have five new members and retain four of its old members in a reorganization completed today by county supervisors.

Named from the old commission today were James Quiett. Rev. John J. O'Connor, Joe H. Stewart, and Arthur L. Brown.

New appointees were Troy Lewis, manager of the San Rafael office of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.; San Rafael attorney Bella H. Aaron; William Moon, an executive of First of California Mortgage Co.; Donald J. O'Leary, a self-employed marketing consultant, and Richard Harding, soils engineer.

Appointments were made by secret ballot of the supervisors after 21 names were put on a board, including seven members of the former commission.

Joyce Gross complained to supervisors that few were aware of the appointment procedure, it not being known that supervisors wanted applicants to seek interviews prior to today.

heard in Da Nang, 50 miles to the south, where 2,500 Vietnamese marines and paratroops sent north by Ky Sunday tried to extend their hold on the main northern troublespot.

Government marines moved toward east Da Nang but withdrew when they ran into strong rebel forces. The marines controlled most of the city, but anti government forces moved into a third Buddhist pagoda and blocked traffic in the area. The two pagodas they already held were being used as rallying points.

The five northern provinces under the jurisdiction of the army's 1st Corps have been in almost an open state of rebellion since Ky fired his rival, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, as corps commander and virtual northern overlord on March 10. The second of Thi's successors, Lt. Gen. Ton That Dinh, was removed on Sunday after he appeared to side with the northern Buddhist-led "struggle movement" in a broadcast from Hue.

The junta announced in Saigon that both men would be given new assignments, but did not say when or where. The government also disclosed that an armed forces congress on Sunday issued instructions to all four corps commanders to preserve public security and order "so as to create an atmosphere favorable to preparations for the forthcoming election of a constituent assembly."

He said state police were "slowly and methodically" surrounding the Burnt Cabin area. Most were armed with machine guns and other heavy weapons.

The region where the abductor and his hostage were spotted was described as extremely rugged mountain country which abounds in big game .

Fairfax Ponders Federal Funds

Fairfax will explore the possibility of getting a federal grant to revitalize the city's downtown area, according to City Mgr. David J. Sumbardo.

No decision has been made, but two city councilmen, a planning commissioner, and a park and recreation commissioner and members of the citizens' general plan committee agreed that the possibility of federal funds should be explored, Sumbardo said.

City officials and members of the citizens' committee met last Tuesday to view a film on the work of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Field, color consultants, who assisted in the repainting of store fronts in downtown Tiburon in 1954, he reported. They also discussed possible revitalization of the downtown area of Fairfax, Sumbardo said.

Woman Treated In Pill Overdose

Mrs. Jeanne J. Zent, 36, of 1145 Elm Drive, Apt. 7, Novato, was reported in satisfactory condition yesterday in Ross General Hospital, suffering from an overdose of pills taken Saturday night.

Her estranged husband, Richard Eugene Zent, 38, of 1336 Cambridge Street, Novato, and a neighbor, Mrs. Dorothy Ann Marquardt of 1145 Elm Drive, Apt. 4, called police.

killed, 28 captured and 128 weapons seized.

Sixty-six base camps made up of huts and fortifications destroyed.

Six aid stations, three hospitals and 814 buildings and huts destroyed.

Food stores seized included 2,103 tons of rice, 324 tons of salt, 30 tons of wheat and 1,240 gallons of cooking oil.

Enemy equipment seized included 7,050 uniforms, 1,200 pairs of sandals, 1,850 shirts, 1,800 shorts and 2,540 pieces of other clothing.

U.S. Navy and Air Force pilots, hampered by continuing foul weather, flew only 17 missions yesterday over North Viet Nam. It was their smallest number in recent weeks. Again they concentrated on roads, bridges and other targets in the southern panhandle near Vinh, Dong Hoi and the Mu Gia Pass.

bridges and on its Peninsula routes.

The shift of many of these commuters to cars choked already congested highway routes. Orinda and Lafayette drivers said the trip into San Francisco took 25 minutes longer than normal. Waldo Grade north of the Golden Gate Bridge was jammed.

All bargaining offers by both management and union were withdrawn when the strike began.

The company said it had offered a wage package amounting to a 4 and one-half to 4 per cent increase each year in a two-year contract. It said a major issue is a union demand for pension plan boosts.

The union said wages under the expired contract averaged about $8,000 a year with driver pay ranging from $25 to $50 a day depending on run mileage and hours.

Couple On Motorcycle Hurt On Highway 1

A Sacramento motorcyclist and his wife suffered minor injuries when they were thrown from their motorcycle as it went off a sharp curve on Shoreline Highway, about a half-mile south of Bolinas Road, at 5:45 p.m. Saturday.

The driver, Donald D. Monkerud, 21, suffered cuts and bruises and possible concussion. Mrs. Monkerud, 21, suffered multiple body bruises. Both were treated at Marin General Hospital.

Motorcyclist Injured Near Stinson Beach

Cartridge Explodes

Lester B. Young, 24, of 70 Elm Avenue, San Anselmo, was taking apart a blank cartridge in his basement Sunday afternoon when it exploded, cutting his right hand, police reported. Young was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Flames Sweep Big Houseboat In Sausalito

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom estimated $17,000 damage to the houseboat and personal property in the three apartments.

The boat belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Atley B. Carlough, who were aboard with their four-month-old daughter, Mitzi, when the fire broke out at 9 a.m.

Chief Bloom said it began in the apartment of the Phil De Gregories, who were at work in San Francisco. The fire must have raged undetected for some time, the chief said, before it burst through the walls and into the Carloughs' kitchen, where they were sitting.

Fire also broke into the adjacent apartment on the other side of the De Gregories. Its tenants, Mary Jane Bishop and Deanna Bush, were away.

Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Two units from the Sausalito Fire Department and three county units fought the fire for an hour before getting it under control. Mopping up continued throughout the afternoon.

Several nearby houseboats were imperilled but saved by wetting down.

company operated just outside the city, until Vallejo annexed some land. The judge decided that franchise applied to public utilities, and that garbage collection was not a public utility.

Therefore, he reasoned, Vallejo had never granted a franchise at all. Instead, there had been a contract between the city and the company.

Menary said a contract is granted under the city's police powers, while a franchise is given under specific franchise powers.

He acknowledged that other cities in Marin, which do not have charters, routinely grant franchise for garbage collection, but said he doubted they really were franchises, if they ever came to a court test.

Ash Tray Throwing Brings Assault Charge

Mrs. Frederick J. Nadeau, 56, of 45 Bridge Road, Black Point, a counselor at Marin County Juvenile Hall, was booked at the Marin County Jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon Saturday afternoon on a citizen's arrest by her husband.

Nadeau reported that his wife threw an ash tray at him, which struck him on the forearm, causing a three-inch cut. He was treated at Novato General Hospital. Mrs. Nadeau was released under $275 bail and scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court for arraignment this afternoon.

Man Charged With Resisting Officer

Jerry Lee Page, 21, of 175 Drake Avenue, Marin City, was charged with resisting an officer and driving without a driver's license in his possession, near the Oak Tree Tavern, Manzanita, at 2:32 a.m. Saturday.

Sheriff's Deputy Richard Keaton reported Page cursed at deputies and pushed him after they stopped a car to check for a person sought by San Francisco police on traffic warrants. Page was booked in Marin County jail under $550 bail.

Two Hurt In Accident

Hans W. Schneider, 28, and Louetta Worley, 52, both of 15 Morningside Drive, San Anselmo, claimed pains in their necks after their car, driven by Schenider, was struck from behind by one driven by Robert L. Sisler of 212 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo, on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Bella Vista Avenue at 5:55 p.m. Sunday, police said. They told police they would see their own doctors.

Council Settles Trike Problem

One day last week a 3-year-old boy's tricycle rolled into the street and was swept away by a city street sweeping machine in San Rafael.

The boy's mother, Mrs. John McGlynn of 5 Hazel Court, wrote to the San Rafael City Council to see if the city would replace the tricycle.

Last night the council rejected the claim, but agreed that if there is an unclaimed tricycle in the police department's lost and found storage, it should be sent to the boy.

Tiburon Gets Chance At Railroad's Land

Reversionary rights on 7,200 feet of railroad right of way have been offered to the City of Tiburon for $50,000, county Supervisor Peter H. Behr said today.

The supervisors said the property, held by Northwestern Pacific Railroad with reversionary rights held by Francis Newton and Associates, would be ideal for a bicycle path, foot path and possibly a bridle path. The property is 50 to 60 feet wide and runs from Trestle Glen Boulevard to a point about 100 feet beyond San Rafael Avenue and Tiburon Boulevard.

Woman Arraigned On Motorcycle Charge

Susan Jane Bilderback, 27, of 338 Bolinas Road, Fairfax, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday in a felony charge of embezzling and stealing a motorcycle. She is to plead at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Miss Bilderback is accused of keeping a motorcycle which was leased from Howard Motors Inc., San Rafael, beyond the five days agreed upon in a contract.

Vandals Create Mess In Schools

Vandals created a major mess and minor damage during the weekend at Terra Linda and San Rafael high schools, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

At Terra Linda, eggs were splattered over walls and floor in the food laboratory. In the library, two reference books worth $64 were torn up staples driven into the floor and a desk, a pencil sharpener emptied on the floor, and papers scattered about.

At San Rafael, 20 pounds of hamburger were taken from the kitchen and smeared about the hall outside Room 55. A glass pane was broken in the kitchen door.

Fire's Victims Need Garments

The John Nelson family, whose Fallon home was destroyed by fire May 10, badly needs clothing and furniture, the Marin chapter of the American Red Cross announced today.

Mrs. Royal Jimerson, Red Cross ditsirct chairman for the Point Reyes Station area, said clothes are needed for Nelson, his wife, Ethel, and their children, Mary, 14, and Philip, 11.

Anyone wishing to help may call the Red Cross at 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, Mrs. Jimerson said.

Food Service Worker Captures Nomination

Viola Andersen, San Rafael High School cafeteria supervisor, has been nominated for the "Food Service Employee of the Year" state award to be given at the annual conference of the California School Employees Assn., in San Francisco in August.

The San Rafael chapter of the association will honor the supervisor at its meeting May 26 at the city schools administration building.

Motorcyclist Seriously Hurt

Christopher Hackney, 18, of Stinson Beach was injured when his motorcycle collieded headon with a car on Shoreline Highway, two miles south of Stinson Beach, at 5:30 p.m. yesterday.

He was reported in good condition today with a broken right knee in Marin General Hospital. The California Highway Patrol reported Hackney was thrown from his motorcycle when it crossed the road and ran into a car driven by Donna Jo Ann Wallace, 28, of Vacaville. Hackney was cited for driving on the wrong side of the road.

OBITUARIES

Kathryn McLean Rites Set

Requiem Mass for novelist Kathryn Forbes McLean, mother of Richard E. McLean of San Rafael, will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Cathrine's Church in Burlingame.

Mrs. McLean, known professionally as Kathryn Forbes, died Sunday at Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco, after a four-year battle with emphysema. She was 58, and made her home in Burlingame.

A Rosary for Mrs. McLean will be offered at 8 p.m. today at the chapel of Crosby-N. Gray, 2 Park Road, Burlingame. Burial will be in Holy Cemetery, Colma.

Mrs. McLean's novel "Mama's Bank Account" about her Norwegian immigrant grandmother and her mother became an all-time best seller, and was turned into the play, "I Remember Mama," then a movie, then a television series.

She is survived by two sons, Robert M. McLean of Carmichael and Richard E. McLean of San Rafael, a brother Ellis Anderson of Portland, Ore., and six grandchildren.

FRANK D. STAATS

Funeral for Frank D. Staats of Mill Valley, a retired Merchant Marine mate, will be held at 1:30 p.m., tomorrow at Russell and Gooch mortuary, Mill Valley.

Staats, 59, died Saturday at a local hospital, having been ill for about two and one-half years.

Graveside services will be held at 2:45 p.m. at Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

A native of Philadelphia, Staats was in the Merchant Marine since a young man, first sailing out of eastern ports and, in recent years, sailing out of San Francisco. He retired three years ago.

Staats lived 26 years in California and 17 in Marin County, last residing at 520 Shoreline Highway.

He is survived by his wife, Rosa L. Staats; a daughter, Christine Staats of Mill Valley, and one sister and four brothers.

He was a member of Masters Mates and Pilots Union Local 90, San Francisco.

The family requests that tributes be contributions to the American Cancer Society.

LE ROY SWANGO

Le Roy Bruce Swango, 49, a Marin County general contractor for about 10 years, was found dead at his home Sunday afternoon by his wife.

Dr. Thomas W. Stone pronounced Swango dead. An autopsy is pending at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

Sheriff's deputies reported Swango's estranged wife, Janice W. Swango, had not seen him since Thursday night.

Swango, who had been under doctor's care for the last six months, was a native of Oregon and had resided in Marin since 1945, last living at 13 Rhonda Way.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters, Rhonda and Debra, and two sons, Michael and James Swango, all of Mill Valley; his mother, Mrs. C. B. Swango of Eugene, Ore.; a sister, Mrs. V. K. Jones of Portland, Ore., and a brother, C. W. Swango of Eugene.

There will be no funeral. Burial will be private.

Muir Woods Zone Ruling Set July 11

After a hearing before 70 persons that continued over two hours yesterday, the Marin County Plannig Commission put off any decision on Muir Woods Park rezoning until July 11.

The crowd before the commission seemed split, with about half backing the request of the Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. for a change of zone to require larger lots.

Zoning now allows 6,000-square foot lots in the area generally bounded by Panoramic Highway and Mill Valley City Limits, and 10,000 square foot lots in surrounding areas, the association wanted this raised to 10,000 and 20,000 square feet, respectively.

Mrs. John Fisher-Smith told the commission the association wanted the change to assure orderly growth, saying that the future of the area "has suddenly jumped on our backs."

Frances E. Bitz, however, presented a petition from 140 who were opposed. He and many others said the change would take away rights of owners, by reducing the number of lots that could be developed.

Commissioners agreed to inspect Muir Woods Park on June 6. They also asked the planning staff to develop more information of sewage disposal, streets and fire protection, and study the possibility of increasing the lot minimum from 6,000 to 7,500 rather than to 10,000 square feet.

Religious Services To Begin At Hall

Valley Residents Quiz Five County Officials

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

More than 100 San Geronimo Valley residents last night had an opportunity to fire questions at five visiting experts in law, local government, law enforcement, and property assessment.

The fact few such questions were asked was a tribute to the ability of the guests to speak long and to divert any verbal thrusts from the audience as soon as they came their way.

In answer to one question, Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court gave a 15-minute breakdown of a court's role in a democracy, ending with the admonition no criticism should be aimed at so-called "lenient sentences" unless people take the trouble to attend court sessions to "see how justice works."

Residents concerned about rising property assessments came ready to ask County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel why, but were told that it was not his fault if building and land values were increasing.

"We as assessors are not concerned with setting the tax rate," he said. "That is for the governing boards elected by the people they serve."

Others who spoke at the meeting, sponsored by the San Geronimo Valley Assn., were Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, Sheriff's Inspector A. V. Menjou, and County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer.

It was Broemmel who got the brunt of the questions. In turn he asked a few of his own.

"Your property value is going to go up and up in the long range so what is the answer?" he asked. "One answer is that we must watch expenditure programs."

He said that adding to the difficulty is the fact Marin County has 117 different taxation jurisdictions and 77 governing boards who work out how the money is to be spent.

Broemmel contended that under present arrangements, assessing property at its present fair market value seemed the only sure way to equalize the tax burden, although there were loopholes even in this system.

After making study surveys of 24,000 properties in San Geronimo Valley, Stinson Beach and in parts of Fairfax, Larkspur and San Rafael, there had been several cases where the assessments had come out "on the conservative side," he said.

"We found that in some cases where sales have taken place, the figures realized were lower than the amount assessed for the property." This discrepancy, however, represented only a minute percentage of the overall property, he contended.

Asked why the "sudden jerk" in assessment figures over the past year, the assessor said his office has had to work slowly over the past five years because of the need to train more staff.

Supervisor Storer drew approval when he declared, "The property tax is inequitable." He contended the state income tax should be used to carry the financing of schools and the like.

Explaining the criminal procedures in the county, District Attorney Bales said: "Crime is on the increase in the county as it is elsewhere. Sixty per cent of the crime today is committed by people under 18 years of age, and they are not dealt with by my office."

Inspector Menjou told the audience police protection for the San Geronimo Valley consisted of five sheriff's deputies and one sergeant "on duty 24 hours a day."

Four-County Education Talks Slated

A four-county "North Bay Supplementary Education Center" will be discussed at a meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Marin County schools office in Corte Madera, to which leaders of more than 200 cultural and education groups have been invited.

The meeting will start 14 months of study of "unmet student needs" of Marin, Napa, Sonoma and Solano counties, according to County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

The center is proposed as one of 19 in California which would develop new educational programs. The U.S. Office of Education has granted $133,000 for planning the project.

Committees to start the study will be organize at the Monday meeting, and goals will be discussed, Hollis said.

Due Degrees

Patricia Louise Shelton of San Rafael and Robert Henry Lampee Jr., of Tiburon will receive bachelor of arts degrees from the University of Texas at the June 4 commencement.

Girl, Passengers Injured In Ride Home From Beach

A 19-year-old El Cerrito girl and her three 15-year-old boy passengers suffered cuts and bruises when her car went over an enmbankment on Shoreline Highway a mile west of Dias Road about 5 p.m. Sunday.

Miss Righter told Officer Wesley E. Taylor of the California Highway Patrol that her car went off the road as she was passing another car on a curve. She said she had picked the boys up on the way back from Stinson Beach.

Taylor cited her for having open beer cans in her car and for driving at unsafe speed.

Tomales Will Try New Way Of Teaching English

A pilot program in a new method of teaching English will be started next Monday at Tomales School, following approval by the school's trustees last night.

The county superintendent's office will supervise the program, which will convert English teaching to a new method called the "linguistic" method. The brief try-out before the end of this school year will serve as a model on which a handbook will be prepared for introducing the system in any other Marin schools that want it, said Lawrence Lindberg, director of instruction for the county superintendent's office.

Tomales Bay School District trustees also:

1. Agreed to take the 21 pupils of American Valley School District in Sonoma county next school year at tuition not to exceed $400 per student. American Valley District will be annexed to the Tomales District on July 1, 1967.
2. Set an election on leveling bonds of Tomales Bay, Bloomfield and American Valley districts for Nov. 4, Bloomfield will annex to the Tomales district on July 1. It and the American Valley District have no bonded indebtedness. Tomales Elementary District has $83,000, according to Mrs. Lois Parks, board clerk.
3. Heard a request from a group from Bloomfield that the playground at Bloomfield School be made a community playground if a community service district is formed. The board delayed action on the request pending the official annexation of the district in July.
4. Approved a recommendation by Principal David Raffo that all students be tested each year in reading, mathematics and language, with maturity tests given every second year.
5. Set 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. May 23 for registration of kindergarten children, and next year's kindergarten class for afternoons at the Tomales School. This will enable the children to go home by bus. This is the first time the district has offered kindergarten classes.
6. Raised the pay for substitute teachers from $20 to $25 per day.
7. Accepted a tachistoscope, a type of duplicator, from the eighth grade class, and a card file for the library from the Parent-Teacher Assn.
8. Set eighth grade graduation for June 14 at Tomales High school.

Open Space Fund Asked By Novato

An application for a federal open space grant to acquire half an acre at Novato for a park will be before the executive committee of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments at its meeting Thursday in Berkeley.

The application is for acquisition only of the land for Arroyo Auichi Park, south of the county's flood control channel at the end of Taft Court.

Total cost of the acquisition would be $22,000 of which half would be provided by grant. The executive committee will be asked to pass the application to the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Corte Madera Zones For Motors Agency

Corte Madera Town Council, over the objections of some nonconstituents, last night voted to rezone three acres at Conow Street and Casa Buena Drive to allow construction of a Chrysler Motors Corp. agency there.

Auto agency representatives urged rezoning of the land from administrative professional to highway commercial, saying the new and used car sales would broaden the city's tax base. They were supported by the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce.

Opposition came from the Meadowsweet Improvement Assn., most of whose members live in an unincorporated area just outside town boundaries and have resisted suggestions they annex to the town.

John Brady, president of the association, told councilmen streets in the area were built for residential use and could not stand the strain of another auto agency. Neighboring apartment houses, he said, "would lose tenants and ultimately become slums."

Richard Von Borstal, who owns the Marin Royal Apartments on Meadowsweet Drive said "We should not be subjected to the rear end of an auto agency."

Other objectors suggested the agency would be a hazard to 175 children walking to school through the area and that lights from the car lot would disturb the residential community.

"I find myself completely unsympathetic to your objections," said Councilman Charles F. Pendleton. "Many of you live in the county. In spite of our repeated efforts to bring you into the town, you have held back.

Councilmen voted 4-to-1 to introduce the ordinance rezoninz the property. Harold B. Wagstaff dissented, saying preliminary designs of the building "do not reflect the image of Chrysler."

Thē Corte Madera Town Council Also:

1. Introduced an ordinance amendment lowering the speed limit on Corte Madera Avenue from 25 to 20 miles per hour.
2. Ordered removal of a stop sign from a highway exit at Fifer and Nellen avenues, placing stop signs on Nellen, and banning parking on Tamalpais Drive from Madera Boulevard to the highway.
3. Declared a half-ton truck surplus for auction by the county June 18.
4. As requested by the League of California Cities, adopted a resolution opposing a post office requirement that new subdivisions provide rural mail boxes for curbside delivery. "There is an incompatibility between beautification efforts and old rural mailboxes," said Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher.
5. Declared May 16 through 31 as town cleanup time in prelude to the 50th anniversary celebration June 10, 11 and 12.
6. Approved plans for construction of two picnic areas in the town park at cost of about $2,400.
7. Approved final map for Acacia Park, three-lot subdivision at Baltimore and Palm Avenues.
8. Set for June 6 public hearing on Humble Oil Co.'s appeal of planning commission requirement for a rear entrance to a service station planned for Nellen and Fifer avenues.
9. Set May 23 for budget hearing concerning general government, public works and park and recreation, and June 27 for budget hearing on police and fire departments.

Napa Escapee Surrenders Self

An escapee from Napa State Hospital, Blaine J. Walters, 19, of 345 Drake Avenue, Marin City, was in Marin County Jail today after surrendering himself to a California Youth Authority parfole officer. He was booked for escape.

Walters, serving time for car tampering, was transferred from the jail to the hospital on Jan. 14 for psychiatric observation. He was missing from the institution Jan. 17. Officers said he reportedly has been living around Marin City since that time.

Walters also faces a five-month jail term for assault in the county jail last Jan. 4 on James John McSlhinney, 43.

Blade Pierced Heart Of Quentin Felon

One of the home-made blades used to stab San Quentin inmate John Carl Salvestro yesterday pierced his heart. Doctors worked on the convicted sex pervert for several hours repairing the hole, and today his condition was termed "as good as can be expected."

Prison officials were continuing their investigation into the stabbing, which happened yesterday morning in the laundry.

More than 60 prisoners have been questioned, said associate Warden J.W.L. Park, "but we have no suspect yet."

Salvestro, one-time fire eater in carnivals, was stabbed six times in the chest, stomach, hip, wrist and the back of his neck, and his forehead was split open.

Guards found a prison-made knife and a sharpened piece of rod which they believe were the weapons used.

City, County Bickering Over Buried Utilities

The San Rafael City Council last night approved plans for the first phase widening of San Pedro Road, but held fast against undergrounding utilities unless the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. bears the cost.

County Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, hearing of the council's action at the board of supervisors meeting today, said it was clearly the city's responsibility for "defacing" the project.

The county wants power lines underground along the entire project, but the city has opted for "streamlining," using a single row of metal poles.

Last night, Councilman Louis H. Baar said he was tired of caustic statements about the project from supervisors, especially Leydecker and Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

He said undergrounding for the entire project would cost "another half million dollars," and added the supervisors would check into the costs "before bleating about being tax savers."

At last night's meeting, County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost and County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney appeared for the county. "We are not asking you to support underground utilities, but asking you not to prevent it," Maloney said.

The councilmen said an agreement would be a precedent for the rest of the project, to the end of the San Pedro Peninsula.

Today, County Administrator Alan Bruce, noting next year's proposed budget contains $250,000 for the county share of the next phase of the five-year project said the county contribution could be "considerable leverage" in dealing with the city.

Plans are to call for bids on the road widening next Tuesday and award a contract about three weeks later, Frost said last night. He said an impasse over undergrounding may upset the schedule.

Housewife Summons Police While Break-In Going On

A Mill Valley housewife telephoned police shortly before noon yesterday that burglars were trying to enter her house.

Her action led to arrest of two 18-year-old Marin City men, Larry Walker of 31 Cole Drive and William Lloyd Bland of 99 Cole Drive.

The men, both with previous arrest records, were booked in county jail on charges of suspicion of burglary and conspiracy.

Police said they found what appeared to be marijuana seeds and marijuana ground leaves in a brown paper bag on the ground outside the men's orange station wagon. The bag was believed to have been tossed out prior to the arrest.

Mrs. Frances M. Staub, 45, said she was watching television at about 11:42 a.m. when she heard a car door slam outside.

She looked out her bedroom window and saw two men walking toward her front door. She locked the door. Then she said she heard the door bell ring twice, then someone knocking.

Then, she said, she heard a man's voice inside her house, telling her barking poodle to "be quiet," and "take it easy."

She was on the phone by then, talking to police.

Patrolman Robert V. Kinney arrived just as Walker and Bland started to drive away. He forced their car to a stop in front of 28 Glenn Drive.

Investigation showed the house had been entered, the stereo-radio console moved off its base and carried to the front door, and one speaker cabinet had been moved to the center of the room. Wiring had been ripped from wall outlets.

Mrs. Staub said the same two men had come to her house last Monday morning and asked her daughter, "is Bobby at home?" That same day, a burglary was reported at the home of Robert Moore next door at 28 Glen Drive, in which a stereo radio was taken.

Police said Walker was already facing charges of robbery and vehicle theft, and Bland, a charge of possession of stolen property.

Murder Trial Jury Panel Still Not Set

Selection of a jury in the murder trial of Jack R. Gorman and Marc Charels Osuna went into its second day today with questioning of the fifth prospective juror in Marin Superior Court.

Four panels of 60 persons each will be called. Chosen will be 12 jurors and two alternative jurors. Defense attorneys will have 20 joint peremptory challenges of jurors, and an additional five for each of the two suspects.

The prosecution will have a total of 30 challenges.

Gorman, 36, and Osuna, 30, are accused of the Labor Day shooting death of bartender Mario Ferrari at Mission Inn in San Rafael. Trial is before Judge Thomas F. Keating and is expected to last about five weeks.

The suspects are in San Quentin Prison as parole violators.

$111,000 Jump For Hub Schools

Supt. Stephen Parodi of San Anselmo School District will hand district trustees a preliminary budget request of $1,399,057 for fiscal 1967 when they meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the faculty room at Isabel Cook School.

The budget is $111,226.45 higher than this year's budget of $1,287,830.55.

The superintendent said this year's total district tax rate of $2.95 per $100 assessed valuation could rise or fall, according to state-set loan repayment rates.

Ocean Parkway Slide Bids Open

Maggiora and Ghilotti of Corte Madera was apparent low bidder at $14,535.15 yesterday on repair of Ocean Parkway slide at Bolinas.

Other bidders were A. J. Bresnan of San Rafael, $14,579.20; E. A. Forde of San Anselmo, $19,937; Lakehurst Construction Co. of Alameda, $20,488, and Joseph Kaplan of Daly City, $29,880.

County supervisors were to consider award of contract today.

Murder Court Martial Slated At Hamilton

The court martial of A/1c James O. Young, charged with first degree murder in the Christmas Day stabbing of A/1c Robert M. Jennings at Hamilton Air Force Base, will start at 9 a.m. tomorrow in the court room at Hamilton.

Airman Young was charged with the murder following a drinking party in their barracks. A pre-court martial hearing was held in February by Maj. James E. Green, judge advocate at Travis Air Force Base.

Hub Joyride Citation

A 17-year-old San Anselmo boy was cited by San Anselmo police for joyriding Friday after he first reported the pick-up truck of Leo McCullen of 27 Longview Avenue, San Anselmo, was stolen, then admitted abandoning it after the transmission was damaged during a ride.

Flood Control Cost Criticized In Mill Valley

The Mill Valley City Council agreed last night that the city should either have a program within the County Flood Control District No. 3 which will give the city its money's worth, or should pull out.

Decision came after it was reported that the city, to date, has contributed $250,000 to the district but realized only about $80,000 in return.

PROGRAM ASKED

"I think we should come up with a program, see how much it will cost and present it to the county," said Councilman Rodric L. Robinson. "Then we should say, 'is Mill Valley going to get its dollars out of what we put in?' If we're not, forget it. I don't want to be left holding the proverbial empty sack."

Mayor Albert E. White said immediately. "I think this is the intent."

Mayor White asked that the June 6 agenda carry the question of whether the district's proposal to put about $50,000 into a Marincello access road is "using public funds for private development."

A proposed new sign ordinance, which would require changes in 53 non-conforming signs, was discussed, then postponed.

ONE-WAY STREET

The council discussed for an hour pros and cons of making Woodbine Drive a one-way street, then continued the subject until such time as people along Woodbine give their feelings as to a one-way street and proposed assessment district.

Councilmen tentatively agreed to put out at least one one-page news letter but decided to take final action at budget time.

Mayor White said the printed letter, with postage, would cost about $150 for mailing to all households.

Robinson said he felt the whole council should see it before it is mailed "to determine who is propagandizing what."

The Mill Valley City Council also:

1. Set for tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in city hall the first fiscal 1967 budget hearing.
2. Directed City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to prepare a lease to permit Paul B. Fischer and Associates to develop the city's small craft harbor, the method of bonding to be outlined when lease is prepared.
3. Introduced an ordinance rezoning land of Gerald Kott at East Blithedale Avenue and Forrest Street from professional-administrative to general commercial and duplex.
4. Set for June 6 discussion of a proposed assessment district for a "Blithedale Park" in the William S. Allen development, and the same date to give property owners a chance to object to weed abatement orders.
5. Asked Jordan to give an opinion in writing on whether personnel hiring should be administered by the library board or city manager.
6. Introduced an ordinance making barbed wire and electrified fences illegal.
7. Introduced an ordinace requiring business trucks to carry signs on exterior in letters not less than five inches tall giving business name, address and telephone.
8. Heard from City Manager Bert Balmer that a survey has shown there are 185 duplexes which have no business licenses.
9. Continued to June 6 a change in swimming pool ordinance requiring fences, now three and one-half feet high, to be six feet. Councilman Michael Wornum, who owns a pool, was absent.
10. Introduced an ordinance requiring that street frontage improvements be applied for at time a building permit is secured.
11. Set for 8 p.m., June 8, a meeting with Mill Valley School District trustees.

Hamilton Airman Hurt In Auto Wreck

A/1c Charles S. Williams, who lives in the barracks at Hamilton Air Force Base, was in satisfactory condition today in Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco with head and chest injuries suffered about 4 a.m. Saturday when his car hit a steel pole at the intersection of Highways 37 and 121 in Sonoma County.

The California Highway Patrol in Santa Rosa, reported Williams apparently fell asleep at the wheel. He was given emergency treatment at Sonoma Valley Hospital, transferred to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital, and then to Letterman.

Mill Valley Sets Up Art Purchase Board

Mill Valley Mayor Albert E. White last night created an art board, believed to be the city's first, which is to recommend works of art to be acquired by the city.

The board is "to promote and encourage various kinds of art," said White, and can be formalized into a city commission later, if deemed desirable.

The city council approved White's proposal of a board of four, three of whom he said would be active members, one acting as advisor. They are: Donn Emmons, architect; Mrs. Ann O'Hanlon, artist and art teacher at San Francisco State College; Don Dudley, director for an advertising art company, as active members, and Mrs. Roger Kent, a member of the San Francisco State College Art Commission as advisor.

The Mayor said the board would be asked to select art for the new library as well as for other city buildings and might encourage the city's relationship with groups such as the Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival.

White reappointed four members to the board of appeals: James Tawns, Jesper C. Strandgaard, Fred Bitgood, and Jack Brabo, and appointed Robert McCreadie to replace Albert Bianchi, who is moving to San Rafael.

Legislature Remains A Tangled Session

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Senate and Assembly leaders went to their balky colleagues today and tried to persuade them to settle a two-house feud over a legislative pay raise and constitutional revision.

Other issues in the drawn-out session remained tangled in a maze of election-year politics and hard feelings.

Signs of the growing unhappiness over the continuing stalemate were evident yesterday when backers of Gov. Brown's anti-drunken driving bill brushed aside the opposition of the chairman and won Assembly Ways and Means Committee approval of an amendment designed to speed the measure to final passage.

But a meeting of legislative leaders produced some optimistic talk.

Senate President Pro tem Hugh Burns, D-Fresno, said that both sides had agreed to find out how far senators and assemblymen are willing to go to compromise their differences over revising the constitution and boosting legislative pay.

Assemblymen, so far, have said they will stand firm on their demands for modernizing the legislative, executive and judicial sections of the state's bulky and lengthy constitution. Their amendment, already approved by the house, would permit lawmakers to set their own pay and set up annual legislative sessions.

They've also sent to the Senate a bill boosting salaries from $6,000 to $18,000 a year—to take effect only if the constitutional amendment is adopted by the people.

The Senate struck out most of the provisions of the constitutional revision, keeping the pay raise and the annual sessions.

Meanwhile, the Senate gave final approval to a measure that would make constitutional revision No. 1 on the November ballot—if it ever gets that far.

Both Burns and Mulford said they thought lawmakers will insist on staying in session until their business is finished, rather than recessing for the June 7 primary election and then coming back.

The Assembly, meanwhile, held another session without acting on any Senate-passed bills—including the bookkeeping change the governor needs to balance his budget.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

Senate and Assembly leaders try to persuade their colleagues to compromise on thorny issue of revising State Constitution and increasing legislative pay.

Final legislative approval is given to bill putting hallucinatory drugs such as LSD under state control with criminal penalties for illegal trade.

Hearings continue on tough anti-drunk driver bill. One Assembly committee undercuts another's work by eliminating a provision establishing set levels to determine intoxication.

Senate committee remains reluctant under heavy pressure to approve major reform of local property tax assessing practices.

THE GOVERNOR

Bills signed:

Translate — Increase maximum fee paid translators and interpreters before public agencies; AB 97, Stanton, D-San Jose.

Health — Provides for licensing by state of home health agencies, and allows approved agencies to participate under Medicare; AB 132, Rumford, D-

McAteer, D-San Francisco.

THE ASSEMBLY

Resolution adopted:

Highways — Asks study of inclusion of federal Forest Highway 100 over Sierra in state highway system; ACR 44, Zenovich, D-Fresno.

THE SENATE

Concurred in assembly amendments:

LSD — Curbs use of hallucination-causing drug LSD and prescribes misdemeanor and felony penalties for its possession, use, manufacture, transportation and sale; SB 6, Grunsky, R-Watsonville.

Bill passed:

Revision — Provides that constitution revision amendment, if adopted by legislature, would be No. 1 item on proposition list in November general election; AB 167, Mills, D-San Diego.

Resolutions adopted:

Russian — Requests Congress, State Department and Department of Interior to take necessary action to protect marine resources off California coast and to monitor activity of Russian fishing vessels in area; AJR 19, Davis.

Farms — Directs Department of Education to study and report to legislature in 1969 on education of children of migratory farm workers; ACR 30, Pattee, R-Salinas.

The Black Hills of South Dakota are not really black. They just seem that way because of the deep green made by pine and spruce trees growing on them.

BIT OF A STICKY WICKET

When the Edward R. Barcewski family of 148 Golden Hind Passage, Corte Madera, went to bed Sunday, they could not find Tina, their 11-year-old German shepherd. Neighbors found her yesterday, up to her chops in the low-tide mud of San Clemente Creek, with the tide coming in. The more they tugged, the more she sank until a Humane Society worker used a stick connected to a rope around the dog's neck. Russell Kruse of 163 Golden Hinde Passage boosted her with another stick from behind.

FREE AT LAST—The double-stick method worked and Tina soon held this soggy reunion with Barcewski outside the family home.

Tam District Teachers Win Pay Raises From Trustees

Tamalpais High School District trustees last night adopted a teacher-proposed four and one-half per cent pay raise and advised teachers to study and agree on a system of merit pay.

Trustees did not have to vote on a proposed new series of salary steps which would have paid teachers with 25 years experience $20,000 a year. The Tamalpais District Teachers' Assn. salary committee withdrew that request.

Motion to adopt the new salary schedule, which will cost the district $206,726 more per year, was passed by 4-0 vote, with Dr. J. M. Stubblebine abstaining to dramatize his belief that a merit pay system is needed.

Such a system, he said, "is long overdue. In deciding what salary a teacher should get, we have to consider his teaching, first, last and always. It's vital to determine such a system of merit and maybe we should do away with this damn lock-step system altogether."

Other board members agreed that a system of merit pay is needed. Marietta Larson said "The difficulty with the present salary schedule is that ability is not reflected."

Last night's action raised the teacher pay range from $5,950-$12,150 to $6,185-$12,700. In a separate motion, trustees agreed to give incoming teachers up to six years instead of five years credit for experience in other districts.

Trustees also granted non-teaching employees their requested $25 per month pay raise. The average increase is five per cent, according to Supt. Chester G. Carlisle. Cost of the raise to the district is $32,100 a year, he said.

Individual Marin winners at the field day included Kim Marks, Rosemari Brush, Nancy Metzker, Lisa Murphy, Pam Tryggestad, Susan Henry, Susan Hensley, Glenn Parks, Mary Davidson, Richard Tuck, Dianne Thorsson, and Eric Angress, all taking first place awards.

Second place awards were won by Linda Elkin, Joan Eischen, and Connie Connell. Third place winners were Marian Baccaglio and Marianne Camous.

Driver Injured As Car Leaves Road

Craig Quentin Alger, 21, of San Francisco suffered minor cuts to his left arm when his car ran off San Marin Drive 227 feet west of San Mateo Drive, and into some brush and trees, at 12:50 a.m. Sunday.

He was to see his own doctor for treatment, Novato police reported.

Hamilton Prepares For Annual Show

An assault landing characteristic of the war in Viet Nam will highlight Armed Forces Day Saturday, when thousands of visitors are expected at Hamilton Air Force Base.

A C-123 Provider of the 4650th Combat Support Squadron will stage a short-strip landing and takeoff. Capt. Rex Haggard, a veteran of many support operations of this type, will bring the plane down at a steep descent, giving the appearance that he will crash it.

After it lands, it applies a reverse-thrust, cutting its landing roll to a minimum. It will unload 10,000 pounds of fuel oil very quickly and then make a short-strip takeoff, again with maximum power and climb.

Speed is essential in such an operation, particularly in Viet Nam because many of the fields used are under enemy fire.

For many of the men at Hamilton, Armed Forces Day will start Thursday when they take a minature show to children at San Francisco's Shriners' Hospital.

Capt. McIlhaney R. Kendrick III of Novato is in charge of a special program for the hospital, complete to a concert by the Fourth Air Force Band and model airplane flying competition.

On Saturday another highlight will be parachute jumps by the "Green Berets" of Detachment 2, Company A, 12th Special Forces, from the Presidio of San Francisco. They will perform once in the morning and once in the afternoon.

Displays of aircraft will be in Hangers 5 and 7 on the base.

Complete program for the day follows:

10 a.m., prayer by chaplain. 10:05, four F-101s take off. 10:10, C-123 takeoff. 10:30, "Green Berets" jump. 11:20, band concert. 12:10 p.m., mod 1 aircraft areobatics. 1 p.m., Four F-101s take off. 1:10, "Green Berts" jump. 1:50, model aircraft aerobatics. 2:30, model aircraft races.

Cemetery Cleanup Plan Given

Richard F. Wood, candidate for coroner, today urged that juveniles arrested for narcotics offenses be put to work cleaning the cemetery at the county farm on Lucas Valley Road.

County supervisors generally thought the work programs for all juvenile offenders might be a good idea and referred the suggestion to Walter Busher, head of the county probation department.

Wood, whose presentation was filmed by television station KGO-TV, was not successful, however, in getting supervisors to change its agenda so the TV cameras could pick up his further comments.

This was a discussion of markers for graves of indigents, which County Administrator Alan Bruce has said is the responsibility of the county social service (welfare) department.

The discussion was slated for 11:45 a.m. and supervisors refused to change the time. The television men went away and Wood sat down and waited.

Coin Machines Pried By Thieves

Larkspur police reported a washing machine in the Bon Air Apartments at 210 Lower Via Casitas was pried open and $20 in quarters taken. A hair dryer and washing machine at 320 Via Casitas were also jimmied, they said.

Tiburon Plan Board Seats New Members

The Tiburon Planning Commission last night seated three new members and appointed two standing committees.

Seated wert John G. McChesney, John J. Berryman and Alton S. Lee, who were appointed last week by the city council. Erik Rettig was named vice-chairman.

Chairman Stephen H. Nash, reported the commission established a design committee composed of Peter MacGowan, Rettig and Lee, and a committee on use permits and adjustments of Joseph C. Marshall, McChesney and Berryman. Nash said the commission is awaiting city council action to make the committees into permanent boards.

The Tiburon Planning Commission also:

1. Continued to May 31 at 8 p.m. in Del Mar School a public hearing on the Callister and Payne downtown plan. About 53 persons attended last night to comment on the plan, which features a "port of call" small yacht harbor.

2. Asked applicant Rawson to redesign development plans for a 5.3-acre Tiburon plaza commercial project on Tiburon Boulevard at Mar West Street.

3. Referred to the design committee the tentative map of Heath Land Co.'s 41-acre 62-lot El Marinero subdivision near Ridge Road.

Hamilton Dancer Is Tops In Air Force

A/1C Robert Landin of Hamilton Air Force Base won second place in the dance solo category at the Air Force's "world wide" talent contest at Westover Air Force Base, Mass.

Airman Landin, 22, who lives in the barracks, placed first in the Fourth Air Force contest at Hamilton and in the Air Defense Command contest at Selfridge Air Force Base, Mich.

DEADLINE SET ON APPLYING FOR BALLOTS

Application for absentee ballots for the June 7 primary in Marin County may be made to the county clerk's office at the San Rafael courthouse until 5 p.m. next Tuesday, according to County Clerk George H. Gnoss.

The ballots are for voters who will be absent from their precinct on election day or unable to go to the polls. Applications may be made in person or by writing the county clerk.

Novatan Pleads Guilty To Charge

Jerry Marvin Sager, 31, of Novato pleaded guilty to second degree burglary yesterday in Sonoma County Superior Court in Santa Rosa. He was referred to the county probation department, and sentencing set for May 31.

Sager had earlier pleaded innocent to a charge of armed robbery of a Petaluma gas station, in which a masked man with a hand in his pocket stole $200. Yesterday he pleaded guilty to the second degree burglary, which is unarmed.

He was arrested in Novato, March 24 in a car which fitted the description of that used by the bandit. He lives at 7350 Redwood Highway, Apt. 5.

PIED PIPER NEEDED

Ross School Board Worries About Rats

If there's a Pied Piper in the audience, would he please stand up? Ross School District needs his services immediately.

Rats are threatening to invade the Ross School from Corte Madera Creek nearby, the district's board of trustees was told last night.

Children and teachers have seen the rats in the creek, and the rats have already invaded the school garbage cans. So far they haven't entered the school.

The board instructed Supt. Robert Gowan to seek county officials' aid in exterminating the vermin.

Gowan's contract as superintendent for three years was approved. He will receive $13,500 per year, with one month paid vacation.

The district's tentative budget, $373,701 for the 1966-67 school year, was reviewed, and the superintendent directed to establish priorities so the board may eventually reduce the total.

The Ross School Board also:

1. Heard curriculum programs presented by teachers Gloria Iwanicki, Mrs. Nancy Snyder and Mrs. Norma Bergeron.

2. Granted a sabbatical leave for next school year to Mrs. Ede Alessio, fourth grade teacher, to travel in the Far East.

3. Hired Mrs. Judith Troy and Miss Sue Wilsey as longterm substitutes for the balance of the school year, to teach sixth and fifth grades.

4. Accepted the resignation of Ralph Kremoian, vice principal, "due to unforeseen personal obligations."

5. Denied a request for inter-district transfer of a pupil from Kentfield to Ross. The board made the denial after long discussion, trustees saying they felt granting the request would set a precedent.

6. Expressed commendation to Lionel Stott for his work in producing and directing the recent Parent-Teacher Assn. show, "Here We Go Again."

Frozen Steaks Taken From Marin Carport

Eugene Snyder of 280 Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley, reported to police Sunday that someone broke open a locked food freezer and stole $500 in food, including 400 pounds of meat, mainly steaks.

Entry was made by springing the door on the freezer at the rear of Snyder's carport in a tool shed. Also taken were two cans of paint, valued at $5.

Pro-Park Bond Banner Brings Foe's Demand

Equal banner space on the streets of Mill Valley was asked last night by City Councilman George E. Wickam to erect a sign asking a "no" vote on the proposed $4.3 million county park bond issue.

This came following a request by Jerome C. Hauke, city parks and recreation commission chairman, for council permission to put up a banner favoring across East Blithedale Avenue.

"If we're going to have a sign like that, let's have one on Miller Avenue, 'vote no on bonds,' " countered Wickham, who was lone dissenter in the May 2 council vote to support the bond issue.

Mayor Albert E. White retorted that the council, as a group, has gone on record favoring the bond issue.

Turkey has resisted Russian encroachment 13 times in the last 400 years.

Leo Durocher says:
"LOOKING FOR A BUSINESS?
Call Bob Morgan Collect"

Leo says, "When it comes to your future, you don't want tips about what to do. You want facts. And Bob Morgan can give you all the facts on AAMCO — one of the world's most profitable franchises. AAMCO is the world's largest network of automatic transmission specialists — with more than 200 successful franchised dealers from coast to coast. Get with a winning team. Call Bob Morgan, today."

Part of that winning team is Leo, himself. On radio, TV and in newspapers, Leo is selling for AAMCO dealers coast to coast — part of the consistent, hard-hitting advertising and promotional support that is writing the AAMCO dealer success story. And what a story it is. Most dealers find that net profits start the first week . . . average annual gross of all transmission centers is $110,000, while the best centers gross over $250,000, making possible personal incomes of up to $50,000 per year.

If you can meet our requirements . . . if you can manage a modest investment of $12,500 to $23,000 (depending on territory) . . . have the drive and desire to own your own successful business . . . and can participate in our management training program . . . WE will train you thoroughly in the most advanced management and merchandising techniques . . . and back you all the way with continuous help and supervision that helps you sell — and keep on selling. Please furnish personal details. Write, wire or call Robert Morgan, Vice President . .

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
(Advertisement)

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District will receive bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation and services for remodeling of the existing cafeteria building at the College of Marin, Kentfield, Marin County, California.

2. Each bid to be in accordance with the plans and specifications now on file at the office of FALK & BOOTH, 16 Beale Street, San Francisco, California 94105, or the Marin Junior College Office at 139 Kent Avenue, Kentfield, California, where same may be examined and copies obtained.

3. Each bid shall be made on a form to be obtained at the office of Falk & Booth, 16 Beale Street, San Francisco, California, or the Marin Junior College District Office at 139 Kent Avenue, Kentfield, California, and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or a bid bond for ten percent of the amount bid, made payable to the order of the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District, and shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board on or before the 2nd day of June 1966 at 3:00 P.M. and will be opened in public at or about 3:00 P.M. of that day in Room 25, Harlan Hall, College of Marin, Kentfield, Marin County, California.

4. The above-mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract if awarded the work and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District.

5. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a labor and material bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the Marin Junior College District.

6. The general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, has been ascertained by the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District to be as follows:

CLASS OR WORK	WAGE PER HOUR
Asphalt Ironers and Rakers	$4.025

Painters-Brush (7 hours)	4.72
Painters-Spray (7 hours)	4.97
Plumbers (7 hours)	6.20
Roofers	4.60
Sheet Metal Workers	5.53

7. All labor to receive time and one-half for overtime, double time on holidays, unless otherwise specified.

8. All other trades not hereinabove mentioned to receive wage prescribed for that particular craft or type of workman.

9. In addition to the hourly and/or per diem wages for the crafts, classifications or types of workmen listed above, contractors may be required to make employer payments for health and welfare, pension, vacation and similar purposes as required by the executed collective bargaining agreements for the particular craft, classification or type of work involved.

10. The working day shall be eight (8) hours unless otherwise specified above. The per diem rate shall be the hourly rate multiplied by the number of hours in the working day.

11. All bidders must be properly licensed to perform said work.

12. The Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District reserves the right to reject any and all bids and/or waive any irregularity in any bid received. Unless otherwise required by law, no bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) calendar days after the date set for the opening thereof and the Board will act to accept or reject the successful bid within that period of time.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Trees Full Of Unused Remedies; Chemical Factor In Schizophrenia

VAN DELLEN

Many old medicinals were obtained from trees. None is recommended today but it is interesting to speculate why they were selected.

The powdered bark of the cork tree was taken in warm water to stop bleeding from the mouth, nose, and bronchi. Pitch (cedria) from large cedar trees was said to relieve toothache and lessen the pain of extraction.

The juniper was a tree full of remedies. According to Industrial Medicine and Surgery, the seeds were prescribed for pain in the chest and abdomen. In addition they relieved gas, sudden chills, and cough. Juniper berries taken in white wine were prescribed for convulsions, ruptures, bowel spasm, sciatica, and uterine afflictions.

THOSE TAKEN in red wine acted as an astringent upon the bowels.

The cause of the mental disorder schizophrenia is not known but there is reason to believe that it is of chemical origin. Biochemists have been studying the blood, tissues, secretions, and excretions of victims of the disease and the only clue is a pink spot that develops in their urine when a certain chemical (DMPE) is added.

A group from the University of Liverpool tested 391 normal individuals and the pink spot appeared in only one. The test was positive in 46 of 84 schizophrenics and absent in 17 with other forms of mental disease. The pink spot also was absent from the urine of 20 close relatives of three schizophrenic patients. No one seems to know what this means except that chemical differences exist.

FOOTPRINTS are not as accurate as fingerprints for identifying newborns. Dr. Kenneth S. Shepard, a California pediatrician, collected 51 sets of newborns' footprints and had experts compare them with patterns taken five to six weeks later. According to his report in Medical World News, they could do so in only 10 of the 51 which is not conclusive enough to stand up in court.

According to Dr. Shepard, the practice of footprinting is a needless waste of time. He recommends wrist bands that are attached to the infant in the delivery room. A tattoo that eventually disappears is better. Several years ago we reported on the use of the ear as a means of identification. We assume it has fallen by the wayside because it did not improve upon existing methods and was more difficult to do.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

HYPERTHYROIDISM

Mrs. C. S. writes: Must an overactive thyroid gland be removed?

REPLY

Not necessarily; medical treatment is adequate in many instances. The decision must be made by the physician in attendance. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on overactivity of the thyroid gland.

SPIDERS

W. F. writes: Why do some people have spider veins and others are not bothered? Some individuals stand all day and don't have them.

REPLY

The cause is not known except that such patterns may run in families. Many of these people have thin skin and the veins are more noticeable.

MORE LIKELY

Mrs. O. C. writes: Does angina pectoris always lead to coronary thrombosis?

REPLY

Not always, but the individual with angina pectoris stands a greater chance of developing coronary thrombosis than persons who have never encountered the symptom.

FOOD IODINE

J. V. E. writes: Do any foods contain iodine, or must we depend upon iodized salt for our supply?

REPLY

Fish and foods grown in coastal areas supply this element, as sea water contains iodine and its spray, carried by the wind, enriches inland water and soil.

WASTED LEGS

B. E. writes: What is meant by muscular atrophy of the legs?

REPLY

Wasting of the muscular tissues because of disuse, paralysis, or nutritional failures.

Passenger Hurts Ankle On Road

A 22-year-old Oakland woman suffered a fractured left ankle when she jumped or fell from a moving car on the Terra Linda offramp, about 300 feet northeast of Highway 101, at 3:40 p.m. Friday.

Injured was Margaret Ann Simpson, a passenger in a car driven by Andrew Finklea, 27, of Oakland. She was taken to San Rafael General Hospital where she was reported in good condition today.

Miss Simpson told California Highway Patrol officers she jumped from the car. Finklea told officers she had fallen.

Drake High's New Library Electrifying For Patrons

By DIANE BLANKENBURG and LINDA BROWN
Drake High School

Perhaps the most surprising feature of Drake High School's recently renovated library is the number of shocks students and faculty members must face each day from the static buildup in the nylon carpet.

Walking from room to room and having to turn a knob or push a panic bar can surprise even the expectant with its snap and tingle.

Mrs. Ruth Taylor, head librarian, reported that in the new library at San Rafael High School "they've thought of putting in automatically opening doors to reduce the discomfort" because of the shock.

However, the Drake library also has the latest in electronic equipment to aid students.

A listening system through which students wearing headsets can hear live lectures, tapes, records, or the audio portion of a film has been installed. The headsets are located in several portions of the library including one designated as the "listening area", where tape recorders and record players are situated.

A photocopy machine has also been installed for student use. The coin operated machine allows students to reproduce material for later use.

The library itself has been divided up into various areas, one for reference, one for research. Under a new policy, students will be allowed to study in the sections (reference and research) either before or after school. Individual desks have been installed to enhance student concentration.

Other ways to improve and use the new library facilities have been suggested by the faculty library committee and are being considered by Principal Harold Allison. The faculty plan urges the development of cooperative services with other libraries, especially those in the Tamalpais High School District.

The purchase of an additional 7,000 books was recommended by committee members. This would bring the library's book total to 17,000, the minimum suggested by the American Library Association for a school Drake's size.

The committee also called for the purchase of encyclopedias, dictionaries, and an increase in the number of available magazines.

Files of exceptional student work and resource files for teacher and student use along with cross references were also suggested.

One large conference room, which can be divided by a sliding wall, has been partitioned off. A large overhead projection screen will be located in one end of the room. It is hoped that eventually films will be made available for viewing by individuals or small groups.

The faculty committee has also proposed:

—A trained audio visual librarian in charge of audio visual equipment for the entire school.

—Fullest use of clerical and student help to allow librarians to give as much individual attention to students as possible.

—Displays from Drake's Fine Arts Department.

—The eventual addition of microfilm equipment.

—Use of the library by students for as many hours of the day as possible.

Additionally, the school recently received approval from the State Board of Education on an application for $41,821 for library improvements. These improvements will include tape recorders, record players, television sets, tapes, records, earphones, books, and periodicals.

Three additional construction projects, underway at Drake since last summer, have been completed, giving students and school officials greater convenience to daily tasks.

The new office wing, including the dean's and attendance offices, and a reception room, decreases the congestion which previously crowded the main office.

The new study hall, which extends from the library to the east corridor, is designed to serve a dual purpose. A tiered seating arrangement enables its use as a lecture hall.

The gym foyer, planned when the school was built 15 years ago, provides a ticket booth, check room, snack bar, rest rooms, and an entrance into the boys and girls gyms."

San Rafael Youth Wins CAP Honor

Stephen Bowcock of 128 Fernwood Drive, San Rafael, has been awarded the Gen. Carl A. Spaatz award by the Civil Air Patrol.

He thus became the 14th CAP cadet in the nation to receive the patrol's highest award, which carries with it an automatic promotion to cadet colonel. It was presented to him at the patrol's Pacific Region conference in Las Vegas by Col. Joe L. Mason, national CAP commander.

Portable Video Taken From Home

Byron L. Haviside Jr., of 116A Edwards Avenue, Sausalito, reported loss of a portable television set in a burglary of his country home in Inverness, sheriff's officers said yesterday.

Also taken were about six bottles of liquor and a carton of cigarettes, deputies said.

An attempt to burgle Hayden's Market in Marin City was abandoned with tripping of a burglary alarm, officers said. A rear door lock was broken.

Finances Figure Heavily In School Unification Vote

Dixie, San Rafael Residents Get Women Voters' League Fact Sheet

Residents of Dixie School Distract can't lose, financially, in the June 7 election on unification of Dixie's district with San Rafael High School and Elementary School Districts.

If they favor unification, there will be a $15 per pupil gift from the state. If they reject it, Dixie District will get more money anyhow, through "area-wide equalization" of tax funds.

Dixie District residents will benefit also by a reduced tax rate if unification passes.

San Rafael Elementary School District residents, on the other hand, will pay a higher tax rate if unification passes. And, because of the complicated formula governing the state's $15-per-pupil "carrot," they won't gain much from it. But if it fails, about $166,000 of the taxes they pay for San Rafael schools will be diverted to Dixie District.

These facts are brought out in a question-and-answer fact sheet on the unification proposal (county measure "E" on the June 7 ballot) released today by the League of Women Voters of Central Marin.

The league reported its study of the unification was handicapped by the difficulty of getting reliable figures on tax rates and state apportionments as they would be affected by the unification. Two thousand copies of the fact sheet have been prepared for distribution, and more will be made if there are sufficient requests, said Mrs. H. James Compton, league president.

Dixie and San Rafael Elementary School Districts are both parts of San Rafael High School District. Most San Rafael residents, however, tend to think of their elementary and high school districts as a single school district because both are governed by the same board. (Residents of the City of San Rafael who live in Dixie School District don't think of it that way.)

Unification would mean that all three would be in one district, with a single board governing all schools from kindergarten through 12th grade.

Here are some of the questions and answers from the League of Women Voters' report:

Q. Who prepared this unification plan?

A. Eleven local county committee members on school district organization are responsible for studying and making plans for unification. School boards in Marin elect these members. . . .

Q. What happens if unification passes?

A. An election for seven trustees to form the board of the new district will be held, probably within 90 days. The unified district will start operating July, 1967, giving the trustees almost a year in which to plan. The $15 yearly bonus per child from state funds is added immediately in July, 1966.

Q. What happens to trustees now on school boards?

A. If proposition E passes, the present trustees . . . will carry on until July, 1967.

Q. How will the new school board members be selected?

A. The seven members of the unified board would be elected at large, as at present.

Q. Would the unified board be under the jurisdiction of the San Rafael city charter?

A. No, it would not . . .

Q. What happens to the teachers and administrators now employed?

A. Teachers will have the same tenure in the new districts as they now have in the separate districts. Administrators will have tenure for two years or the length of their contract, whichever is longer.

Q. Will the state give more money to unified districts?

A. Yes, the state will give a bonus of $15 per pupil. This, plus additional state money available for the unified district will add over $300,000 to its support.

Q. What happens if the majority of voters in one district vote for unification but it fails?

A. The district that votes for unification receives the $15 bonus, regardless of the outcome of the election.

Q. What will happen if unification fails in both districts?

A. Neither district will receive any additional monies from the state. However, area-wide equalization will be effected which will result in some of the local tax funds from the San Rafael Elementary District being given to the Dixie district. This will cost the San Rafael taxpayers approximately $166,000.

Q. What happens to the state loans the Dixie District has incurred?

A. If Proposition E passes, the unified district assumes responsibility for repayment.

The League of Women Voters worked out its own figures on the projected tax rate. These show that the total tax rate, aside from bond redemption, would rise from $4.415 per $100 assessed valuation in the San Rafael Elementary School District to $4.725 in the unified district. In Dixie Elementary District, however, the total would drop from $5.555 to $4.725.

To level the bonded indebtedness of the districts, Measure F would have to be passed by two-thirds vote. This measure is meaningless if the unification measure fails. If it passes, the unified district would have bonding capacity of 10 per cent of its assessed value, including present outstanding bonds. If unification passes but bond levelling fails, residents of each existing district would still have to pay taxes to retire their bonds, and the new district would still have a 10 per cent bonding capacity. Immediate effect on the tax rate would be slight.

Tam Trustees Hire Human Relations Aide

Tamalpais High School District trustees last night hired Lanny Berry, 34, a former Marin County juvenile probation officer and part-time member of the county's community relations staff in Marin City, to fill a new position as special assistant in human relations.

Berry, who lives at 685 Blackberry Lane, Lucas Valley, will be district liason with community groups and will work with parents and teachers of culturally disadvantaged children. He will be assistant to Supt. Chester G. Carlisle at an annual salary of $12,700.

Berry, who will be awarded a master's degree in social work from University of California in June, was a county probation officer from 1961 through 1964. He worked part-time on the community relations staff while studying at the university.

Tamalpais High School District trustees also:

1. Accepted resignations of Beatrice Gruen, language teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School; Elizabeth Shedd, language teacher at Redwood, and Mrs. Bobbi Walker, English teacher at Tamalpais.

2. Hired Sandra L. Gariffo, a first year teacher, to teach English at Tamalpais at an unspecified salary.

3. Accepted gifts of 57 books for the Redwood library and three books for the Drake library.

4. Approved extra service contracts totaling $49,801 for 116 teachers who also serve as coaches, department chairmen, counselors and activity advisors.

5. Awarded a $50,555 contract to Zoellner Construction Co., Lowest of seven bidders, for construction of a field house at Tamalpais.

6. Authorized the superintendent to deposit $10,300 to cover the district's share of landscaping Doherty Drive, along with the City of Larkspur, when the road is extended to Highway 101.

Knife Charge Brings Extra Prison Term

Ruben Morales, San Quentin inmate convicted April 19 of possession of a knife, was sentenced to one to three additional years in prison yesterday by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Main Superior Court.

Morales, serving time for an Aug. 3, 1961, conviction in Fresno County for furnishing marijuana, had a hand-fashioned, foot-long blade last Aug. 7.

Jail, Fine Imposed

James Oscar Fisher, 50, San Francisco, was sentenced to five days in county jail, fined $110, and placed on 18 months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested on Highway 101 by California Highway Patrol on May 11.

VEAL SCALLOPINI A LA ARPA

- 2 pounds veal for scallopini
- Flour
- 2 tbs. butter
- ¼ cup olive oil
- ½ cup chopped green onions
- 1 tsp. extract of beef
- 1 cup chicken stock
- ¼ tsp. monosodium glutamate
- Pepper to taste
- ¼ tsp. each oregano and rosemary
- 2 tbsp. finely chopped parsley
- ½ pound fresh mushrooms, sliced and previously browned in butter
- ½ cup Marsala wine

Pound veal on both sides, dredge in flour and brown in butter and oil. Remove from pan and place in an ovenproof dish and set in warm oven (250°). Meanwhile add to drippings in pan all remaining ingredients except wine and mushrooms. Simmer 10 minutes; then add veal, mushrooms and ¼ cup of wine. Simmer 5 minutes longer, adding a little more wine for flavor about 2 minutes before serving. Serve with Souffle di Riso. Serves 4.

SOUFFLE DI RISO

Cook ¾ cup Uncle Ben rice in 2 cups milk over low heat till tender, stirring frequently with a fork (about 15 minutes). Remove from heat when all milk is absorbed. Melt 6 tbsp. butter and stir in 3 tbsp. flour and cook, stirring, for 1 minute. Remove from heat and gradually add 2 cups milk. Cook and stir till smooth and bubbly. Remove from heat. Add 1½ tsp. salt and 2 cups shredded Swiss cheese; stir till cheese melts. Add rice. Beat 4 egg yolks till thick and lemon-colored. Fold in cheese mixture; cool slightly. Beat 4 egg whites to stiff peaks; fold cheese mixture into whites. Pour into ungreased 1½ quart souffle dish or casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350°) 65 minutes or till knife inserted comes out clean. Serve immediately.

Looking Glass Dance Set By Jolly Rogers

A trip through the "Looking Glass" is the theme for this year's annual benefit dance held by Jolly Rogers Chapter of Children's Home Society.

The festivities, to be held Saturday at the Meadow Club, will include cocktails, dinner and dancing for some 300 guests and Jolly Rogers members.

Reception Held In Sausalito To Honor German Author

By MOLLY MARIN

Noted author Gunter Grass of West Berlin was guest of honor Saturday evening at a reception given by Erich F. Sommer at "Omphale," the ark of Mrs. Virginia Barclay on the Sausalito waterfront.

Sommer is German consul for cultural relations in San Francisco.

Herr Grass has been in the United States to attend a conference at Princeton University of the "Group 47," a German-speaking literary organization. He has accompanied by Andrjei Wirth, famous Polish literary critic. They left the Bay Area Sunday.

Prominent guests among the 200 invited were Kenneth Rexroth and Lawrence Ferlinghetti of San Francisco, and Ward Evans, Alan Watts and Mayor Jan Paul Dyk of Sausalito.

MARIN SMITH COLLEGE Club members and their husbands will meet for cocktails and a gourmet box supper on Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Edward McCrum of Ross. Following supper the party will move to the Festival Theater in San Anselmo for the Lillian Hellman play, "My Mother, My Father and Me."

Mrs. McCrum, the club's new president, who has been vacationing in Mexico, will return in time to hostess the evening. Mrs. Harrison Dibblee Jr. of Ross, immediate past president and now president of the Bay Area League of Smith Clubs, is touring Rome and the Greek isles with her husband. Mrs. William S. Anderson of Ross, co-chairman for the evening, now traveling with her husband in Europe, will return in time to greet friends and guests at the McCrum's.

Mrs. Thomas E. Drohan and Mrs. K. L. Rice both of Tiburon, are assisting with arrangements for the supper and theater party.

AMONG MARINITES heading for the islands are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Holchester of San Rafael, who sailed Sunday aboard the Lurline for a Hawaiian sojourn. The G. A. Rosselets of Larkspur are also Hawaii travelers.

BELVEDERE NEIGHBORS, the A. C. Andersons and the Erwin Farleys are both planning trips to Japan. Neither couple knew the other would be traveling in the Orient. By chance they will stay at the same inn in Kyoto at the same time.

RECEIVING congratulations for her cover story on yachting in the May issue of San Francisco Magazine is Elisabeth Viscountess St. Davids, who now lives in Tiburon. Lady St. Davids, whose marriage to the Viscount was dissolved, as was a later alliance with Jestyn Reginald Austen Plantagenet Phillips is still entitled to the title. She prefers to be known by the St. Davids moniker professionally because this is the byline which she has used for a number of years in writing both research articles, such as the one about the Bay Area's yacht clubs, and fiction which appears in leading British women's magazines.

Elisabeth's interest in yachting dates from her childhood when she sailed out of the Looe Sailing Club in Cornwall. She once lived on a Dutch-Thames barge called the Tortoise,

Nancy Grace To Be Bride

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Nancy Woodward Grace of Ross and Jackson Bowers Beecham, who is attending medical school at Temple University in Philadelphia.

Nancy is the daughter of Mrs. William H. Grace of Ross and the late Mr. Grace. She is the sister of Charles, William Jr., John and Robin Grace. A graduate of Dominican Upper School, Nancy attended Bradford Junior College and is a student at College of Marin.

The future bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Clayton T. Beecham of Sunbury, Pa., formerly of Philadelphia, and the brother of Nina and Richard K. Beecham of Sunbury. He was graduated from Chestnut Hill Academy and Williams College before entering Temple medical school.

The couple is planning a late August wedding.

Nuptials At Navy Chapel For Couple

The Catholic Chapel at Treasure Island Naval Base was the setting for the wedding of Janice Jansoone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jansoone of Fairfax, and George J. Bury of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, on May 7.

Janice, given in marriage by her father in the 11:30 a.m. rite, wore a full length gown of white silk organza in an empire style with reembroidered Alencon lace at the bodice. Shirlie Carson of Fairfax wore a full length A-line gown of sea spray blue saki as maid of honor.

Lt. (j.g.) Joel Butler of San Rafael acted as best man and Lt. (j.g. Cari Hitchner, Lt. Cari Gregory and Ensign Robert Radnick ushered.

The bride, who was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and attended College of Marin, was employed as a secretary with Crocker Citizens National Bank in San Anselmo.

George, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bury of Nu Mine, Penn., received a degree in education from State College at Indiana, Penn. He is a lieutenant junior grade with the U.S. Navy.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Wife In Quandry Over Husband In 'Martini For Lunch Bunch'

DEAR HELEN:

My husband has a job that requires a lot of entertaining at lunches. You guessed it, he's a sales representative on an expense account. He says you have to soften up prospective customers with martinis, but does that mean he must also drink two or three? Sometimes he gets more looped than the buyer. He isn't used to this sort of thing. I can't seem to get through to him. Maybe you can.

YOUNG WIFE

DEAR WIFE:

I may not have any more luck than you had, but I'll try: New members of the "Martini for Lunch Bunch" (or any member, for that matter) had better nurse one along slowly, and this only on special occasions. Water on the rocks puts more zip in a salesman's pitch. H.

DEAR MRS. BOTTEL:

Are you getting payed by the boot store and the shaving co. to put such trash as this in your Youth Asked For It column? You told a 15-year-old girl it was alright to shave her legs and then you okayed "go-go boots." Here parents and school principals are trying so hard to help bring children up right, and you go and tell them this disgraceful junk. The brats of today are bad enough allready without you helping make them worse. I will stop the papper if you don't apologise.

NO NAME

DEAR N. N.:

I'll apologize on one condition: that you give me one good, valid reason why you think it is disgraceful to shave the legs and wear "go go boots."

"Brats of today?" Hogwash. Today's young people are on the whole smarter, neater, more idealistic, more involved and better all around citizens than our generation ever was. (More polite and better spellers too!) H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am a dressmaker, choosing that work in order to be at home with my family. Some of my women customers are fine and thoughtful but I also have the other kind.

When certain females come to be measured, they wear a good girdle. When they come for the first fitting, they wear a rag of a girdle or none at all, and then fuss about the fit. I then alter the garment. With the last fitting they usually wear the good girdle again and scream about the fit. That means I practically remake the garment twice.

Perhaps changing girdles is their privilege but I cannot charge for this extra work. These women usually hint they think my price is exorbitant, but the truth is that, with all the changes, I make less than a dollar an hour.

How do I handle this problem? Asking them to wear the same foundation garment at all measurings and fittings isn't enough. They forget.

EUGENIA

DEAR EUGENIA:

Why not have "Instructions for Fitting" cards printed? And post a "firm foundation" notice in a conspicuous place in your sewing room. These, with your reminders, should keep the situation under control. H.

DEAR HELEN:

Subject: office collection. How much should one give to a semi-stranger who wants donations to help pay for flowers for funerals, presents for showers, a watch for retirement — anything and everything that comes up in the office? I hardly know some of these people. This passing the hat is flattening my bankroll.

FLEDGING PHILANTHROPIST

DEAR F. P.:

Give only for those you know and don't be afraid to say "I'm broke" if you are. Others do. H.

P. S. A quarter donation is acceptable for "fledglings," especially if your office is collection-happy. H.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH LIMA

Janet Perkins Is Bride At Fairfax Church Rite

On May 7 Janet Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Perkins of Fairfax, exchanged vows with Joseph Lima of Tillson, N. Y., at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax.

The bridge, given in marraige by her father in the double ring ceremony, wore a full length gown of white eyelet organdy in a three tiered style. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Paulett Brower of San Rafael, wore a green crepe gown. Mesdames Larry Perkins of San Anselmo and Joyce Stephens of San Bruno, sister of the bride, wore complimenting green crepe dresses.

Serving as best man was Kim Corley of Redding and ushering were Larry L. Perkins of San Anselmo, brother of the bride, and Gary Rivara, cousin of the bride.

Janet, who was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School, is employed with Pacific Telephone Co. in San Francisco.

Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Lima of Tillson, N. Y., and was graduated from Kingston High School in New York. He is serving with the U. S. Navy aboard the USS Coral Sea.

Rainbow Girls' Tea Set Sunday

Nancy Kimberling of San Rafael Assembly 195, Order of Rainbow for Girls, will give a tea at the home of Mrs. Neal Madson from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday in honor of the new members. They are Carolyn Weikel, Pamela Cambridge, Jeanine Wright, and Elaine Stadner

Registration On For Girls In New Outdoor Program

Registration is underway for an outdoor program for third, fourth, fifth and sixth grade girls, offered for the first time by the Marin YWCA, 216 Greenfield Ave., San Anselmo.

Girls will be taken by chartered bus to Lagunitas Lake on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons, 1 to 5 p.m. for four consecutive weeks starting June 22.

Special emphasis will be placed on outdoor and camp crafts, hiking and nature lore, as well as singing, hand crafts, games and sketching. The girls will be in small groups with others of their own age.

Further information on fees and registration may be obtained from the Marin YWCA.

Volunteers Are Needed To Help Elderly Persons

There are many ways for volunteers to help the elderly handicapped. Individuals or groups of people who enjoy staging parties can put on a monthly birthday celebration for residents of rest homes.

Teen-agers who like to make favors and decorations can take a rest home as a project for the summer and keep it supplied with flowers and table favors.

People who show travel slides might furnish this entertainment in an evening, or someone with a portable chord organ could play familiar songs for an hour or two.

Persons who can share time and talents with the elderly handicapped, may telephone for an interview appointment with the Volunteer Bureau at 725 A Street in San Rafael.

Terra Linda Assn. To Sponsor Dance

Terra Linda Athletic Assn. will sponsor its annual dance on Saturday at the Lodge, north of Novato. The festivities will begin at 9 p.m. for the benefit which helps buy equipment for the Terra Linda boys baseball program.

Dance chairmen are Fred Von Lehr and Vince LaPorte, who are assisted by their wives and Mrs. Robert Daniels. Tickets are available at the door.

Domestic Accidents Claim More Lives

Home accidents, particularly to children, are one of the more serious "epidemics" of society. The Institute of Life Insurance reports that up to age six, one of every four children is injured each year in a domestic accident. Accidents claims the lives of more children between the ages of one and 14 than the five leading diseases of childhood.

Breakfast Planned By Tam Centre

The annual breakfast for members of the Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club and their guests will be held at Rancho Rafael on Friday at 12:30 p.m.

For the program, Marion Hayes Cain will present her dramatic group, The Magic Circle, in a skit called "A Sunny Morning." Performers will be Cathy Sanborn, Robert Herrmann, Barbara Morrisey and Kimberly Christiansen.

A special feature of the program will be Joaquin Quintero, a graduate of the University of Vera Cruz who will sing folk songs and accompany himself on the guitar. He will also provide mood music for the performers.

In charge of arrangements are Mrs. George R. Weymouth and Mrs. Elmer Jones. On the committee also are Mrs. Roy Rhodes and Mrs. Thomas Nicols.

Attends Meeting

Mrs. John J. Foley of the First Baptist Church of San Anselmo attended the board of managers meeting of the American Baptist Women in Kansas City, Mo., this week. She is president of the American Baptist Women of Northern California.

Peggy Ann Sports Becomes Bride Of Earl J. Carter

Peggy Ann Sports, daughter of Tech. Sgt. and Mrs. R. W. Sports of Hamilton Air Force Base, became the bride of Earl Joseph Carter of San Rafael in a 5 p.m. ceremony at the base chapel on April 29.

Both bride and bridegroom were graduated from Terra Linda High School. Earl, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carter of San Rafael, is employed as a repair man. He is the brother of Carol Carter of San Rafael and Lyn Robert and Johnn Carter of Portland, Ore.

Camping For Girls At San Domenico

A new "Summer Adventure" will be held for girls from nine to 13 from July 3 to Aug. 5 on the new campus of the San Domenico School for Girls in Sleepy Hollow. The five-week program conducted by the Dominican Sisters of San Rafael is planned to combine spiritual guidance, creative experience and outdoor fun.

Instruction in French and Spanish will utilize the facilities of the school language laboratories. The language will be spoken at mealtime, in the dormitory and at play. National drama, folk dances and songs are part of the program, and exploration in the arts will be encouraged.

Swimming in the new Olympic-sized pool, playing tennis, riding the trails of the 550-acre campus will keep youngsters busy out-of-doors. The program will include singalongs and campfire fun, as well as trips to San Francisco museums or to visit a Marin beach or redwood grove. San Domenico residence and dining halls, chapel, library, art and music department, language laboratory, all will be used in the summer program. For information, write to Summer Adventure Secretary, San Domenico School for Girls, Butterfield Road, San Anselmo.

which had a collapsible mast, indispensable for going under bridges along English waterways. She now owns a trimaran, the Kifkif, which means half and half in Arabic, which she sails in the bay.

Educated at the Couvent Dit des Oiseaux, she attended both the Paris and the English schools of this name. Her flair for writing became evident early, as her first poem was published at age seven. She is the daughter of Dr. Alec Woolf; a retired professor of languages of Hove, Sussex, England.

AT THE LUNCHEON of the Marin Country Club Women's Golf Assn. Thursday at the club in Novato members were talking about the G. C. Davenport's new baby girl who has been named Monique. She is the sister of Dan Fransen, Mrs. Benny Westbrook, and Bill and Greg Davenport. Another member, Mrs. David Merzario just returned from a visit with family members in Dusseldorf, Germany. She says she visits her parents there at least once a year as her husband is a pilot with Pan American.

Marin Country Club members will be missing two charter members, the Richard MacCabes, who are moving to Portland Ore., the first of June. They have bought a new home in Argaye Terrace and are looking forward to playing the various golf courses in the Portland area.

Peter Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson of Marin Country Club Estates, will tour five countries in Europe with the Rutgers University Glee Club, leaving May 30.

A retirement dinner will be held at Hamilton Air Force Base on May 26 honoring Brig. Gen. Jack A. Gibbs, commander of the Sixth Air Force Region at Hamilton. General Gibbs and his wife, Doris, have built a home in the Estates. They plan to do a lot of fishing after General Gibbs retires. Their son Jim will be home from the Citiadel in Charlestown, S.C., to attend the dinner.

RETURNING FROM a two-week trip to the Northwest are Dr. and Mrs. J. Hudson Ballard of Novato. They visited with Mrs. Ballard's mother, Mrs. Quincy Scott in Portland. On their trip north Dr. Ballard lectured three evenings at the First Presbyterian Church in Eureka.

MRS. AND MRS. FRED LUTJENS, San Rafael, were given a surprise party on their 35th wedding anniversary by their daughter, Marilyn, a freshman at University of California at Santa Babara. Marilyn, who flew up from college, had to let her father in on the secret, because he had to pick her up at the airport, but he got the biggest surprise when Marilyn presented them with round-trip, jet airline tickets to Hawaii for their vacation in July. While maintaining her grade average, Marilyn worked every spare minute to give her family the gift.

THE FREDERICK S. ALLENS of Ross entertained out of town visitors recently at a dinner party at the West End Villa in San Rafael. The guests included Dr. and Mrs. Dewey Dominic of Cody, Wyo., who were here on a brief trip; Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Holter of Ross, and the Allens' daughter, Alice.

FOLLOWING THE Mountain Play performance of "Peer Gynt" yesterday several couples entertained groups—among them Messrs. and Mesdames Nelson Shreve, William Carter and Stanley Jessup, and for the play itself the San Marin Club in Novato planned a party for some 60 playgoers. . .

Alpha Phi Alumnae To Attend Theater

Alpha Phi Alumnae of Marin and their friends will attend the Festival Theater's presentation of "My Mother, My Father and Me" at 8:30 p.m. on Saturday at the theater in San Anselmo.

A buffet dinner will be held in Alexander Hall, across from the theater at 7:15 p.m. Mrs. Morton Willard, 125 Reed St., Mill Valley, is in charge of arrangements and reservations chairman.

Weary-Of-Fund-Raising Dance Called 'It's For The Birds'

Three hundred invitations hand-painted by Mrs. M. E. McAninch have been sent for the Sausalito Woman's Club's spring dinner-dance Saturday.

Tired of fund raising events, the committee headed by Mrs. S. C. Stapp decided to make light of the necessary and chose the theme "It's For the Birds" for this final fund and fun raising event of the year.

Mrs. Fay Sparks will carry out the theme in decor with bird cages and other suitable motifs, assisted by Mesdames Roger Dinelli, Albert Purcell, Howard A. Shapiro and Messrs. Howard Sievers and Cotton McAninch.

An innovation will be a "lonely hearts table" for widows who wish to come for the dinner and join Mrs. Stapp at her home afterward.

In charge of music are Mr. and Mrs. Arie Slikkerverer, and greeting guests will be Messrs. and Mesdames Robert M. Gunn and George W. Quinn Jr.

Serving will be Mesdames King Kettrich, Conrad Kett, Merrell Sisson, William V. Lynch and Bryon Hurd, Mrs. Dinelli is reservation chairman.

Fairhills Guild To Greet Members

Fairhills Guild of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum will meet on May 23 at the home of Mrs. Jason Widmer. Honored at the 10:30 a.m. coffee are two new members, Mesdames Ulrich Kraemer and Edwin W. Thomas.

MARIN SINGERS REHEARSE—Novato tenor Kenneth Rowland, portraying a young husband, is at a loss for words in the presence of a young wife, portrayed by Sausalito soprano Sidney Peterzon. The scene is from a rehearsal of "Une Education Manaquee," to be presented by the Sonoma State College Opera Workshop starting Thursday.

Sonoma College Opera Workshop Slates Show

Sonoma State College Opera Workshop will present two one-act comedies in its latest production opening at the Rohnert Park Junior-Senior High School auditorium Thursday at 8:15 p.m.

The cast, including Marin residents in leading roles, will perform Puccini's "Gianni Schicchi" and Chabrier's "Une Education Manquee," in English.

Sausalito soprano Sidney Peterzon, who has been chosen by the Metropolitan Opera for next season's traveling company, will make her debut with the group. She will portray Lauretta, Schicchi's daughter in "Gianni Schicchi," and a young bride, Helene, in "Une Education Manquee."

Kenneth Rowland of Novato also will appear in both operas, playing two roles, Rinuccio and Cherardo, in "Gianni Schicchi," and a young count in "Une Education Manquee."

Mike Hall of San Rafael will appear in "Gianni Schicchi." Performances will be directed by Peggy Donovan.

The group will present evening performances on May 19, 20 and 21 at 8:15 p.m., and a children's matinee at 2:30 p.m. May 21, at the school auditorium.

'May Evening' Concert Set For San Anselmo Church

A public "Music for a May Evening" concert will be presented on May 22 at 8 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo.

Performing will be the Marin Pro Musica, assisted by the male choir of the San Francisco Theological Seminary under direction of Wilbur F. Russell, and strings and tympani of the Oakland Symphony Orchestra under direction of Asst. Conductor Robert Hughes.

Works of contemporary French composer Francis Poulenc will be featured. Also performed will be Britten's "Five Flower Songs."

Russell will play on the Leonard William Buck Memorial Organ Poulenc's Concerto in G minor and Handel's Concerto No. 5 in F.

Opera Tells Fall Season Performances

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Opera announced yesterday its complete schedule of performances for the fall season.

Kurt Herbert Adler, general director, said there will be 48 home performances of 13 operas, and one performance each in Berkeley and Sacramento.

The season opens Sept. 20 with Bellini's "I Puritani," starring coloratura soprano Joan Sutherland.

"I Puritani" will also be given in the Memorial Auditorium, Sacramento, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 5. Strauss's "Elektra" will be performed in the Greek Theater at Berkeley on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 9.

All seats for this season's San Francisco performances will be sold on a subscription basis. There will be no non-subscription performances.

Other operas in the repertory include "Don Carlo," "The Love Of Three Kings," "Boris Godunov," "Tannhauser," "Madame Butterfly," "The Marriage of Figaro," "The Trojans," "Falstaff," "Carmen," "Rigoletto," and "The Markopulos Case" by Janacek, which will receive its American premiere.

New Arrangement Set For College 1966 Art Show

Organization of the College of Marin Art Show this year is being changed because of lack of space during construction of the new busic and arts building.

This year the show will be spread over three days and two evenings, Friday through Sunday.

On view in the art gallery will be exhibits representative of instructional areas ranging from painting and print making to jewelry and lapidary.

Edwin A. Codagon, director of the fine arts division, said it is planned to hold monthly exhibits and artist shows on the completion of the new music and art building.

The art show will be open Friday from 7 to 10 p.m., Saturday from 1 to 5 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m.

Band Wins Top Prize

The Air Force Band from Hamilton Air Force Base won first prize in the military band contest in the Luther Burbank Rose Festival Parade in Santa Rosa Saturday.

Raises Given By Trustees In Novato

Novato Unified School District trustees, by a 4-to-3 vote last night gave all nonteaching personnel a two and one-half per cent across-the-board increase.

This amounts to one step on the pay scale in addition to their normal step increase. It will cost the district approximately $31,000 next fiscal year. This was in the preliminary fiscal 1967 budget.

Voting against the increase were Marett B. Boissevain, Mrs. Leonora M. Dougherty, and William Schneeflock.

Boissevain said that the district had granted a large increase last year. "We pay our secretaries and clerks more than private industry. I do not think that they are entitled to an increase this year," he said.

Trustees discussed a second pay proposal by the negotiating committee of the Novato Teachers Assn. but took no action on it.

The new scale would start at $5,540 and go to $11,739 per year, compared to $5,520 and $10,656 in the current salary scale. The teachers two weeks ago asked for a scale starting at $5,700 and going to $12,010.

Supt. James G. Bunker said the district could levy a special tax on the difference in the cost of elementary and junior high school education to bring in $32,000 in additional revenue, take $13,000 out of proposed capital outlay, and reduce the reserve by $94,000. He figured these would provide an additional $139,000 for teachers salaries.

The scale proposed by the teachers would cost approximately $250,000 more than provided in the tentative budget.

Board president Daniel H. Barber said he might call a special meeting to discuss teacher salaries.

The Novato Unified School District also:

1. Awarded a $3,125 contract to Safeway Steel Products of San Francisco for two sections of bleachers for the new high school gymnasium.

2. Approved the summer school program, named the principals and set the pay scale. The high school principal will receive $937 and the teachers $750 for a six-week session. Elementary principals will receive $750 and teachers $600 for a five-week session. Named principals were: Stanley Onderdonk, high school; Ernest Mareck, Hill Junior High School; Donald Wineland, West Novato School; Mary Hiatt, Marion School; Marlowe Lancaster, Lynwood School; Roy Damas, Pacheco School; Robert Vaughan, Meadow Park School.

3. Approved an application for a children's center to be operated by the county superintendent of schools, at no cost to the district.

4. Accepted resignations of Ann Crawford, fourth grade teacher at Pacheco School; Godeane Eagle, speech therapist; Linda Kirshman, Olive School; Sydney McNeel, Hill Junior High School, and William Smithousen, science at Novato High School.

5. Hired Anne Blockma to teach language at the high school at $5,520; David Coughlin, fourth grade at Hamilton School, $6,483; Marion Ford, home economics at Hill Junior High School, $6,804; Frances Foster, home economics at high school, $8,730; Allan Gere, sixth grade at Rancho School, $7,125; Carolyn Helwig, girls' physical education at Hill Junior High School, $5,841; Willis Larkin, social studies at high school, $8,409; Winnie Moore, fourth grade at Lynwood School, $5,520; Genevieve Rolph, first grade at Lynwood School, $6,804, and Bernice Thorpe, elementary librarian, $6,483.

County Education Board Approves Big Budget Hike

The Marin County Board of Education last night approved 4-1 a $423,949 1967 general fund budget, after voicing concern over its 22 per cent increase from last year.

"The timing is inopportune to vote against it, but I find an alarming jump from the 1966 budget, said board member Patrick W. Pollock. "Compare it to the cost of living rise, and it's not of this size."

The general fund budget, up $103,000 over last year, goes to the county board of supervisors for final approval. Other expenses of the county schools office are paid from sources other than the property tax and do not require supervisor's approval.

Board member Lee C. Richardson zeroed in on a $17,252 appropriation for the County Committee on School District Organization, up $3,930. "I want to know how much of the taxpayers' money has been spent in 17 years (since the committee was formed) and what has been accomplished for unification," he declared.

Board President James C. Carroll commented, "If we don't like the way the committee's doing it, we can petition the State Board of Education to take it over from them." County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis noted that the board had gone on record as supporting unification.

Largest items of the increase was for the education program at juvenile hall in Lucas Valley. The detention education program rose about $10,000 to $64,243, and the two-year-old family rehabilitation center jumped $34,300.

Richardson voted against the budget. Mrs. Adele J. Alpers and Arnold Dolcini were absent.

The board approved with little comment a $624,784 special education budget, up $71,291. This budget is for educating the mentally retarded and handicapped.

The Marin County Board of Education also:

1. Decided to visit the children's center at Manzanita School, Marin City, next October. Richardson said the board "should either make it into something or give it up. It was a sick place when we visited it last."

2. Announced after a 45-minute closed session that it had approved the transfer of George Renworth from principal of Bayview schools in San Quentin Prison to the superintendent's office as a program supervisor at his present salary of $16,039, and transfer of Daryl Hopkins from director of special services to superivsor of juvenile hall programs and special education at his present salary of $16,800.

3. Passed a resolution urging the state legislature to retain a 50 per cent ratio of local to state tax support and not to legislate education programs without a supporting tax to pay for them.

For more than 1,000 years Chinese have been trying to gain control of South Viet Nam, but resistance to invasion has been strong.

Hearing Slated On Unification

A public hearing on the June 7 election on unification of San Rafael and Dixie school districts will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Civic Center by the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

The public hearing is required by law, according to Robert F. Stannard, assistant county superintendent of schools.

If time allows, the committee will also consider a tentative recommendation on the unification of the Tomales High School District with either the Petaluma or Tamalpais high schools.

Journalism Teacher Picked For Tam High

Mrs. Martha Myricks of San Francisco will be journalism teacher and Tam News advisor at Tamalpais High School next school year. She will replace Mrs. Hazel Mohler who will teach at Monterey College.

Mrs. Myricks has worked on publications at University of California Medical Center, San Francisco. She is at Tamalpais now doing student teaching in English.

County Planners Want To Be Loved

The Marin County Planning Commission wants to be loved, and members yesterday wondered why some cities in the county do not love them.

Commission Chairman Margaret Azevedo brought up the subject of city love at 7 p.m., near the close of a long session.

She said the commission and planning department have tried to cooperate with cities, even done some planning for cities under contract and taken on other jobs for them, but "the fact of the matter is that they have not loved us."

In some cases, after the county staff has assisted, the cities have promptly gone out and hired staff of their own, and in one case even hired away a county employee, she complained.

She suggested that future work for cities should be done with certain undestandings or requirements, such as agreeing to work toward a uniform zoning ordinance and agreeing to think "county-wide" on planning problems.

Commissioner Hugh Dougherty suggested cities may become disenchanted because the county staff has not done contractual work as rapidly as the cities want it.

"I think we should not undertake too much," he said.

Planning Director Paul C. Zucker said the planning staff might well undertake general planning for the cities, through federal assistance grants, at no cost to the cities. In the past the local contribution has been shared by city and county under the federal program.

"Our concern should be more than just the unincorporated areas of the county," he said.

Commisisoner William F. Upton was absent from yesterday's meeting.

The Marin County Planning Commission Also:

1. Set hearing June 6 on the Oakwood Valley master plan by Bearcreek Development Co. for propertly is between marin city and Marincello.

2. Voted 6-0 to apply the slope policy to land divisions (small subdivisions). The slope policy, which governs lot sizes in subdivisions, allows 7,500 square foot lots on slopes under 10 per cent grade and larger lots as the grade increases.

3. Granted a land division creating a 8,500-square foot lot and a 10,000-square foot lot for Robert Berry on upper terrace avenue in Bolinas, subject to approval of the county health department on sewage disposal.

4. Recommended an amendment to the zoning ordinance requiring undergrounding of utilities in planned community zones, a requirement already laid down in the subdivision ordinance.

5. Rejected 6-0, permit for a service station at Mount Lassen Drive and Lucas Valley Road next to one recently completed. Applicants were J. A. Calleri of San Leandro and W. Djernes of Los Gatos.

6. Put off consideration of amendments proposed in the Lucas Green shopping center plan at Highway 101 and Lucas Valley Road, until June 6.

7. Approved a land division creating two one-acre lots for George Kohler in the top portion of Paradise Ranch estates, with provision that right of way be established on a tract road.

8. Put over until June 6 consideration of Romac-Pacific's application for a garage at Shoreline Highway and Almonte Boulevard, south of Mill Valley.

9. Granted architectural supervison to Burton Capel for a warehouse that will be the new location of Marin Surplus, on the south side of sims street at Jacoby Street, east of San Rafael. New landscape plans were required.

10. Approved 4-1, with commissioner Michael Praszker abstaining and commissioner Eugene Trombley dissenting, grading plans for a 45 lot tract west of Novato in Marin Highlands, being developed by Roberts and Aguirre.

Grocer Sued Over Contract

Marin Foods Inc., former owner of Gary's Market at 688 Point San Pedro Road, San Rafael, has filed a $108,000 suit in Marin Superior Court against grocer William Rakestraw for alleged breach of contract in his purchase of the store.

Co-plaintiffs Michael Gary and Richard Girogosian, stockholders of Marin Foods, charge that Rakestraw and the William Rakestraw Co. bought the market—now called Rakestraw's Loch Lomond Market—on Feb. 11, 1965, but have since refused to pay $58,000 in bank notes, tax, liquor sale profits, and debts to Marin Foods stockholders.

They ask $50,000 in punitive damages, alleging Rakestraw fraudulently represented he would make the payments.

Fuchsia Society Sale

The Marin County branch of the American Fuchsia Society will hold a plant sale Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Montecito Shopping Center in San Rafael.

Commodore 'Not Villain,' Tellis Says

Alexis Tellis of Commodore Properties declared today that his firm is "not the villain in the piece" in putting the county on notice on the Richardson Bay heliport.

The firm, with plans to develop the site of Commodore Helicopters with a hotel, bar and restaurant, asked soon after the county's two-year lease ended that it be put on a month-to-month renewal basis.

Tellis, in a letter to the county aviation commission, said the heliport location has always been considered an interim one. The pad itself, where the San Francisco-Oakland Airlines' helicopters land, will not be needed by Commodore Properties for about five years, Tellis said. The ticket office nearby is in a building that will soon be demolished.

If the county wishes to retain the heliport, it will have to establish a ticket office in some other location, Tellis said.

Pure Gold Gone From Fairchild

Three-quarters of an ounce of pure gold was reported stolen Sunday from Fairchild Semiconductor, 4300 Redwood Highway, San Rafael.

Used for certain types of electrical instruments, the gold was stored in a round plastic dish.

Last to see the gold was security guard Felix Heredia Jr. of 537 Norman Drive, Novato. He said it was in position about noon but had vanished by 3 p.m. Value at present gold prices was $27.

Freitas Reports Sign Destruction In Race

San Rafael Police Officer Gilbert F. Freitas, candidate for county coroner, reported the destruction Friday of five of his campaign signs in widely scattered parts of San Rafael.

Freitas offered a $200 reward for information leading to the arrest of those responsible. "Somebody," he said, "just drove all over town smashing those billboards and throwing them in the street."

Damaged Marin Car Readied For '500'

INDIANAPOLIS — The MG Liquid Suspension Special, designed by Joe Huffaker of Novato, was scheduled to be back on the Indianapolis track today after the machine suffered $1,000 fire damage Sunday on a test run.

Veteran driver Bob Veith was at the wheel when the fire took place, and didn't realize the rear of his car was ablaze even after the yellow caution lights around the track went on. But after officials pointed at the back of the car when Veith sped past the start-finish line, Veith looked back to see the flames.

Huffaker said a high-pressure fuel line on the supercharged Offenhauser engine broke when the car was running at about 150 miles per hour. "It was only the second time we had the new car on the track," said Huffaker. "We should have the car running properly for next Saturday and Sunday's final qualifying sessions."

Huffaker's boss, Kjell Qvale, president of British Motor Cars, has a back-up car identical to the one driven by Veith, but it's powered by a Chevrolet engine. After Veith qualifies his choice of the two cars, Qvale and Huffaker are considering the possibility of offering the other car to Masten Gregory, an American living in Paris.

One Huffaker-designed and built car, the Veith-Huffaker-Offenhauser, has already qualified for the pole position of the sixth row for the Memorial Day race. Driven by rookie Gary Congdon of Garden Grove, the car is a 1965 Huffaker model. Two other 1966 Hoffaker models have been entered by Vita-Fresh Orange Juice organization, with Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., and Chuck Stevenson of Los Angeles hoping to qualify them next weekend. Unser, whose Offie-powered car has been beset by problems since arriving at the track, got it up to only 155.4 m.p.h. yesterday.

McElreath, one of the early qualifiers last weekend for the race, hit more than 160 miles an hour in the Zink-Urschel-Slick trackburner.

Mario Andretti, who captured the pole position Saturday with a record 165.899 m.p.h. appeared briefly on the track and got to a little over 157 m.p.h.

The 1965 national driving champion from Nazareth, Pa., exercised a car that obviously was filled to capacity with fuel. Andretti apparently was running his first fuel tests to get his entry in shape for the May 30 race.

With 18 cars qualifying over the weekend, 15 spots in the 3-car field remain to be filled Saturday and Sunday.

LUCKY GOLF DROPPED, MAY GET FALL DATES

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Lucky International Golf tournament is off the winter tour, director John Keane disclosed yesterday after talking with PGA officials in Florida. But General Brewing Corp., the sponsor for six years, probably will agree to hold the Lucky during the late fall.

Keane said players wanted to start the PGA tour later so that the San Francisco joust was dropped in favor of the Crosby Tournament at Monterey and tourneys at San Diego, Los Angeles, and Palm Springs.

A House Divided: Son Bites The Hand That Feeds Him (Ate To 1)

FAMILY AFFAIR: The scene is the J. Robert Fitzhenry residence at 115 South Ridgewood Road, Kentfield.

It should be noted here that the Fitzhenrys are a typical American family, with one exception: Their athletic loyalties are hopelessly divided.

As the curtain rises, it is the early evening of Friday, May 13, 1966. The family is seated around the dinner table.

Son Jack, speaks: "Pater, dear Pater, I respectfully request permission to use the family carriage this evening. You see, oh great and generous monarch of this mighty mansion, my playmates and I desire to attend the automotive cinema this post meridian and a vehicle is quite mandatory, you know."

Father, dropping fork and jaw simultaneously is a classic expression of incredulity, meanwhile spilling a gob of tartar sauce on his green necktie: "Hark! Do my lobes deceive, or did I actually recognize an utterance of impudence emanating from the vocal cavity of my heir apparent, pray tell?"

Jack: "Oh, come off it, great leader, to heir is human, to give devine, so how about the magic wand for the bucket o' bolts so I can take the gang to the flivver flicks, eh pops?"

Father: "Hush, you young whippersnapper!"

Mother: "No, that's kippered snapper, Honey; Would you care for another serving?"

Father: "No thanks."

Mother: "Well, then, wipe the tartar sauce off your tie."

Father: "Please do not interrupt. I, as head tutor of the honorable Sir Francis Drake High School baseball team, am defending my honor and dignity against this brash young first baseman for the hated Redwood Giants who has the audacity to ask favors of me after what happened today."

Jack: "Hey, Mom, dig that dignity bit!"

Father: "Enough, young one."

Mother: "Aw, come on, Hon, just because Jack plays for Redwood and you coach at Drake there's no reason to get so mad."

Jack: "Pass the bread, oh mighty loser."

Father: "Well, at least he could show a little respect for the great bread winner of this clan."

Jack: "Pass the bread, oh mighty loser."

Father; "See? See? Impudence! And he has the nerve to ask for the family chariot. Of all people! It was bad enough when Redwood barely beat us the first time. But today, he just smiled for seven innings when they beat us 8 to 1."

Jack: "Aw, pops, I didn't smile . . ."

Father: "Oh no? Then how'd all those gnats get on your teeth? You scored a run and participated in a double play. I saw you laughting and joking. And now you ask for my Edsel with the Hupmobile engine. Never in my life!"

Father: "Ohmigawd!"

Mother: "Please let him use the car, Father. Come on, give him the keys."

As the curtain descends, Pater Fitz resignedly tosses keys in a perfect strike to son Jack, who pauses on his way out the door to remark: "Thanks, Casey. Sorry you lost 10 straight games. Remember, it's not that you win or lose, but how you play the game. Ten straight? Say, Pops, how do YOU play the game?"

ON TO VICTORY FOR TAM HURDLER

Mitchell Howard of Tamalpais High School is pictured en route to victory in 120-yard high hurdles race at last Saturday's Marin Athletic League track and field championships at Drake High School in San Anselmo. Tamalpais won the Class A and B championships whiles San Rafael won Class C. Top five performers in A and B qualified for the North Coast Section Division III meet at Santa Rosa this Friday night.

NFL Mum On 16th Team

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 16th team in the National Football League still is Team X and will not be named until some time before the college draft.

Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner, insisted today that the owners had made no decision on the expansion club and would not make any at the spring meetings that opened yesterday. "We have no deadline," he said but admitted it should be before the draft.

"We are having representatives of the seven cities in here Wednesday," said Rozelle. "They will bring us up to date on stadium plans and make their presentations. We are very proud of the caliber of people who are coming, including governors and mayors."

Houston; New Orleans, La.; Seattle, Wash., Cincinnati; Boston; Portland, Ore.; and Phoenix, Ariz. are due to make their best sales pitch to the owners. Each will have 15 minutes to tell his story.

"I have read three different reports that three different cities have it locked up," said Rozelle. "It simply is not true. We have not made up our minds. After we get the presentations we will be ready for some important discussions. There will be no decision at these meetings."

Rozelle expects Team X to be ready to field a ball club for the 1967 season. The league will be divided into an Eastern Conference and Western Conference with each conference split into two four-club divisions. That will set up playoffs for each conference title before the league championship game.

If it comes down to a matter of immediate stadium availability, Houston would appear to have an edge because the Astrodome is wide open. However, that would involve a hand-to-hand war with the rival Houston Oilers of the American Football League.

Rozelle said last night that three other cities had the possibility of using interim stadiums until their own could be built. New Orleans presumably could play in the Sugar Bowl, Cincinnati at Crosley Field and Seattle at the University of Washington. Rozelle emphasized he did not know if such permission would be available.

When the city is selected, the Western Conference members will have their choice between Atlanta and the new city. When Dallas and Minnesota were admitted, the East had the choice and took Dallas. Atlanta, however, counts in the East standings in 1966 only.

The NFL studied means of winning the all-out talent war with the AFL, expected to flare up next fall. A central scouting system with pooled information on college athletes was discussed.

The league decided to extend the goal posts 20 feet above the cross bar to help officials in making calls on field goals.

The league denied their was any connection between the innovation and the disputed field goal by Don Chandler of Green Bay in last season's tie playoff game with Baltimore. The Colts claimed the field goal was no good, but the Packers won 13-10 and went on to beat Cleveland for the title.

Beard Wins In Stirring Comeback

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—This gracious old city prides itself on its hospitality and has been trying ever since 1964 to make up for the trouble which befell Frank Beard here.

That year the bespectacled golfer came to New Orleans to play golf. He made no money and went away with encephalitis—a killer disease sometimes called sleeping sickness.

Beard almost died. He was administered the final rites by a Roman Catholic priest. But he recovered to return to New Orleans again.

Last year Beard returned to the city. A pretty blonde airline hostess named Pat Roberts flew in from Dallas and the two had their first date. They came back together last Oct. 30 and were married.

New Orleans still wanted to make amends. So this year Frank Beard conquered the fairways of Lakewood Country

Santa Clara Gets All-Star Cager

SANTA CLARA (AP) — Ralph Ogden, a 6-foot-5 forward last month named to the All-American high school basketball team, has announced he will enroll at the University of Santa Clara next fall.

He will join his brother, Bud, a 6-foot-6 forward - center who also plays for the Broncos.

Ogden averaged 24 points a game in leading Lincoln High School of San Jose to an undefeated, 29-9, season last year.

3-Game Series In Dodgerville

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pitcher Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants and catcher John Roseboro of the Los Angeles Dodgers face each other in Dodger Stadium tonight for the first time since their celebrated bat incident of last August 22.

The bat incident was unclear when it happened, and little light has been shed since. It is established that in the altercation, Roseboro's head was gashed, and Marichal was later fined $1,750 and suspended eight playing dates.

Both had plenty to say at the time, but now don't want to talk of it at all, saying "It's still in the courts." The reference is to the still-pending $110,000 law suit that Roseboro brought against the Giants' ace right-hander.

Roseboro said Marichal, at the plate, hit him on the head with a bat. Marichal said Roseboro had returned a ball so close to his head that it nicked his ear. At any rate, Roseboro will be behind the plate tonight for the third-place Dodgers and the unbeaten Marichal—aiming for his eighth straight victory—is scheduled to pitch for the first-place Giants.

They've met on the field since the incident, but not in Roseboro's home park, Dodger Stadium. There was apparent coolness between the two, but nothing happened in their Candlestick Park meeting earlier this month in San Francisco, the scene of the incident.

Marichal, whose latest argument was with Giants' management over the subject of increased salary, goes into the game with an amazing 0.76 earned run average to go along with his seven victories.

He'll be opposed by another right-hander whose spring financial demands made news, namely Don Drysdale, 2-4 for the season and victim of Marichal's 8-1 victory last May 3 in Candlestick.

That early triumph was part of a three-game sweep that started the Giants on a 12-game winning streak in a surge that has boosted them five games

TV COVERAGE

All three of the Giants-Dodgers games in Los Angeles this week will be televised by KTVU, Channel 2, starting at 7:55 p.m. each day with a pre-game warmup show starting at 7:40 and post-game show at approximately 10:45.

PREP STATISTICS

Daniele Continues To Lead Bat Race

Terra Linda High's slugger Fred Daniele continued to lead most batting departments in the Marin Athletic League baseball race through last week's games, with a .414 average, 12 runs batted in, 2 home runs and 2 triples.

Mike Einstein, Tamalpais first sacker, moved into second place in the batting derby with a .379 mark with Novato's John Dolinsek third at .360.

In team batting, Terra Linda held a firm grip on first place at .257 average, although the Trojans are sixth place in won-lost standings.

Tam's Ron Gilliam, however, is the big winner with a 5-1 mark and leads strikeouts with 47, one more than Marin Catholic's Ben Burch.

Beard won the $20,000 first prize money in the Greater New Orleans Open yesterday.

"He played in the pro-am, then slept for 17 hours, got up and played in the 1964 tourney," said Mrs. Beard, expecting her first child in early August.

He didn't survive the 36-hole cut. Three tournaments later he managed to win $1,500 although ready to sleep at the drop of a hat.

He started by car from Miami, Fla., for his parents' home at Louisville, Ky. "He told me that he couldn't drive for more than 45 minutes without stopping to sleep," said Mrs. Beard.

He dropped into a coma as soon as he reached home.

"They gave him three kinds of antibiotics," said Mrs. Beard. "They don't know which one worked. The doctor said his being an athlete helped pull him through."

Pat says her husband is deeply religious and she thinks that accounts for his miraculous recovery.

Beard started out one stroke behind Nicklaus and Lema. Nicklaus canned a birdie putt on the first hole and appeared ready to walk away with the title.

Beard said an eagle at No. 5, a par 5 hole, gave him a lift. But the biggest one came on the ninth green where Nicklaus knocked in a birdie putt to tie "and I managed to get a birdie too and stay ahead."

Beard fired a sizzling 67 for a 72-hole score of 276. Gardner Dickinson finished second, two strokes behind. Nicklaus had to settle for a third-place tie with Lema, Miller Barber and Bob Goalby.

The victory pushed Beard's 1966 earnings to $45,903—more than he made officially for all of 1965.

ANOTHER TICKET TO THE WORLD SERIES?

Twins' El Curvo Ahead Of 1965 Pace

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

Camilo Pascual is two weeks ahead of his 1965 pitching timetable and barring another derailment could be the ticket to another American League pennant for the Minnesota Twins.

Pascual was left waiting at the station most of last season because of a shoulder ailment, but an operation during the summer made the Cuban righthander the feared "El Curvo" once more.

Prior to the injury, which at first was diagnosed as a tumor but turned out to be several torn muscles which had formed into a knot, Pascual won eight straight with his sixth victory coming on May 30.

With his fast ball humming once more, Pascual won his sixth game of the 1966 season yesterday and at this rate could easily surpass his best year of 21 victories in 1963.

Minnesota's 2-1 triumph over Washington, the only action in the major leagues, was achieved on a two-out bases-loaded walk in the ninth inning and moved the Twins to within five games of first place Cleveland in the American League.

Harmon Killebrew touched off the winning rally against Washington starter Phil Ortega with a single. Andy Kosco ran for him and was forced at second by Sandy Valdespino. Bernie Allen than singled and Casey Fox replaced Ortega.

Cox intentionally walked Mincher to load the bases, and got Zoilo Versalles to hit into a force play at the plate. Cox, however, couldn't find the strike zone against Cesar Tovar and walked him four for four pitches to push across the deciding tally.

Jim King's first homer of the year in the fourth inning had tied the score at 1-1 for Washington after Minnesota tallied a run in the third on a triple by Versalles and a sacrifice fly by Tovar.

Pascual emerged unscathed from a Senator threat in the third when Ortega and Fred Valentine singled to put runners on first and third. Frank Howard ended the Washington march by forcing Valentine at second base.

A one-time wearer of the Washington uniform before his club moved from the nation's capital to Minnesota, Pascual now has beaten the Senators 13 times in 14 decisions.

Clay And Thornton Predict Kayo Wins In Title Fights

Cassius Says Cooper Too Nice To Cut

LONDON (AP) — World heavyweight champion Cassius Clay claims he will knock out Henry Cooper in their May 21 title fight at London's Arsenal Soccer Stadium.

"I will knock Cooper cold with a good, clean punch," he told newsmen yesterday.

Asked if he planned to cut up Cooper again, Clay retorted:

"I do not deliberately cut people. Cooper is too nice a man for me even to think of such a thing."

"Did you see that?" said Dundee, "That's what I call audacious. The boy's not only got a way to block Cooper's best punch, but a punch to rock him in the same move."

Torres Can't Go Distance, Says Fresnan

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Challenger Wayne Thornton predicts he will knock out light heavyweight champion Jose Torres in the 10th or 12th rounds in their title fight at New York's Shea Stadium Saturday night.

"I know I can take him and win the championship," the contender from Fresno said yesterday during a lull in training.

"Torres has never gone more than 10 rounds. If he doesn't get me by the fifth, I'm sure I'll have him the rest of the way. I intend to force the fight. It should be a rough one."

"One of the most relaxed men I ever saw—he yawned throughout the examination," the doctor said.

Thornton will go six rounds each day Tuesday and Wednesday and then prepare to break camp.

Torres also underwent the routine checkup and was found in good shape.

"I feel good, I look good, I'm fast," Torres said.

REDWOOD GOLF TEAM CLINCHES TIE FOR TITLE

Redwood High School's golf team clinched at least a tie for the Marin Athletic League championship yesterday by whipping San Rafael High school 4-2 at the Meadow Club in Fairfax.

A win against Tamalpais or Marin Catholic in Redwood's final matches would give it sole possesison of the title. The Giants' record is now nine wins, no losses and one tie.

Redwood's Tim McMurray and San Rafael's Don Hawken and Doug Francisco tied for medalist honors, each shooting 2-over-par 37. Other Redwood winners were Norm Hantzsche, Dave Cardy and Bruce McGee.

Dressen In Hospital

DETROIT (UPI) —For the second time in two years, the Detroit Tigers are playing without their 67-year-old skipper Charlie Dressen.

Dressen was admitted to a Detroit hospital yesterday afternoon after complaining of arm and chest pains. Doctors feared that the veteran manager may have suffered his second heart attack in just over 14 months.

So for the second time since coming to Detroit with Dressen in 1963, Coach Bob Swift found himself managing a pennant-contending baseball team. He learned of Dressen's illness yesterday only an hour and one-half before the Tigers were to take the field against the St. Louis Cardinals for an exhibition game.

Show Interests Hunters, Anglers

A show of interest to hunters and fishermen, the Northern California Mobile Home and Travel Trailer Show, will open tomorrow at the San Francisco Cow Palce and run through Sunday.

The show will feature more than 100 travel trailers and mobile homes of all sizes, and in all price ranges from $1,000. Many of these travel trailers are ideal for the hunter or fishermen, and sleep up to eight persons.

The show is open each day from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., except Sunday (10 a.m. to 7 p.m.). Admission is $1 for adults, 50 cents for children 6-14, and children under six will be admitted free. The show is sponsored by the Trailer Coach Assn.

ahead of the Dodgers.

Marichal's 112-52 record is the best winning percentage in the National League for active pitchers with 100 or more decisions, and he stands 18-8 against the Dodgers. Drysdale has a giant-killing record 29-21 in his favor.

The bitter intra-state rivalry continues tomorrow, with the Giants scheduled to send lefty Joe Gibbon against L.A.'s Claude Osteen and Thursday when newcomer Ray Sadecki, like Gibbon a lefty, likely to oppose Dodger ace Sandy Koufax.

SPORTS BRIEFS

L.A. Angels Boom; Mays' May Swoon

by BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Figuring The Majors:

THE WEEK-END series against Boston which drew 81,699 in new Anaheim Stadium lifted the California Angels into the major league lead in home attendance with 386,810.. The Los Angeles Dodgers are next with 358,947, followed by the New York Mets with 342,936 and the Houston Astros, 299,035.

ALTHOUGH THIS will be a month Willie Mays is likely to remember because he broke the National League career home run record, the San Francisco star is batting only .245 in May. He's had 13 hits in 53 times at bat.

JOE MORGAN of Houston, the National League's leading batter with a .360 average, must enjoy hitting the the Astrodome. He's batting .426 in 16 games there. His average for 14 road games is only .280.

THERE'S A good reason why the Cleveland Indians are leading the American League. Of the 24 games they've played, the Indians have been involved in 13 one-run games and won 10 of them.

SINCE HE was moved back to second base on May 5, Cincinnati's Pete Rose is hitting at a .348 pace with 16 hits in 46 tries. Before that, he was batting only .209. Rose started the season at third base to make room for Tommy Helms. The latter since has moved to the hot corner.

QUICK QUERY: Which National League pitcher has struck out 10 or more hitters in a game the most times this season? Not the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax or the Reds' Jim Maloney, but Bob Gibson of St. Louis. Gibson has done it three times.

GEORGE SCOTT, Boston's rookie first baseman, has a .716 slugging average. He has three doubles and three triples to go with a eague-leading 11 homers among 36 hits. Scott has compiled 78 total bases in 109 times at bat.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Young Angler Gets Big Thrill; Skate Wings Are Good Eating

STEVENS

The fisherman, a young fellow who was a beginner in the hunt for striped bass and sturgeon, was all eager-like. "It couldn't have been a bass," he said, "unless he was a whopper. I guess it was a huge sturgeon. He acted different than any bass I have ever caught, though. It seemed like he was shaking his head—sort of an up-and-down action."

"Like a big bird—kinda fluttering," asked an old timer at China Camp.

"Yeah, that's it!"

The old timer walked away. Why spoil the kid's big thrill by telling him it probably was a big stingaree.

ALICE QUAN of China Camp reported practically no stripers were caught over the weekend, but that there were lots of sting rays and skates in the neighborhood.

REGARDING THE underwater fliers: A skate acts very much like a stingaree when hooked, but, while the latter is worthless as food for the table, the skate — or rather, the skate wings — are a true delicacy to the lover of fish food. Occasionally you will note skate wings on the menu of a restaurant specializing in fancy fish food.

IN CASE you happen to land a skate, cut off the wings close tot he body, parboil them long enough to make it easy to strip off the outside skin and cook them. They really are fine eating.

You won't mistake a sting ray for a skate if you remember that a skate has a somewhat pointed snout which appears almost transparent, while a sting ray's nose is blunt, and of a solid brown. Also, the stinger has a razor sharp spearlike spine on its tail near the body which can inflict a mighty painful sting.

MAKING A telephone contact over some of the local area I am forced to pronounce salmon trolling very poor up until Sunday, ditto the striped bass yield in the San Pablo Bay.

There is some rather good news to pass along. From Lee Anderson's Oakland shop I learned that the boat R.S.P. worked the area in the Bay Bridge locale and netted 9 bass to 18 pounds, and Arnold Montario and friend limited out with stripers to 24 pounds at the South Tower of the G.G. Bridge. (I understood that both the bay bridge report and the south tower action was had by trolling.)

Strampe Fires Best ABC Score; 8 Still Unbeaten

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Bob Strampe of Detroit fired a four-game series of 996 yesterday, the best score of the American Bowling Congress Masters Tournament finals, to move into a select circle of eight undefeated contestants.

Tommy Tuttle of King, N.C., Al Thompson of Cleveland; Tom Harnisch of Bufalo; Karl Winfield of Los Angeles; Marv Lowry of Birmingham, Ala.; George Howard of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Gene Raffel of Milwaukee were the only other unbeaten finalists.

Strampe rolled games of 213, 248, 288 and 247 in his big series late last night to defeat Les Schissler of Denver by 213 pins.

Tuttle tied Larry Cassera of Glens Falls, N.Y., 811-811, but won a one-game roll-off, 201-166.

Howard, at 5-foot-7 and 112 pounds the smallest of the finalists, has the best over-all record. He has won three straight matches with series of 972, 924 and 863 for an average of nearly 230.

Defending champion Bill Welu of St. Louis was one of several top-ranking stars dropped into the losers bracket yesterday.

Former champions Harry Smith of Redwood City, Calif., and Don Carter of St. Louis joined the once-beaten ranks. All-Star titlist Dick Weber of St. Louis also is a one-time loser.

The Masters, a companion event to the ABC Tournament, ends Wednesday night with a match for the $4,000 title.

Two Marin Winners In Swimming Meet

Ken DeMont of the Ann Curtis Swim Club and Bonnie Halloran of the San Rafael Swim Club were first place winners at the Flying Fins meet last weekend at San Lorenzo.

Ken won the 25-yard freestyle for boys 8 and under and Miss Halloran won the 50-yard backstroke for girls 10 and under.

Other point winners for the Ann Curtis team were Jim Tufts and Rick DeMont, while JoAnn Hislop and Laura Listug placed for the San Rafael Swim Club. Sisters Bebe and Leslie Bryans, affiliated with the San Rafael team but swimming unattached, also placed.

A BATH FOR FRISKY KAUAI KING

PREAKNESS RACE SATURDAY

Kauai King On The Spot

The tentative line-up lists nine 3-year-olds who will oppose Mike Ford's Kentucky Derby winner and talk in the opposition camps is that they're not here for second, third or fourth money.

For instance, trainer Jim Padgett of Blue Skyer: "He should run a big race and I think we have a good chance to win this one," said the son of the principal owner of the colt.

Like many of the others, Padgett also found an excuse and also encouragement in the Blue Skyer's Derby performance. The gray colt suffered a head virus shortly before the Derby and Padgett said, "He was behind two weeks in his training."

Padgett hesitated about entering the one and one-eigth mile Derby, but when he did Blue Skyer put on a rallying finish for third place, beaten only half a length and a nose. "He was a tired horse at the end of the Derby," Padgett said.

Another example of the prove-it-to-me-again school is trainer Joe Considine of Exceedingly. About a month ago, Exeedingly was 24 lengths behind Kauai King in the Prince Georges Stake at Bowie.

Prefacing his remarks by saying he didn't want to alibi, Considine said it was the first time Exceedingly raced in mud and he showed he didn't cotton to it and secondly it was the first race in two months for the colt.

"He should be at his best for the Preakness," declared Considine, unless it rains and then he'll scratch Exceedingly.

Trainer Lucien Lauren is another who has hinted he feels Amberoid did not have a chance to show his best in the Derby. The colt, owned by Reginald N. Webster, stumbled at the start and never did catch up, finishing seventh.

Others from the Derby field poised to tackle Kauai King again are Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Advocator (second); Wheatley Stable's Stupendous (fourth); Robert Lehman's Rehabilitate (sixth), and Paul Ternes and James Bartlett's Williamston Kid (11th).

Expected to join them in the one and three-sixteenths mile race are Mrs. Edward Lasker's Indulto, last Saturday's winner of the Withers Mile, and either Exhibitionist or Understanding from the stable of trainer Hirsch Jacobs.

Miller Suffers Second Pro Loss

Steve Miller of San Anselmo, former Drake High star now pitching for Durham, N.C., Houston Astros farm club in the Class A Carolina League, lost another game, it was reported from Player Periscope of Novato.

Miller worked three innings of one game, giving up 10 hits and two walks, while striking out one. He now has a 1-2 win-loss record in 14 innings pitched, and has a 4.50 earned run average. He has given up 22 hits, 10 walks, and has fanned 7.

Mrs. Sarm Winner In Golf Tourney

Mrs. W. I. Sarm shot a net 73 to win Championship Flight honors yesterday in the Oakview Ladies Rover Club championship tourney at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club in San Rafael.

Winners were:

Championship Flight—Mrs. W. I. Sarm, 101—28—73; Mrs. R.H. Greene, 110-35—75; Mrs. Walter Goldman, 108-28—80; Mrs. J. S. Bottom, 111-31—80; Mrs. Bert Tischbern, 112-32—80; Mrs. Mrs. Philip Berven, 117-30—87; Mrs. Frank A. Martin, 117-36—81.

FINAL MARIN SWIM SCORES

Final team scores in the Marin Athletic League swimming and diving championships held Saturday at Novato High School, as announced yesterday by the host school:

WOMEN'S CHAMP WINS ACE TOURNEY

Mrs. Charles Gondak of 6 Stanford Court, Larkspur, who only last Thursday captured the Marin Country Club's women's spring handicap golf championship, followed up that performance with another title Saturday.

Beating all the men in the field, Mrs. Gondak won the Redwood High School Benchwarmer's Club's benefit hole-in-one contest at the Redwood football field!

One of her tee shots hit the pin and came to rest only seven inches from the hole. She was awarded a $50 savings bond for first place.

Second place went to Dr. John McGee, the Meadow Club sharpshooter, whose shot landed 16 inches from the cup and earned him a suitcase as prize.

One of the most valuable prizes was won by Mrs. McGee—two tickets to a Giants-Dodgers game at Candlestick Park this season.

Contest chairman Bert LeBeck, who was instrumental in obtaining more than $600 worth of merchandise prizes for the event, said the tournament netted $300 for the benefit of Benchwarmer Club projects in support of Redwood High School athletics.

Most Unlucky Hand: Misplayed By Both Sides In Tournament

"That was one of the unluckiest hands I ever played," South remarked as the opponents chalked up 100 points.

"No, the bad luck was mine," North corrected him. "Anybody else at the table would have made the slam."

Opening lead — ◇ 10

Declarer took the first diamond trick in dummy, discarding a heart from his hand.

He then led a trump from dummy, discovering the bad news when East discarded a diamond.

TRIED FINESSE

South took two high trumps, led a heart to dummy and tried the club finesse. West thereupon defeated the contract with a club and a spade.

We have all seen unluckier hands, but South did have something to gripe about.

Still, North was right also. South had two chances to make his slam despite the bad breaks in both black suits.

SHOULD RUFF

South should ruff the first diamond, draw two top trumps and cash the top hearts. When the queen and jack fall, South can lead a heart to the 10 and give West his trump trick.

West must return a diamond, and South can then discard three clubs on the ace of diamonds and the two long hearts.

South killed this plan when he was in such a hurry to discard a heart at the first trick.

MISPLAYED TRICK

Even after South had misplayed the first trick he could still make the slam.

After taking two high trumps he should lead a heart to dummy, ruff the jack of diamonds, lead another heart to dummy and ruff a heart.

Declarer then gives West his trump trick. If West returns a diamond, dummy ruffs and cashes two hearts, giving South three discards for the clubs.

If West returns a club, South gets a free finesse and gets to dummy by ruffing a club for a good heart.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid 1 notrump. Do not raise partner's suit even though you have two very good cards in his suit. You need more than two trumps to raise.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, May 17, the 137th day of 1966 with 228 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase; the morning stars are Venus and Saturn; the evening star is Jupiter.

British physician Edward Jenner, discoverer of smallpox vaccine was born on this day in 1749.

On this day in history:

In 1875, the first Kentucky Derby was held at Churchill Downs in Louisville, Ky. It was won by "Aristides."

In 1954, in a unanimous decision the Supreme Court ruled that racial segregation in the nation's public schools was unconstitutional.

In 1961, Premier Fidel Castro's offer to return Bay of Pigs prisoners in exchange for 500 bulldozers was refused by the U. S. government.

A thought for the day — President Franklin D. Roosevelt; "It is an unfortunate human failing that a full pocketbook often groans more loudly than an empty stomach."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

School Spending Has Opportunity

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Spending for education is going up. Business is spending more in the booming education market. And many a firm is pretty happy about the results and prospects.

Industry's investment in education is twofold. First is the growing volume of grants for research and scholarships and outright gifts, now running around $250 million a year. Second is the entry of hitherto outsiders into the education field as suppliers or partners.

Both approaches bring results. Research and scholarships fertilize the field from which business harvests future products and management. The second venture, teaming up to supply needs popping up in an age of pressure for more educational facilities and supplies, looks like a profitable venture to an increasing number of established business firms in other fields.

The roster is a long one. Just as big is the opportunity—and still growing.

Education-oriented firms have been prospering right along with the striking growth in the number seeking more education and training. They include textbook publishers, furniture makers, athletic equipment providers. But recently companies with quite different origins and activities have been linking up with those already in the field.

Mergers of acquisitions of firms already in the school and college supply business have blossomed fast in recent months. Some companies also have set up joint ventures to enter the field. Others have formed new companies or subsidiaries to meet a newly apparent need.

International Telephone & Telegraph plans to merge with Howard W. Sams & Co., a publisher and printer of books, magazines, training and reference services. Radio Corp. of America has acquired Random House, a publishing house that foresees a revolution in education in the next 10 years. International Business Machines took over Science Research Associates, a publisher of educational materials and psychological tests.

With 4.5 million enrolled in U.S. colleges today—and enrollment expected to double by 1973 or 1974—education is looking more and more like a prime business venture.

Life Firm Picks Man

SAN FRANCISCO—San Francisco Life Insurance Co. directors have elected Donald R. Thomas of San Lorenzo as assistant secretary and chief underwriter, John K. Rowlan of Lafayette as controller and A. Donald Clerihue of San Francisco as assistant actuary.

Market Fizzles Out In Space Failure

NEW YORK (AP) —The stock market closed lower today after an early rally fizzled. Trading was active.

The initial advance, a lively one, came to a halt just after news came that the Gemini 9 space mission had been ruined by failure of the Agena satellite.

Market technicians said this served as an "excuse' 'for the list to down again.

Volume for the day was estimated ~t 9.5 million shares compared with 9.27 million Monday.

The list was advancing when news came of the Agena failure. The rally stalled. Prices remained higher as trading slackened. Then selling began in the afternoon. The list went lower on balance.

Boeing, already upset by news of a mishap to one of its planes, widened its loss to 6 points. Lockheed, prime contractor for the Agena, was off nearly a point.

Many important gains throughout the list were trimmed. In some instances they were replaced with losses.

Previously rallying airlines reversed their direction. Eastern sank about 4½, United Aircraft and Pan American 2 each.

General Motors held about half of a gain that earlier had exceeded a point.

Eastman Kodak and Westinghouse Electric held 1-point gains and Du Pont was up about 2½. SCM was active and up about 2.

Greyhound, Ltd., Pays

CHICAGO—The board of directors of Greyhound Lines of Canada, Ltd., a subsidiary of Greyhound Corp., has declared a regular quarterly dividend on the common stock of 20 cents a share. The dividend is payable July 1 to shareholders of record June 1.

Marin's Bank Debits Climbing

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco reported unadjusted bank debits of $179,770,000, compared with $172,736,000 in April a year ago. Unadjusted deposits were $78,895,000, compared with $78,819,000 for the same month in 1965.

Adjusted debits, deposits and turnover ratios are not compiled for Marin County, since figures have not been reported for a long enough period to make adjustments for seasonal fluctuations.

Tamalpais High Print Shop Man Joins Son

Both Schroeder and his son studied printing under Jules Chouree, retired print shop head. Schroeder, formerly associated with Andrews Printing Co., San Rafael will open his new shop June 1.

Sears Chairman Tells Plan For Retirement

CHICAGO—An "extra salesman" from Oakland who advanced through the ranks to become chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Sears, Roebuck and Co. has announced he will retire next Jan. 31.

Austin T. Cushman told shareholders at the annual meeting that the company's nominating committee will recommend a successor to the board of directors later this year.

HOUSING FOR SUMMER TRAVEL. This "Camper Special Package" featuring built-in heavy-duty drive line and chassis components in a Ford F-250 light truck is one of a number of models to be on display in the Ford Camper Caravan at Ames Ford Sales next Tuesday, May 24, including expandable, chassis and cab-over mounts. New Ford Campers Due In Marin For Summer Recreation Activities

Summer is only a few degrees Fahrenheit around the corner, and more than ever this year one of the biggest booms in outdoor recreation in many a season will take on added impetus.

This is in the sale of "campers" which seem to be making great headway in replacing the small size trailer in the mobile housing field.

Unlike the trailer, the camper is not towed, but is mounted on and is usually removable from a pick-up truck, making that vehicle available for other purposes when necessary. The truck is generally matched for size and weight of its superstructure with special equipment to handle an overload.

A "Ford Camper Caravan" sponsored by Ford dealers in this region and on tour of 40 Northern California cities will put in appearance in Marin next Tuesday at Ames Ford Sales in San Rafael. The 17 units making up the caravan will include a wide selection of late models, some of them expandable as much as 10 feet in size from their over-the-road length.

Camper manufacturers from all over the state are participating in the program.

Cans are all aluminum and seamless, which gives the bacteria no place to hide—an important factor in the new popular packaging of draft beer in small, take-home containers. Unlike ordinary packaged beer, draft beer is not pasteurized and several processes are used by brewers to destroy and inhibit bacteria. Hamm's uses a filtration process.

WILLIAM RAKESTRAW, who has Rakestraw's Loch Lomond Market in San Rafael, is planning on opening a branch market in the Russian River resort of Rio Nido. Store is now being remodeled for its opening, which Rakestraw hopes will be in time for the Memorial Day weekend.

SIMPLIFIED BUSINESS SERVICES, Mill Valley, operated by Brian Rowlands and his new associate Peter Gilliam, has gone into the electronic data processing field and now provides this service for small businesses.

PHILIP L. FLAX of San Rafael, who heads Flax's Artist Materials in San Francisco, has announced plans to move from 255 Kearny Street to 250 Sutter Street in August. The latter address is the site of the old Goldberg-Bowen grocery store. Extensive remodeling will be started shortly on facade, main floor, mezzanine and basement. The 27,000 square feet of floor space will probably make Flax's the largest specialty store of its kind in the world.

M. DOUGLAS WOODRING of Ross has been promoted to banking services officer in the business development and customer relations department at Wells Fargo Bank's metropolitan division in San Francisco. He joined the bank in 1964 as a management trainee.

Sears Income Gains By 10.1 Per Cent

CHICAGO — Sears, Roebuck and Co.'s first quarter net income will be approximately 10.1 per cent higher than the record set last year, Austin T. Cushman, chairman of the board, told shareholders at the company's annual meeting.

Earnings for the three months ended April 30 are estimated at $49,617,000, or 33 cents per share, Cushman said. This compares with $45,069,000, or 30 cents per share in the same period of fiscal 1965.

Big Fertilizer Plant Pact Set

CHICAGO—An agreement has been signed in India providing for participation by a subsidiary of Standard Oil Co. of Indiana in a major nitrogenous fertilizer plant at Madras.

Negotiations for the plant were concluded by representatives of the Indian government, which will own 51 per cent, and American International Oil Co., Standard's subsidiary repsonsible for operations outside North America.

The fertilizer plant, India's largest, will process naphtha from the Madras refinery, yielding about 200,000 tons a year of nitrogen equivalent fertilizer, plus other products.

Required Blood Test Bill Infringes On Our Rights

It may be too late to stop the so-called "implied consent" bill that would force drunken drivers to submit to a blood test.

Most legislators are reluctant to oppose the bill (SB-3) with too much vigor for fear of being accused of defending drunken driving.

However, several legislators, notably Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Oakland, and Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, have spoken out against the bill during committee hearings. Some of those arguments bear repeating.

1. Assume that an officer asks a man to submit to a test, and the man says nothing. Or assume that the man is a diabetic, who acts almost exactly like a drunk when he suffers a diabetic seizure. In his incoherent state, he may refuse to submit to a test. Whether he refuses or says nothing, the officer's testimony can bring automatic suspension of driver's license for six months.

2. Supposing you are driving over a lonely stretch of desert road 50 miles from nowhere, and an officer stops you for speeding or other violation. If he happens to be a spiteful or an ornery officer, he could make it rough on the driver. He could "suspect" that you had been drinking and ask you to submit to a blood test.

To comply would mean accompanying him 50 miles back into the closest town, and to refuse would be automatic suspension of license for six months.

3. The ultimate guilt or innocence of a driver has no bearing on the loss of license. The moment an officer arrests you on suspicion of drunken driving, you either submit to a test or lose your license. And that six-month suspension stands, even if a subsequent trial acquits you of the drunken driving charge.

4. The law would discriminate against California drivers. If an out of state driver refused to submit to a test, how would California suspend his license?

5. This is ex-post facto legislation, which says in effect that California motorists consented to submit to a chemical test when they got their licenses three or five years ago.

We all agree that drunken driving and highway deaths should be cut down. But in our eagerness to do so, aren't we giving up too much of the basic individual rights which we once regarded as inviolable?

If we start yielding blood or other body fluids under coercion, then it's just a short step before we begin submitting to stomach pumps or truth serum tests, all in the name of fighting vice, crime or highway carnage.

ROUND THE WORLD ON ONE LEG

In Turkey, recently, having walked his way through 14 countries, he told interviewers: "I love walking and do not consider myself handicapped, having only one leg."

From Turkey, the adventurous 62-year-old bachelor intends to walk to Iran, India and the Far East and go to the U.S. by ship.

He had become bored as a tailor and then won several walking races in France. Newspapers praised him as "the man who challenges his disability."

"I don't know when I shall complete the world tour," the one-legged man concluded. "All I know is that I want to walk until I die."

Persons with big objectives usually push on despite handicaps that would dishearten most people.

Set your sights on heaven and you will more easily overcome the trials and temptations that beset people who have no goal in life.

"I press on toward the goal, to the prize of God's heavenly call in Christ Jesus."

Some Who Quit Work Finding Way To Get Unemployment Pay

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Under present law, people who quit their jobs voluntarily, without good cause, are disqualified from participating in the benefits of unemployment insurance.

However, some unions have discovered a way in which claimants can avoid the disqualification, have their cake and eat it to.

The California Unemployment Insurance Appeals board in a 2-1 decision some time ago furnished aid and comfort to claimants seeking ways and means for this avoidance in a decision which gave benefits to a babysitter.

THE CLAIMANT filed for insurance, giving her last employment as a babysitter. She had quit a previous job voluntarily and without good cause to move out of her community. All the benefits she drew were charged to the reserve account of her previous employer.

Thus, although revisions in the code were designed to protect the previous employer from just such a charge, and the public from unwarranted raids on the insurance fund, the subterfuge was found to be legal by the appeals board.

The collection process is relatively simple. Anyone so desiring can quit a job voluntarily and without good cause, work an hour or so for another employer, earn a couple of dollars, file for unemployment insurance, and get paid.

Reason is the eligibility qualification was decided by the appeals board on the basis of the "last" employment, which in the case of the babysitter was the job of babysitting in employment not covered by the code, rather than the job she quit voluntarily and without good cause.

THIS PROCESS became known in some union circles as "tricks of the trade," in other words, a trick to despoil the unemployment insurance fund of monies designed to be made available to the legitimately unemployed.

The California Teamsters Union recently advised members: "If not eligible because you have quit work, don't file for benefits, but get a one day job picking peaches for a friend, or do some limited work for a neighbor, or work a few hours as a babysitter. Then file."

One member of the unemployment insurance appeals board, Lowell Nelson, former official of the California State Federation of Labor, an appointee of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, is aiding and abetting this dissipation of insurance money.

Nelson on April 4 issued a letter on state stationery to persons who attended a referees forum last year, enclosing a bulletin advising that extra sessions of the same type of meeting scheduled for the latter part of this month in Fresno, would be held by labor representatives to "explain their tricks of the trade" to those who attend.

THIS LETTER was issued following Nelson's "aye" vote on the decision which gave benefits to the babysitter.

End Discrimination; Draft Women

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We hear much about discrimination against minority groups and against women.

Why don't we hear anything about discrimination against men in general, regardless of color or creed? There exists an emphatic discrimination against men due to the fact that women do not enjoy equal treatment in being drafted into military service. This condition should be promptly remedied!

I would say that women should be drafted to bear arms, but if discrimination against men should continue to the extent that women are not drafted to bear arms they could still be drafted to furnish manpower for the hundreds of support activities required by the military, thus releasing more men to bear arms (and more discrimination). Women could do most of the work in hospitals, mess halls, clerical offices, etc.

As long as politicians and various groups insist on eliminating discrimination we should make a clean sweep of the problem.

Another great injustice resulting from not drafting women results from the fact that the men have to leave school for military service leaving the women to finish their educations and obtain the jobs which many of the men would get if they were not drafted.

Where Are Public Servants?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

What happened to public servants?

I, as a commoner, have always believed that congressmen, judges, governors, presidents, etc., are elected by the people to express the people's wishes. This apparently is too much to ask. Although we pay their salaries and do the voting, we are certainly not the bosses.

It was dramatically brought forth in 1964 that the State Legislature had not conveyed the public's wishes by passing the "Rumford Forced Housing Act." As you know, the vote went "yes" on Proposition 14 by more than 2-to-1.

Now another (public servant?) is doing what is best for the public sheep. Lyndon B. Johnson has introduced the same type of legislation on a federal basis. Meanwhile, the State Supreme Court has also shown what it thinks of the public opinion by declaring Prop. 14 unconstitutional.

As a footnote to this, it is noteworthy to call attention to the fact that Gov. Pat Brown wants to put off the use of the repeal of Prop. 14 until after the election. He apparently isn't very proud of this forced housing, although he ramrodded it through the Legislature.

These "super human" officials, however, seem to think that they are quite qualified to overrule public opinion. I, for one, would like to put some public servants into office, and get these "superior beings" out.

What Does 'Negro' Add To News Story?

Editor, Independent-Journal

What does the word negro add to the news story enclosed (Apr. 26)? Not a thing except to make life more difficult for the negroes in general.

This type of reporting happens often in your paper — and should be eliminated—or the race of every person named in the news should be reported—which would be very stupid! Do you agree?

Fight For Freedom A Losing Battle

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. Cranston (and others) publicly remind us that communism and fascism were buddies during the rise of Third Reich. He warns that we would even now more likely find Communists in the "right wing" camp than in any other.

Since communism and fascism are still alike in that both require centralized control, and will use any means to gain that end, aren't we calling the wrong camp "right wing?"

I ask you to note the rise of the "Great Society." Even some of its early advocates are alarmed at lack of resistance to federal controls, which in the name of excellent causes like "War on Poverty," conservation, consumer education, etc., are clawing into every facet of American private life, too often invited by requests for unneeded federal aid.

Local administrators must abide by federal dictate, otherwise our forced contributions are withheld until we come around to the government's way of thinking. And who can count the dollar shrinkage in the bureaucratic jungle between Washington and here?

We move fast toward price and wage dictation in the name of another good cause —inflation control. That choking sensation we all feel is loss of freedom, which once lost is, historically, never regained. Listen to your candidates. Disregard labels pinned on them.

Anyone who presses for logical government spending, for more freedom of choice, for local effectiveness could not be a right or left wing extremists. He fights for your freedom and he fights a losing battle today.

BENNETT CERF

CAROL TRUAX, author of the flavorsome "Father Was a Gourmet," recalls how her doughty father, a Supreme Court judge for 28 years, presided with majestic grandeur at dinner parties which his wife took delight in arranging in his honor. Nor could any untoward mishap put a dent in his aplomb. One evening, for instance, he was carving a large goose when suddenly "the resisting bird with a great slide took wing and landed squarely" into a startled lady's pale-green-silk covered lap. Did Judge Truax apologize? Not he! He drew himself up majestically and boomed, "Madam, I'll trouble you for that goose."

ABE BURROWS, early in his career, not only wrote additional bits of business for a Broadway-bound musical, but appeared personally in it as well. The opening night audience was so ecstatic that nobody had to wait for the reviews to know they had a big, fat hit on their hands. Burrows, bubbling with joy, collared the producer, and demanded, "I want a star on my door—and I don't care who she is."

Unfinished Business May Be November's Political Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The politicians are rummaging in a bag of unfinished business for talking points in this year's congressional elections.

What they are talking about as issues now may look different by election time next November.

President Johnson is betting — or hoping — that the record of this Democratic-run Congress will be his party's chief inducement to the voters.

THAT'S THE BIG point he made in a speech last week at a Democratic fund-raising dinner.

Naturally, the outnumbered Republicans are hoping for something a little more irritating to talk about. It's been clear for some time what they would fasten on, or like to.

This is a guess since inflation, or the danger of it, may have retreated into the background by November and by then the war in Viet Nam may look less cloudy and frustrating, or the reverse.

JOHNSON, the master politician, knows as well as Nixon or anyone else that by November inflation and the Vietnamese war may plague the Democrats. He's not making them issues ahead of time.

This Congress made a splendid record last year. But this year he has run into some difficulty there and the final record for 1966 is months away.

The President predicted that "the American people are not going to disown the most productive Congress ever assembled." He said: "Together we have passed more laws for the good of more men, women and children than any one Congress since our nation was founded."

THIS PUT HIM and his Democrats of 1965-66 ahead of any Congress in the presidency of his hero, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

This week GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss said his surveys showed inflation to be a "major domestic issue, far beyond other domestic issues in recent years."

And Nixon chimed in to say the war in Viet Nam is just as big an issue "because the Democrats have made it so."

Johnson knows as well as Nixon and anyone else that by November the war in Viet Nam may be a plague to the Democrats. But he's not magnifying it ahead of time.

Instead, he spoke of it in a general way, urging Democrats to tell voters that "America will persevere until peace comes to Viet Nam."

BUT WHEN he added—"it is the stand the vast majority of Americans will respect," — he revealed why he hasn't given his critics added national attention by making a full-length reply to them.

He doesn't think his critics on Viet Nam make up a very large part of the population.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Relocation Of NATO May Cost $2 Billion

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Relocation of the scores of NATO bases, depots, supply, communications and other facilities in France, as adamantly demanded by President De Gaulle, could cost as much as $2 billion.

That's the jolting estimate General Lyman Lemnitzer, NATO commander, gave the House Foreign Affairs Committee at a private meeting. The committee was largely responsible for his recent visit to Washington for consultations. In a long session, he was questioned closely about NATO and De Gaulle.

While Lemnitzer did not directly discuss who would foot the huge bill for relocating the NATO installations, committeemen were left with the impression the U. S. would have to bear most of the expense — as it did in building them.

It was indicated Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is considering bringing much of the removable equipment back to the U. S. for storing as part of the strategic reserve. This plan is still in the discussion stage. Decision will depend on what is finally done about the NATO facilities.

OTHER SIGNIFICANT highlights brought out during Lemnitzer's meeting with the foreign affairs committee were:

Contingency plans for the defense of West Berlin are undergoing re-examination, including France's role. Still undetermined is France's participation in this urgently important study. The U.S. now has 5,200 troops in West Berlin; Britain, 3,200; France, around 3,000.

Maintenance of full NATO strength and defenses is now deemed more crucially essential than ever before because of Russia's modernization and mechanization of the 127 divisions it has stationed in easternEurope. Their fire power and mobility have been greatly increased.

THE U.S. is intently alert for a possible hostile Soviet move in Europe because of the intensifying conflict in Viet Nam and the mounting involvement of U. S. forces there.

President De Gaulle is giving no hint to his NATO allies on what he contemplates discussing with the Kremlin rulers during his visit next month. The imperious Frenchman has rebuffed efforts by British and German leaders to sound him out. Prime Minister Harold Wilson proposed flying to Paris to confer with De Gaulle, but was told he would be busy until July — after he returns from Moscow.

Questions by representatives Thomas Morgan, D-Pa., chairman, and E. Ross Adair, R-Ind., brought out the potential tremendous cost of moving NATO defenses in France to other countries.

"What will be the cost of relocating all these installations?" asked Adair. "The pipelines, air and communication facilities, the bases, depots, and NATO headquarters?"

"IF THAT BECOMES necessary," replied Lemnitzer, "it could be one of the most expensive military projects in history. The cost would run anywhere from $500 million to $2 billion, depending on the extent of the relocation."

"If De Gaulle goes through with his apparent plans," continued Adair, "do you anticipate that we will be denied supply depots and communication systems that can't be moved?"

"We are hoping to work out some arrangement so the pipelines will not be a complete loss," said Lemnitzer. "But there is no indication so far what De Gaulle will do about that."

"Won't the defense of Berlin be made more difficult by De Gaulle's actions?" asked Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen, R-N.J.

"They have raised new problems," agreed Lemnitzer. "Our review is designed to determine what changes will be necessary to support U.S., British and possibly the French forces now stationed in West Berlin."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By THERON NEWELL

Years-Old Election Signs Still Are On Novato Utility Poles

With the political pot boiling for the June primary, the last city election in Novato is all but forgotten. That is, forgotten except for some of the signs still visible on the utility poles. However, many of these have been covered by posters for the coming election.

When the election is over this fall, we wonder how many of them will still cling to the poles to slowly fade away in the winter rains? The city can boast of still having Clausen and Grader for Congress posters on some of the poles.

THERE IS SOME local opposition to the Novato Fire District buying a $70,000 aerial truck. There are those who think that this is a luxury piece of equipment which the district cannot afford.

When the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau made a study of Novato, it recommended that the district purchase such a truck and have a drill tower to train the firemen in fighting fires from heights.

The bureau's recommendations for a district to have such a truck are that there be 20,000 population or five buildings three stories or 35 or more feet in height.

Novato has these. So if the district wants to keep pace with the growth of the community, it should have such a truck.

If it does not keep pace with growth, and should have some tragic fire in one of its high rise buildings, the fire district would be the first to be criticized for not having it.

ONE UTILITY that has not kept pace with the growth of the city is that of the telephone service. The city is still divided so that residents have two phone companies. Many residents who live in the southern part of the city and have businesses in the San Rafael area, have phones from that exchange.

So it is still possible that people must pay a toll charge to talk to a neighbor across the street or a block from their house. Toll free service to other parts of the county could solve this.

There is one problem that cannot be solved by that. That is the lack of circuits which connect northern Novato with the outside world. Many times when a person dials "one" to make a toll call out of the city, he gets a busy signal. That means that all the equipment for handling long distance calls is busy.

When this happens occasionally, one does not think much of it, but there are times when it takes several minutes before a person can make a call out of the city. For all intents and purposes, Novato is cut off from the rest of the world for that period.

THE NEW Novato Square Shopping Center has the appearance of anything but a thing of beauty. It is understandable. Thousands of tons of dirt have been removed to make the various grades and levels for the buildings on the square.

This is just a sign of progress. One of these days there will be buildings on these pads and the appearance will be changed drastically.

In the meantime, one hopeful sign has appeared. Last week trees were planted in the squares in the sidewalk at the same intervals as those on Grant Avenue.

So the sidewalks around Novato Square now blend in very well with Grant Avenue. Overnight the appearance of the project was changed by the trees. They made a world of difference in the looks of it. When the building are constructed, suddenly the trees will come into their own and will be seen as a beautiful addition to the landscaping.

MORRIE RYSKIND

A Pessimist Finds No Reason For Changing Election Opinion

A gently critical note from a well-wisher, Mrs. J. R., praises me with faint damns: "You can be very amusing at times, but more frequently you are pessimistic. Is that a way to win friends and influence people?"

It is an old complaint, lady, and there's nothing much I can do about it. It's in the genes. Those of us who are descended from Cassandra know we can never hope for the popularity bestowed on the off-spring of Pollyanna. They are the eternal optimists who see only the doughnut and we the pessimists who are aghast at the size of the hole therein.

NOR DO WE derive any satisfaction from saying "I told you so," when one of our gloomy predictions comes to pass—for we are compelled to suffer along with the rest. So even when we see clearly what's coming up, inwardly we pray that we're wrong.

Thus, on the night of the last presidential election, as each of the returns added to the magnitude of the Johnson sweep, I wrote:

"For me and millions like me, this was Custer's Last Stand for the principles we devoutly believed in — and will believe in 'til our dying day. This was not just the scalping of one man or even the massacre of a political party—it was, we fear, the beginning of the end of a way of life that had brought more genuine liberty than man had ever known before.

"For, make no mistake about it, America has made a sharp turn to the left in this election. The revolution of 1776 has been overthrown by the counter-revolutionists of 1964; the sacred tenets of limited government and individual freedom and responsibility have been replaced—for better or for worse, only history can tell—by the doctrines of the welfare state, to be run by the Fabian carpetbaggers."

A DISMAL OUTLOOK, to be sure, and I was promptly reproved by many. A Tennessee reader sent me a copy of the far cheerier editorial on the election from his hometown paper. "Read this," he said, "and compare it with your own dire predictions. Then put it aside for a year or so, until this new administration has had a chance to function, and see it you haven't woefully exaggerated. And I trust you will then be man enough to eat your own words."

I did put the editorial aside and wrote the reader I accepted his challenge. But I mislaid it and had forgotten all about it till the other day when another Southern reader, bless her, sent me a copy of the editorial in question. Here then, for comparison, are some relevant quotations from it:

"Hopefully he (LBJ) will now give even closer scrutiny to the question of federal spending on giveaway programs at home and abroad. He has already shown his ability to cut such spending . . . But there is still work to be done.

"He will be free now to select his own cabinet and close advisers . . . Agriculture is an important mainstay of the economy, and it is our own hope that the President will lose little time in finding a secretary of agriculture who has a better knowledge of that problem (than Orville Freeman) and one who can deal with the situations . . . in a sensible and capable manner.

"DURING HIS ONE YEAR of caretaker administration, President Johnson weeded out of Washington some of the theorists and dream builders who would guide the national economy astray. Tuesday's vote was an endorsement of that action and the President should see to it that . . . the advisors who gather around him have a solid grounding in the practical as well as the theoretical aspects of economics."

Well, there you are and I've kept my pledge. You can judge for yourself and decide whether the pessimist or the optimist spoke truer. But I think it fair to point out that the giveaway programs, the theorists and dream builders are still with us and that Orville Freeman is still handling the problems of agriculture.

Student Art To Be Shown

Approximately 250 pieces of student art work will be displayed at the College of Marin art department's spring exhibition Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Room 61 of the Art Building, according to Edwin A. Cadogan, chairman of the fine arts division.

The annual exhibition usually includes an art in action show, Cadogan noted, but this has been omitted this year as the exhibit is limited to one room due to "physical problems connected with construction of the new music-drama building."

Included in the display will be student work from day and evening classes in ceramics, design, drawing, illustration, interior design, jewelry, lapidary, painting, printmaking, photography, sculpture and weaving.

The display will be open from 7 to 10 p.m., Friday, 1 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m. Saturday and 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Cadogan said.

Back From China Sea

Ensign Roger S. Lion, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Lion of 26 Wray Avenue, Sausalito, has returned to the South China Sea, off the coast of Viet Nam, aboard the tanker Elkhorn. He was in Manila.

Marine Reserve Open House Set

Marin County Marine Corps Reserve Unit will open its training center doors at 183 Madison Avenue, San Rafael to the public Thursday from noon to 9 p.m.

The open house is being held in celebration of Armed Forces Week. Training equipment and weapons will be on display and films will be shown throughout the afternoon.

The unit was formed in Marin 34 years ago and has been at its present location since 1961.

Council To Discuss Fence Ordinances

Ordinances prohibiting barbed wire and electrified fences and requiring business vehicles to carry the vendor's name will be heard by the Mill Valley City Council at an 8 p.m. meeting today.

Also on the agenda are hearings on a proposal to make a portion of Woodbine Drive a one-way street, discussion of Paul B. Fischer fulfilling his option to pick up the lease on the city's small craft harbor for development, and discussion of a proposed quarterly newsletter. An ordinance regulating swimming pools will be given first reading.

Stinson Water Board Cuts Budget Sharply

Directors of the Stinson Beach County Water District drew up a greatly reduced 1967 preliminary budget Friday night down to $4,510 from this year's $7,060 budget.

The higher costs last year were partly for engineering fees to determine the feasability of a sewage system. Action on this project is waiting on a county survey.

Foster Family Care, Youth Talk Set

A discussion of teen-agers and foster family care will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the conference room of the new Sunny Hills in San Anselmo.

Miss Dina Rys will lead the discussion. A film will also be shown on the topic.

Investor's guide! A Cadillac remains unmistakably a Cadillac regardless of year. New or previously-owned, its impressive size, its remarkable beauty and its continuity of styling have all contributed to Cadillac's reputation as the finest of all luxury car investments.

Every day, more and more wise car buyers are discovering that they can get more performance, luxury, distinction and pride of ownership in a previously-owned Cadillac than in many new cars of lesser stature. For example, Cadillac engineering has always been so advanced that many features of Cadillacs several years old are just now finding their way into new cars of other makes. And Cadillac has for years provided as standard equipment automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes, power windows and power seats on most models, automatic cornering lights and many other conveniences that even now cost extra on most new cars. Consider, too, the extra reassurance of motoring in an automobile of Cadillac's impressive size and stature. Before you buy your next car, be sure to look for your authorized Cadillac dealer's used car sign. It is the best possible landmark for a wide, attractively priced selection of well cared for, previously-owned Cadillac cars.

Junked Cars Are Homes For Fishes

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The island city of Key West has solved the problem of what to do with abandoned automobiles it clears off the streets.

It chains the car bodies together and dumps them in the ocean to form artificial reefs which soon become prime fishing spots. Fish seem to be more attracted to the old cars than to natural reefs.

Big Boat Show Is Attraction At Northgate

Beginning tomorrow, all merchants in both the fashion mall and the services plaza will have tickets for a drawing to award a week's vacation in Acapulco for two, or one of two three-day visits to Disneyland for two. The tickets will be available through noon on Saturday.

On Friday morning, boats from dealers throughout Marin will be on display in both sections of the center. Exhibits will cover the wide range of craft available in the county, from outboards to yachts and sailboats. The boat show will continue through 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Northgate Sporting Goods will also be erecting a display of camping equipment on the mall. Tents, cots, stoves and the many items used for camping in Northern California will be included.

In addition to the drawings and other displays, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. will host a one-million dollar tent show of telephones and the related sciences.

Contributing boat dealers will be Marin Boat House, Channel Boat Sales, Chris Craft Sales, Clipper Yacht Sales, Edgewater Boat Shop, Western Boat Shop, Owens- Marin Yacht Sales, Mandella Boats and Bristol Yachts.

Old Blazer Reverts To Bright Hues

The blazer this summer truly lives up to its name.

When the odd jacket first began to appear at sporting events some 75 years ago in what seemed to the Victorians a veritable blaze of color, the new fashion was promptly dubbed "blazer." And though in the ensuing decades colors were tamed to navy blues, wines and blacks, the name stuck.

But this summer the blazer, now a staple item in the male wardrobe, returns to the original concept of its Victorian ancestors in a blaze of color and pattern.

While navy blue still holds the number one color spot, it is being seriously challenged by clear reds, yellows, jewel greens and bristol blues in solids, pin-strpies and brazen awning stripes.

And where color is important, cotton is important because it takes it and holds it. The big blazer fabrics this summer will be denims, sailcloths, cotton hopsacking and madras in just about any color under the sun.

And there's an entirely new fashion idea emerging in the blazer suits designed for those occasions when a suit is too much and a jacket not enough.

MAGIC OF MANHASSET

Futuristic simplicity is shown in this combination of woven nylon knits for summer. The top is a long sleeve abstract. Slacks have a matching solid color. On sale at Mister C, Northgate Shopping Center. This store will also have latest swimsuits professionally modeled on Saturday from 1 to 4 p.m.

New Zealand Currency Switch Profitable For Coin Collectors

By CHARLES CARTER

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Half-crowns, worth 2 shillings 6 pence (35 cents) at the banks and the prize of American coin collectors, are missing by the million in New Zealand.

They apparently have been salted away with the thought they will become increasingly valuable as time goes on.

New Zealand will switch to decimal currency July 1967, and as a first step the government decided to withdraw the big silver and cupro-nickel coins last May 2.

It was then estimated 15 million half-crowns were in circulation, and that 3 million or so of these would be tucked away as souvenirs or for future sale to collectors.

But five months later, only 8 million had gone back to the Reserve Bank for keeps. They are still being returned, but only in a trickle.

The Reserve Bank has set up machines to separate the silver coins minted between 1933 and 1948 from the cupro-nickel ones issued since then. About 3 million have a 50 per cent silver content, and 12 million are cupro-nickel.

If the bank got the lot, they would produce about 400,000 pounds ($1,120,000) worth of silver, and 100,000 pounds ($280,000) of nickel. The half-crowns that are returned will be melted down, and the metal sold to help pay the cost of the switch to the New Zealand dollar.

Half-crowns are prized by coin collectors, especially in the United States.

Even before May 2, extra fine uncirculated half-crowns of the 1963 issue were bringing $2.25 from American collectors, while those of the 1961 issue sold for $16.

Bay Firms Get Spotlighted In New Book

Two of the Bay Area's largest and best-known stores, City of Paris and The Emporium have been selected among 31 great American retailing organizations which are included in an anthology of famous pioneer-retailers, called "Old Masters of Retailing", published by Fairchild Publications' book division.

A full chapter is devoted to each of the stores, tracing their operations from the horse-and-buggy days to their current status as modern merchandising emporiums. The book has been brought up-to-the-minute and includes reference to key officials in both organizations, including City of Paris president, George S. DeBonis, and Emporium president, F. S. Hirschler.

The book was written by the late Philip J. Reilly, former managing director of Associated Merchandising Corp. (AMC), the world's largest buying office. It adds a significant chapter to the history of American business and places the multibillion dollar retailing industry in proper perspective.

Some Stretch Slacks Don't Stretch, Now

The following should be of special interest to gals who are presently having a weight problem: Some stretch slacks now on the market are shrinking.

The experts say that some of these garments have literally lost a little of the "permanent memory" put into the fabric by the manufacturer. How do they become so forgetful?

In order for the fabric to stretch and then remember to return to its natural shape, a set crimp is put into the fiber thus giving the fabric what some call memory. The stretch fiber must also be fully relaxed before the final fabric is cut. Apparently some manufacturers, not gals, have relaxed a little.

Heads, Feet Due To Be Cool, Men

Cool summer comfort, at the top and bottom, laced with style for the sizzling season, is seen in men's hats and shoes for summer '66. Flexibility, remarkable lack of weight, and "air conditioning vents" are the distinguishing features of this season's new hats and shoes.

As far as hats are concerned, straw weaves and braids minus stiffening sizings have been adapted for businesswear as well as casualwear. In many styles the crowns of the hats have been designed with sections or rows of openwork to provide cooling vents. In other styles, the familiar coconuts, panamas, palms, leghorns and milan-types have either been reduced in weight or opened in weave or braid.

Select your new straw from light, medium or dark shades with particular emphasis on the mediums and lights. The choice of hat bands is virtually limitless from conservatively striped ribbons to vibrantly colored batiks, Madrases and silk puggarees.

New brim widths include everything from slims to moderately wide shapes for businesswear and also find the big, sweeping brim a favorite for "planter" and "beachcomber" casuals. Crown blocks include center creases, pinch fronts, telescopes and pinch-telescopes. Some of the soft straws can be shaped according to the wearer's preference.

Summer shoes stride into the season with new approaches to style and comfort in both dressy and casual styles. Regardless of the type, lightweight flexibility is the all-pervading feature of the new oxfords and slip-ons. Updated tanning processes have given new flexibility to medium-weight as well as thin soles. Many summer styles are made with unlined uppers to shave the weight and increase the porosity of the leathers.

Woven leather uppers and styles with open areas let their shoes "breathe" with every step. Poromerics, man-made and simulating either smooth or grained leathers in appearance, are also lightweight, flexible and have been proven to be both comfortable and durable. The poromerics can be cleaned with a damp cloth and have done much to revive the popularity of white shoes as well as blacks and browns combined with white.

Slip-on styles are more popular than ever this summer and range from the ruggedly casual handsewns for casualwear to sophisticated "boxer-top," elastic gored and plain slip-ons styled for wear with business and dress-up outfits. Many rise in an unbroken line from toe to ankle and above.

Off-duty shoes take on added color as sueded leather casuals appear in light blues, grays, olive-greens, yellows and reds. Sand-tones and palomino shades as well as cinnamons are fine mates for colorful slacks and walk shorts, too. And rising rapidly in popularity are the new sandals in natural or white with a hand-made look.

THE TRIED AND TRUE make a winning combination in summer shoes and hats. Here a classic tassle loafer and pinch-front coconut straw with bright Madras puggaree flank a white Panama optimo with striped band and a streamlined open white casual slipon that bridges the dress-into-casual wardrobe requirement.

X-Ray Camera Aids Spacemen

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (UPI) —A television camera that looks at invisible x-rays instead of a visible light is helping assure the flawless performance of Gemini man-in-space vehicles, office computers and your teen-age daughter's transistor radio.

The camera—heart of an ultrasensitive testing system developed by Picker X-Ray Corporation for the non-destructive inspection of amall components —converts x-rays directly into video signals. These produce a magnified image of the part's interior on a full-size television screen.

Tiny specks of solder "on the loose" inside transistors are among the trouble-making flaws that have been detected with this system.

Belgian Theater Official Battling Copyright Laws

Huisman says that American and other foreign plays cannot be performed in French until after presentation in Paris and by French touring companies.

The director argues that the regulation is obsolete and delays local viewing of recent works by as much as 10 years.

Good Dress Believed Help For Classroom Attitudes

Many schools require uniforms as a standard of dress. Uniforms reduce differences between individuals and put all on a nearly even basis as far as appearance is concerned. They become an effective discipinary tool.

Administrators find that students have a different feeling about themselves when they are physically clean and when their clothes are clean. Students who are always clean and appropriately dressed are better equipped to enter all phases of school work. They are good school citizens.

Everyday school clothes are important. Behavior usually matches a student's dress. Extreme variations in dress may result in disciplinary problems, delinquency and school dropouts. A pattern of sloppy appearance and inattention to school work results in poor grades. Good study habits generally result when appearance in dress is upgraded.

SEE! PHONES FROM THE PAST
WIN! A LONG DISTANCE CALL

A TELEFAIR SHOW similar to the above will be part of Northgate Shopping Center's program this week when Pacific Telephone demonstrates its newest communication equipment. A historical phone exhibit, playbacks and free long distance calls for visitors will be featured, along with microwave and satellite devices. Telefair will be held tomorrow through Saturday.

Her Name Fits

Northgate Tent Show Due To Display Many Marvels

A carnival - atmosphere will prevail in the Northgate Shopping Center tomorrow through Saturday when Pacific Telephone unveils a huge tent show packed with unique displays of communications marvels of the past, present and future.

The name of the show is "Telefair," admission is free and all Marin County phone users are invited, according to Troy Lewis, Northern Marin telephone manager.

Telefair will be open during the normal hours of the shopping center. It debuts tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. and on Wednesday and Friday evenings it will remain open until 9:30 p.m. It will close at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday and Saturday.

Visitors will have an opportunity to be awarded a demonstration long distance call to any location in the continental United States, Alaska and Hawaii. Telephone company plant craftsmen will present a splicing demonstration on an actual section of cable. A demonstration will show viewers how calls are transmitted overseas by means of underseas cable.

Included in the exhibits is an array of historical phones dating back to Alexander Graham Bell's initial invention. Customers, themselves, will be able to operate modern-day telephones that will be on display.

In addition, visitors will be able to listen to how they sound on the telephone, and play Tic-Tac-Toe with a computerized telephone relay device that has never lost to a human opponent.

For the scientifically minded, demonstrations are scheduled to explain satellite communications, microwave, a sun-powered phone, and the laser-a device which someday may carry millions of telephone calls on a single beam of light.

Stolen Pillowcase Lasts Long Time

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A Nashville hotel has been congratulated on the "excellent" linens it uses. The words of gratitude came from a woman who should know — she's been using one of the pillow slips for 31 years.

"Thirty-one years ago my husband and I spent our wedding night in your hotel," she wrote anonymously from Memphis. "When we checked out, we inadvertently mixed one of your pillow cases with our luggage.

"The pillowcase has lasted," she said, through "three children and four grandchildren," but now is wearing out.

"If the lady had given her name and address I would have sent her a replacement," said manager Leon Womble.

Robber Pleads For Rifle Back

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) — Service station attendant Gilbert Spaulding was confronted recently by a man wielding a rifle and ordered to empty the till, police said.

Spaulding complied and the robber stuffed the loot in his pockets. But Spaulding managed to grab the rifle and took back the money.

The robber, police said, begged for his rifle to be returned. He told Spaulding he was broke. Spaulding bought the loaded rifle for $20.

Pupil Likes Snow Best To Play In

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP)—When the first snow of the season fell, Mrs. Steele Gregory took time to explain to her second grade class how snow is created.

"Let's forget about all that," said one impatient youngster. "Let's get out and play in it."

Cloud Seeding Pioneer Declares It's Time To Remodel Weather

By WILLIAM E. HOWARD
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Spacemen are getting ready to run up a $150 million phone bill.

This is the estimated cost, over the next three years, of keeping in touch with Apollo astronauts as they fly in earth orbit and eventually to the moon.

Congressional investigators are rather appalled for, it turns out, hidden in the phone bill is what amounts to a $40 million subsidy to the Communications Satellite Corp. (COMSAT).

There are indications that some very high level government manipulating was involved in this one—apparently in an attempt to keep COMSAT in business. The government-sponsored enterprise is not doing very well. Only 75 of 240 channels on its Early Bird Satellite which relays communications across the Atlantic, are leased and producing revenue.

Early Bird brought in only $3 million in 1965 and is expected to have only slightly more revenue this year.

The future didn't look much better, until the National Aeronautics and Space Administration suddenly decided in mid-1965 it needed communications satellites to improve voice contact with Apollo astronauts. The present Gemini global network was deemed insufficient for space medics to "recognize subtle changes in the astronauts' voice characteristics which are clues to their psychological and physical condition."

Investigators of a House government operations subcommittee, in a newly issued report, don't question the merits of this explanation. But they do wonder why NASA went to COMSAT when the government is stringing up—at a cost of $30 million—a military communications satellite network of its own which could have handled the Apollo job.

The only explanation that appears in the testimony taken is that the military network "could not meet NASA requirements."

Well informed officials, when asked about this, say that's a lot of nonsense. NASA never gave the people building the network—the Air Force—an opportunity to make necessary changes.

The subcommittee report says someone high in the administration worked out a policy saying the military network could be used only for purposes "unique" and "vital" to "national security" that could not be met by a commercial system.

"This policy is narrower than the law creating COMSAT," says the committee, indicating that it was invoked primarily as a legal out for NASA to buy commercial service.

The investigators also spelled out just what kind of a plum the $40 million will be to COMSAT. This money will pay for putting up 1,000-channel Early Bird-type satellites over the Pacific and Atlantic oceans. They will be owned by COMSAT and become the basis for its global system, which Congress specified must be in operation by 1967. The corporation was supposed to pay for these satellites out of $200 million raised in the sale of stock.

NASA for its $400 million will use just eight of the 1,000 channels. That's all it needs. The eight channels, moreover, will be operated full time only during flights for about four weeks out of every two months through the end of 1969—the lunar landing date.

The other channels — and NASA's when free—can be leased by COMSAT as it pleases commercially. Other government agencies using the channels will also have to pay regular rates.

What it all adds up to say investigators, is a free ride for COMSAT.

"If the objective is to get COMSAT going, then this is the way to do it," says one pained government official. "But as a taxpayer, I can't see it. A better system could have been devised that is cheaper and has lasting benefit to the nation."

Courtesy Makes Boatmen Naturally Friendly Lot

Boatmen are a naturally friendly lot.

They like to get together with other boatmen and swap information, yarns about boating adventures they have had and discuss almost anything pertaining to boats and boating.

The reason boatment get along so well is that, in general, boatmen are always courteous to other boatmen. Few skippers will knowingly do something delibertately to disturb the enjoyment of others.

In case you might not know all the little courtesies dictated by etiquette and custom, a few reminders are offered by the Evinrude News Service.

AVOID BEING a show-off, a nautical "hot-rodder." This type is never popular. Never run fast past a pier or float, close to a swimming area, an anchored boat or fishermen.

When anchoring leave enough space for the boat next to yours so that you don't foul each others' anchor line or bump against each other if the wind or tide changes.

When you are fishing in a channel, it is best not to anchor because you are blocking traffic. Also don't tie up to government buoys or local navigation markers except in emergencies.

Others may have need for space at a float or pier. Don't bar them by tying up your boat and then going off and leaving it. Unless you are invited to do so, it's not good manners to land at a private pier or float.

OBSERVE THE Golden Rule. Don't do things to other boatmen you wouldn't want them to do to you. Keep your refuse aboard your boat until you can dispose of it in a proper container. Don't litter the waterways. Don't be snoopy about the activities of others when you are aboard their boat. You wouldn't peer into their living room, so why their boat?

It's an unwritten law that all boatmen give assistance to other boatmen in distress. When you see a disabled boat, pull alongside and offer assistance. You would apreciate the same thing if you have trouble.

The boating society is one that cares not who you are but does care what you are and how you conduct yourself in the world of boats and boatmen. Be courteous and you will be welcome.

Supermarket Patron Proves Who He Is

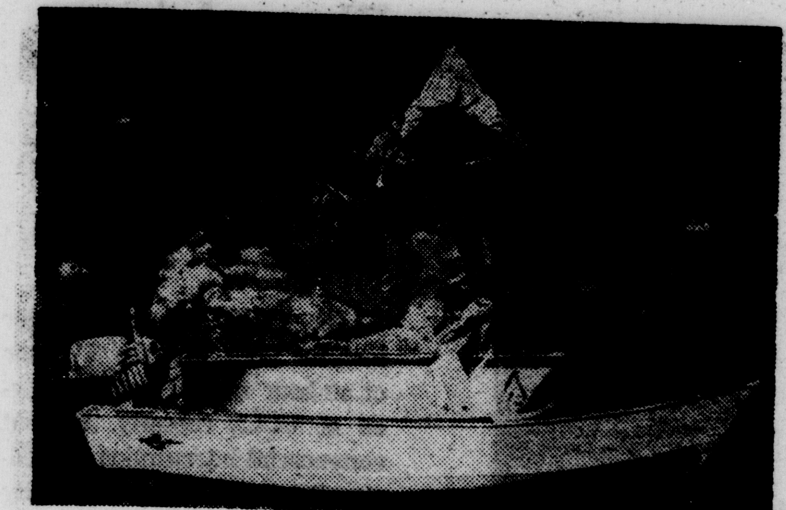
KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP) — Mrs. Margie Castle, cashier at a supermarket here, asked the stranger for identification when he wanted to cash a check.

He reached into his mouth and pulled out a denture, on which his name was branded. Mrs. Castle cashed the check.

Home Accidents Cost Over $1 Billion

NEW YORK (UPI) —Home accidents cost the American public well over $1 billion in lost wages, medical expenses and insurance overhead, in 1965, according to the National Safety Council.

More than twice the amount of disabling accidents occur in the supposed safety of the home than on the highway, according to first aid authorities, who suggest that a well-stocked first aid kit be readily available in every home.



LIGHTWEIGHT WATER CRAFT — This runabout suitable for camping trips will be on display at Northgate Shopping Center this week, where stores are featuring everything for vacation and travel. Camping equipment, once purchased, should last for years. New products stress weight saving and easily assembled devices.

Boat Camping Combines The Best In Outdoor Fun

Boat camping combines the best of two recreational worlds.

Behind the flashy rise of this hybrid outdoor sport are some substantial old-fashioned considerations. The first is economy: a family of four can go boat camping with a 14-foot aluminum craft, a fishing motor and $100 worth of camping equipment. And once the equipment has been purchased, it should last for years. Other reasons behind the phenomenal rise in boat camping are the development of a variety of lightweight new camping items, and the increase in waterside campgrounds.

Minimum camping requirements for a boat camping trip, according to outboard people, are one sleeping bag per camper, rope, a small axe, foul-weather clothing, cooking utensils and food. Admittedly this makes for a pretty Spartan affair, so you might want to add a portable cooler, a lantern or two, tent, grill, first aid kit and an insulated water jug. Of course, you also have to include essential clothing and toilet articles.

Boat camping can be as comfortable or as primitive as you want to make it, and individual preferences dictate how much gear you should take. You can get a lot of the new products into a small boat. For instance, a three-cubic-foot cooler may weigh no more than a couple of pounds and still preserve food for days.

DORSETT FARALON OFFSHORE

This is a 23 foot trailerable, blue-water, offshore fisherman—an ideal craft for skin diving, big game fishing and long-range cruising. A giant cockpit provides maneuverability for a crew of small fry and fishermen. There are two large bunks, marine toilet, ample storage and a molded Cuddy hatch with easy access to cabin or deck. Options include galley, bow and stern rails, convertible top, extra 40-gallon fuel system and engine hour meter. At Channel Boat Sales, San Rafael. Also on display this week in the Northgate mall.

No Limits In Sight For Summer Costumes

Vacation time is here and the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear offers some stylewise hints for rounding out leisure wardrobes.

Swimmers, for example, will want to replenish their beach or pool outfits with a liberal selection of swim trunks and/or mix'n'match sets of trunks and beach shirts. The choice is bigger than the number of sun-scorched bodies at Coney Island on a 90-plus Sunday. Models inspired by Oriental karate coats and trunks will rate the fashion splash they make against terry jackets and self-belted trim trunks, plaids and — newest of all — imaginative floral prints that have made their way from Hawaii into the hearts of surfers and sunners in the 49 other states.

Real sailors and fellows who just admire the salty look will go for the new deep-water inspired sailing jackets. Some are pull-overs while others have zipper fronts and they are embellished with competition stripes, draw-string closures at the neck and bottoms, stand-up or sailor collars, big, roomy, spill-proof pockets and some have convertible hoods, too.

Permanent-press finishes as well as soil- and stain-resistant finishes add to the attractiveness of the new sailing slacks and shorts. Add brushed denim to the new jackets and slacks to ward off the cold breezes on chilly days. And don't forget the updated boating shoes with dock-gripping soles. These come in lace and slip-on styles and can be had with either fabric or water-resistant leather uppers.

Real seamen appreciate the need for eye and head protection from sun, spray and salt. Hence the popularity of comfortable, close-fitting, long-billed, sailing caps. The underside of the visors areg reen for added eye comfort and the front of the cap is usually embellished with a yacht club emblem or the anchor device.

Dressy vacation occasions call for summer elegance. High on the list this summer are silk and silk-type suits. The silk suit makes the grade for dressy cocktail hours, dinners at the better restaurants and informal dances. The silk suit also goes to town and business dates.

Casual jackets and slacks include comfortable velours in models ranging from Western pullovers to cardigans and convertible turtlenecks.

Teaching Computer Is TV Star

LOS ANGELES—A computer in New York was the TV star of an hour special program given at UCLA recently. Without commercial interruption, closed-circuit television in a University of California Extension class offered a peek into the bright future of a computer as a teacher.

Presented as a demonstration in extension's new course, Computer Assisted Instruction (CAI), the "TV special" began when Carl Spring, a special representative of IBM, visited the class and telephoned Yorktown Heights near New York City and arranged for a computer to transmit digital information over normal telephone lines.

Standing by was a TV camera trained on the receiving console. In the classroom, before thirty students and guests, two television monitors offered a closer look at the "star."

What they saw was a teaching method which could free high school and college instructors from teaching routine portions of history, mathematics, grammar and other subjects.

CAI, a "tutorial" or "drill and recitation" method, is a learner-centered method which presents subject matter to a student in small steps, requiring frequent responses from him and immediately informing him of the correctness of his responses.

The student communicates with the computer on a time-shared basis by using a typewriter or other input-output device. The typewriter is his own "teaching machine" with which he interacts at his own rate of speed as he progresses through a course.

Acting as a student of American history, Spring responded to the computer's sample questions by giving vague or incorrect answers to demonstrate the computer's versatility:

Q. What did George Washington do in his childhood?

A. He felled a fruit tree.

Q. Incorrect. What kind of tree and what did he do to it?

A. He cut down a cherry tree.

Q. Correct.

Leonard Silvern, class instructor and a pioneer in CAI development, said that the primary deterrent to the immediate use of CAI may well be the cost of the input-output device through which the student communicates, rather than the cost of the computer itself.

Because CAI puts the teaching program in a central, fast-access computer, many students can communicate with the computer at the same time, learning different subjects.

Silvern said, "In a business environment a computer, because of its extremely high speed, can handle the educational program and simultaneously handle the payroll, accounting, inventory and other on-going activities.

Temporary Order On Development Refused By Wilson

Decision Precedes Full-Scale Trial On Legality Of Project

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court late yesterday refused to issue an order temporarily halting development of Marincello, prior to a full-scale trial on legality of the project.

The decision followed lengthy hearings on a suit by the City of Sausalito restraining the County of Marin from issuing building permits for Marincello.

In his written opinion, Judge Wilson said the issues involved whether the plaintiffs will ultimately win on the merits of their case, the extent to which such a success would be made meaningless if "status quo" in development was not maintained by a temporary injunction, and damages which the defendants—County of Marin and Frouge Corp.—will suffer if the development is halted but it is later determined that it should not have been.

The judge held that, even if a proposed access road and off-site work are now undertaken, he sees no irreparable harm to the plaintiffs. The land is private ownership, he said, and the plaintiffs have no right to prevent a change.

Judge Wilson said the developers could suffer loss amounting to several hundred thousand dollars if they were temporarily halted and it was later determined that a permanent injunction should not be issued.

He said need of the plaintiffs, including John P. and Constance L. Erickson, and Herbert and Frances M. Perkins, for a temporary injunction was based mainly on a "theoretical apprehension of what could happen rather than on the actual threat of immediate harm."

The plaintiffs contend that the controversial 2,100-acre tract among the Marin headlands was illegally rezoned by the county from residential-agricultural to planned community.

FBI Agent Killed In Kidnap Hunt

SHADE GAP, Pa. (UPI) — An FBI agent was shot and killed today by a sniper believed to be the "mysterious masked mountain man" who kidnaped a 17-year-old school girl. FBI agents and State Police surrounded the sniper's refuge.

A State Police officer said the missing girl was spotted with the sniper in an area known as Burnt Cabin in adjacent Fulton County, about 10 miles south of this tiny community in the rugged Tuscarora Mountains. The officer said the girl, Peggy Ann Bradnick, appeared unharmed.

County Budget Scrutiny Vowed

His recommended budget would require a tax rate of $2.39 per $100 assessed valuation. Rate this year was $2.185.

"I recommend that we barebone this budget to its essentials, but not at the expense of employees," Supervisor Peter H. Behr said. "I would like to see a cut of 15 to 20 cents in the tax rate."

The budget includes $650,000 for pay increases for employees, about 10 per cent of the current payroll.

Gemini Shot Delayed As Agena Disappears

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The launching of the Gemini 9 astronauts on a rendezvous and space-walk mission was postponed today for at least two weeks when their Agena target satellite failed to achieve orbit.

An Atlas rocket blazed away from Cape Kennedy at 8:15 a.m. (PDT) to propel the Agena into space. But eight minutes leter, mission director William C. Schneider reported:

"We have lost the Agena bird. We don't know exactly what happened to it. The Gemini will not fly today."

He then scrubbed the launch of Gemini 9 pilots Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan, who were to have spent three days in space practicing maneuvers essential to Apollo man-to-the-moon trips.

For Stafford, it was the second similar disappointment. He and Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. were in the Gemini 6 spacecraft last Oct. 25 and had their mission postponed when their Agena target satellite exploded six minutes after liftoff.

During their three days in space, they were to have practiced several rendezvous and docking techniques with the Agena, attempted space rescue missions, fired the Agena engines to change orbits, and Cernan was to have made a record 2-hour, 25-minute space walk.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said yesterday that if the Agena failed to achieve orbit, Stafford and Cernan would have to wait at least two weeks until an alternate satellite could be placed on the launch pad.

This satellite, called an alternate target docking adptor (ATDA) is not as sophisticated as the Agena. It has no propulsion system. It was built after the Gemini 6 failure for just such an emergency.

Federal Aide Calls Parley In Bus Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Commuters settled into emergency transportation means today while a new mediation effort to end the Western Greyhound Lines strike in 12 Western states was organized in Washington.

The strike by about 5,000 drivers and station clerks started at midnight Saturday. It idled 1,500 buses, including 365 commuter runs in the San Francisco area. About 110,000 daily riders in the 12 states had to find other transportation.

U.S. SUMMONS

Both the AFL-CIO Amalgamated Transit Union and Greyhound said negotiating represenatatives will be on hand in Washington tomorrow for new federal mediation talks. They were called personally by William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

"The continuation of the work stoppage is having a serious impact on communities involved as well as parties themselves," Simkin said in a telegraphed message to both sides.

San Francisco area commuters organized car pools and Southern Pacific added cars on its Peninsula train runs between San Jose and San Francisco.

A second boat was added on the ferry run between Tiburon, in Marin County north across the bay, and San Francisco.

FERRY USE UP

The 7 and 7:30 a.m. ferries carried a total of 366 passengers, up from 208 yesterday and tripple the normal average of 120.

Golden Gate Bridge tallied 7,200 more cars than normally, according to bridge district engineer Robert Davidson. The total crossings were 77,734 yesterday.

Greyhound estimated that it normally carries about 13,000 daily round trip commuters on runs across the Golden Gate and San Francisco-Oakland Bay

Westmore Pleads Insanity

Both Westmore's attorney, Richard Werthimer of San Francisco, and Assistant Dist. Atty. Leonard Shaw waived a jury trial. Court trial was shceduled before Judge Thomas F. Keating for June 27.

Shaw said the trial probably will take two days.

Westmore is accused of the shootings in his apartment at 1155 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, last Nov. 5. He was sent to Atascadero State Hospital last Nov. 23, then returned March 25 after being pronounced mentally able to stand trial.

Mafia Kingpin 'Joe Bananas' Turns Self In

JOSEPH BONANNO
Mafia lord surrenders

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mafia leader Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno, object of a world-wide search since he was "kidnaped" 19 months ago, surrendered to federal authorities today to face charges in a sealed indictment.

The 57-year-old chief of a New York-Long Island Cosa Nostra family looked fit and little changed when he gave himself up at the office of U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau. He disappeared in New York Oct. 21, 1964, in the company of two gunmen on the eve of his sccheduled appearance before a rackets grand jury.

It was believed Bonanno decided to come out of hiding to end pressure on his family, Cosa Nostra associates and friends who have been summoned repeatedly before the federal grand jury which has been investigating his disappearance. One of the chief witnesses has been the mobster's eldest son, Salvatore Bonanno of Tucson, Ariz.

The son was believed to have tried to salvage his father's empire from a rival Cosa Nostra family headed by Gaspare (Little Gaspar) Digregorio, whom authorities suspected of engineering Bonanno's kidnaping—if it actually was a kidnaping. Salvatore Bonanno narrowly escaped death last Jan. 28 in a wild underworld gun battle in Brooklyn.

Bonanno was taken immediately after his surrender to the courtroom of Judge Marvin Frankel to answer to an indictment handed down more than a year ago, presumably for obstruction of justice. Dapperly dressed in a gray suit and hat and wearing dark glasses, the Mafia chief smiled affably as he shook hands with reporters.

"How do you feel, Joe?" he was asked.

"Well, under the circumstances as well as could be expected," he replied.

"Joe, were you really kidnaped? It wasn't phony?" came the $64 question.

"I got nothing to say . . ." Bonanno answered.

More than 100 FBI men and scores of interpol agents, in addition to local police, have been involved in the search for Bonanno. His trail led authorities as far afield as Tunis, Rome, Palermo, Montreal and Mexico City without success.

Ky Alerts Troops In Treason Charge

SAIGON (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military government alerted troops of its elite 7th Infantry Division today to stand by in case of Buddhist rioting in Saigon. Two battalions —about 1,000 men — were reported moving in from the south.

The Buddhist hierarchy hurled charges of treason and murder against the regime. Monks in Saigon's main pagoda said they planned to start a 48-hour hunger strike Thursday. In the northern provinces, others said they would give their lives if necessary to force the government to end its crackdown on that part of the country.

As the junta faced the political peril of a new round of fiery suicides by monks, dissident troops of the army's 1st Corps also kept up their resistance to the government.

A soldier in Hue fired two pistol shots at a U.S. helicopter carrying the new Vietnamese commander of the 1st Corps, Maj. Gen. Huynh Van Cao, and the U.S. Marine chief of staff in Viet Nam, Brig. Gen. Jonas M. Platt, on a mission to win over dissident officers of the Vietnamese 1st Army Division.

No one aboard the helicopter was hurt, but a gunner returned the fire and killed the soldier.

While the Hue radio continued its antigovernment broadcasts, only an occasional shot was

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. air cavalrymen hurled heavy reinforcements against a force of 350 or more North Vietnamese regulars in the central highlands today and reported the Communists were on the run.

Helicopters airlifted three battalions of cavalry reinforcements to the battle scene 15 miles west of An Khe and 250 miles northeast of Saigon.

The U.S. command in Saigon said 28 Communist troops were killed in the opening six-hour fight yesterday, but a division officer at the scene estimated total enemy dead at 85.

American casualties were listed as moderate.

In the fighting northwest of Qui Nhon, about 150 American air cavalrymen took on what was thought to be a North Vietnamese platoon yesterday afternoon.

A U.S. spokesman said the Communists were well camouflaged and dug-in, and probably equipped with Soviet 120mm mortars, the largest type used by the Communists which the Soviets have supplied only in recent months.

The U.S. command listed these results for the 1st Infantry Division's Operation Birmingham which began April 24 and ended today:

Five Suspects Indicted In Painter Union Case

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Grand Jury indicted five men last night in the slaying of Dow Wilson as police said they linked his assassination to the killing of still another labor leader.

It was in his bar, police alleged, that the five men occasionally met and one time plotted to kill the bearded union leader.

Wilson, 40—a fiery-tongued, AFL-CIO Painters Union leader — was shot down April 5 on a San Francisco street. Lloyd Green, 45, Painters Union local financial secretary in Hayward, was cut down by a shotgun blast May 7.

Both had questioned the handling of a welfare fund for Painters Union local 478 in Sacramento.

Murder and conspiracy to commit murder indictments were returned against Max Ward, 47, painting contractor at Carmichael, near Sacramento; Norman Call, 46, Sacramento painting contractor; Carl M. Black, 47, Oakland accountant; Richard Rock, and Clyde Simmonds, 75, Sacramento contractors' association official.

Ward and Call were employer-trustees for the $500,000 welfare fund and Black its auditor.

San Rafael Council Ready To Try Exclusive Garbage Service Pact

The San Rafael City Council last night informally agreed to give Marin Sanitary Service the exclusive right to collect garbage in the city.

The city's charter gives the council power to grant franchises in the city, "provided that no exclusive franchise shall ever be granted."

City Atty. David Menary Jr. said today the garbage company will get a "contract," not a franchise"—but it will be exclusive. Action on the agreement was put over until June 6, so minor changes could be worked out.

The contract would be for 10 years, with an option to renew for 15 years. The garbage company would pay the city $250 a month for five years and an additional $100 a month for every five-year period after that.

Attorney Albert Bianchi, speaking for the company, said the firm would not raise rates for three years. The city has the right to review and fix rates and to cut off the contract if the company fails to perform as required.

The difference between a franchise and a contract, Menary said today, was settled by the State District Court of Appeals in a case involving Vallejo.

What was called a franchise had been given to one company to collect garbage, but another

Red-Hater Held After Killing

DETROIT (AP) — A former taxicab driver who police said vowed to "start shooting Communists" two months ago was in custody today after the fatal shooting of a member of the leftist Socialist Workers party in downtown Detroit.

Waniolek

Two college students described as members of the Young Socialist alliance were also shot yesterday in the party's office here, one of them critically wounded.

Police jailed Edward Waniolek, 40, Detroit, and said they would seek a murder warrant against him.

Waniolek was seized four hours after the slaying of Leo Bernard, 28, and wounding of Jan Edward Garrett, 22, and Walter Graham, 19, all of Detroit. He surrendered meekly in a library.

Third Party Seen For South

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A militant civil rights worker who organized Alabama's all-Negro Black Panther political party has taken over as chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Carmichael

He is Stokley Carmichael, 24, of New York who said the organization planned to "intensify its efforts in the area of independent politics.

"For Negroes to join the Democratic party in Alabama is the equivalent of Jews joining the Nazi party," Carmichael said recently.

Some observers regarded Carmichael's election as a move by SNCC toward third-party politics for Southern Negroes.

Carmichael, a Howard University graduate and one of the original Freedom Riders who protested segregation on interstate transportation facilities, replaced John Lewis, 25, SNCC chairman since 1962.

New Senator Flays Viet Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Robert P. Griffin, sworn in yesterday as the nation's newest senator, voted moments later, and made his first anti-Viet Nam war statement even before the oath.

Appearing on television, Griffin charged the U.S. was subsidizing war profiteers in South Viet Nam who get great windfalls from re-selling aid goods. The Michigan Republican just returned from five days in Viet Nam.

The statement came shortly before he was sworn in to replace Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., who died April 30. He was a five-term congressman and named to the Senate by Michigan's GOP Gov. George Romney.

A. F., Army Tell Worry Over Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force says it will be unable to meet any emergencies outside Viet Nam under its proposed budget for fiscal 1967. And the Army says it may not have enough funds to carry out its operations the rest of this fiscal year.

Both services aired their money complaints to House subcommittees two months ago. Their testimony was released separately today.

Maj. Gen. Durward L. Crow, comptroller of the Air Force, told the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee March 16 that budget cuts imposed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the Bureau of the Budget will permit 100 per cent performance in Viet Nam, but not much elsewhere.

The general also said the cuts would mean the reduction of the airborne alert, which keeps a number of B-52s aloft carrying nuclear weapons at all times.

Among the items cut over the Air Force's protest, Crow said, was the airborne alert.

On the Army side of the ledger, Maj. Gen. B.F. Taylor, director of the Army's budget, told a House Appropriations subcommittee he did not think both the regular and supplemental 1966 appropriations of more than $4.5 billion would be enough to carry Army operation and maintenance until June 30, the end of the 1966 fiscal year.

'Political' Teacher Tossed Out

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Betty Meeker, a sixth grade teacher charged with commenting on political philosophies in class, will not be returning to Murphy Ranch Elementary School next fall.

The East Whittier School Board, which heard the charges against Mrs. Meeker, 41, fired her yesterday. She had taught two years in the district and fails by one year to attain tenure. Her $6,800 salary will end after spring semester.

Mrs. Meeker said after her 13-day hearing: "I plan to continue planting seeds of Americanism in any ground placed before me."

Parents testified that Mrs. Meeker remarked to her class that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is a Socialist, that Negroes are inferior and that Dr. Martin Luther King is a Communist.

She also was charged with being reluctant to teach her students "new math" and with leaving her students unsupervised in the classroom and on the playground.

Wolden Says His Home Not A Gift

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Returning from the hospital to his bribery trial, San Francisco Assessor Russell Wolden contends his luxury apartment, which the prosecution claims was a gift and a bribe, was no bargain.

The trial resumed yesterday after a week's recess during which Wolden was treated for a bronchial infection. Wolden took the stand for the seventh day to answer cross examination by Francis W. Mayer, chief assistant district attorney.

One of the 11 counts of the indictment against Wolden charges Wolden was given $38,500 worth of shares in the cooperative apartment at 2100 Pacific Ave., where he lives.

When asked about the transaction, Wolden said the deal was not unusual. He said he had assumed a $35,000 mortgage and his share of the maintenance costs for the building.

"Luxury apartments were a drug on the market at that time," Wolden added. "I could have done much better."

Wolden was also questioned about campaign contributions he received from James R. Arditto, a Los Angeles lawyer who represents the Regal Pale Brewing Co.

Mayer said Regal Pale Brewing Co. started contributing from $1,000 to $2,000 a year to Wolden's campaign fund in 1963, a year after Wolden's office had penalized the company for failing to report property in 1962.

"Wasn't it that in 1962 Regal Pale made no campaign contribution?" asked Mayer.

"That's very insulting, Mr. Mayer, and you know it isn't true. At no time was there any suggestion that if a taxpayer made a campaign contribution he would get different treatment," Wolden answered.

At one point, when spectators laughed at Wolden's testimony, Superior Court Judge Lewis Drucker of Los Angeles halted the questioning. He said he would permit no further outbursts.

Drucker, a retired judge, became trial judge when the jurists in San Francisco's Superior Court disqualified themselves.

Hope Dims For Election Of Bosch

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Former President Juan Bosch is reported planning to pull out of the presidential election contest because of new violence against members of his Dominican Revolutionary party — PRD.

Authoritative sources said Bosch also is asking the PRD, which he founded, to withdraw from the campaign. Election day is June 1.

Bosch has been regarded as the leading presidential candidate, mainly because his party has been rated the largest political force in the Dominican Republic since Bosch's sweeping victory in the 1962 election.

Republicans Dispute Goldwater Prediction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leading Republican senators disputed today Barry Goldwater's contention that the 1968 GOP convention will be as conservative as the one which nominated him for president in 1964.

"Some of the same faces will be back — but not with the same minds," said Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, former GOP national chairman.

Scott aid in an interview that when Republicans assemble again, they will be bidding for power, not arguing ideology. And he said that means the party's professionals will line up with the front unner.

Another former Republican chairman, Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky said conservatives will be in the majority in 1968 — but he said they will represent "a moderate type of conservatism."

Morton said a more extreme conservatism prevailed in 1964. "Next time," he said, "I think we'll have a sort of balance, to the right of center."

Morton said that is what Goldwater was forecasting when he said Sunday on the CBS television-radio program "Face the Nation" that makeup of the 1968 convention would be no different than that of 1964.

Even a Goldwater ally, Arizona Sen. Paul J. Fannin, said he doubts the 1968 convention will be a copy of the last one.

"I think it will probably be a more balanced convention," he said in a separate interview.

Morton, Scott and other Republicans indicated the 1968 convention could be similar in pattern to that of 1952, when former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio battled for the nomination.

"That was a power struggle," said an official at the Republican National Committee. "It wasn't ideology."

Meredith Enters Political Arena

NEW YORK (AP) — James H. Meredith, the first known Negro to break the color barrier at the University of Mississippi, has tossed his hat into New York City's political arena.

Meredith said last night he plans to run in Harlem as an insurgent Democratic candidate seeking a seat as a delegate at next April's state constitutional convention.

Meredith, 33, now a student at Columbia University's Law School, will be one of three candidates running against a slate backed by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell.

East San Rafael Plan Approved By Council

The San Rafael City Council last night adopted a plan for East San Rafael which includes a four-lane shoreline boulevard along the east border of the existing levee.

There were some questions but no strong objection as Planning Consultant Daniel P. Coleman, who prepared the plan, presented it at the council's second public hearing.

The plan covers the area from Kerner Boulevard eastward to the levee, but does not include tidelands east of the levee.

Coleman said the landscaped shoreline boulevard would be a scenic road and "would give a new entrance to San Rafael."

The proposed boulevard would run from Highway 17 near the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge to Paganini Point, with a bridge crossing San Rafael Canal.

Coleman's plan also calls for a road from the Highway 101 interchange in Greenbrae across the Hutchinson quarry and over Highway 17 to the new residential area and the shoreline boulevard.

Included in the plan are an industrial sector along Highway 17, about 750 apartment units and 250 single family homes, a regional park in the Paganini Point area, yacht harbor and commercial recreation area opposite Paganin Point, and a greenbelt along the easement for high voltage lines as a buffer between industrial and residential areas.

One resident, who property is zoned commercial, objected because it is shown as multiple residential in the plan, and a boat yard owner wanted assurance that the bridge across the canal would be high enough for boat traffic.

Coleman said the proposed bridge would provide ample clearance because it will be "only a half bridge" with the San Pedro Point end on high ground.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

1. Authorized Councilman Louis H. Baar to proceed with arrangements to have San Rafael become a sister city with Saint-Raphael, France, under a program which would involve cultural exchanges and activities by citizens of both cities.
2. Awarded Maggiora and Ghilotti Inc. of Corte Madera, lowest of six bidders, a contract for storm drainage improvements on Fourth Street at A Street and Lootens Place at $13,178.
3. Awarded M. K. McLellan Co. of San Anselmo a contract for a drainage correction project on Magnolia and Palm avenues at $15,275, with the Dominican Convent to pay half.
4. Postponed action on hiring a consutlant to revise the city zoning ordinance. Mayor C. Paul Bettini appointed councilmen Baar and Harry A. Barbier to meet with representatives of two firms seeking the appointment.
5. Granted Robert L. Thompson an extension until June 6 to clear wrecked cars from his lot at 51 Jordan Street, and authorized City Atty. David Menary Jr. to file court action against Thompson for violating the zoning ordinance if he does not comply.
6. Authorized a quit claim deed giving Anna Jordan a portion of city property at San Pedro and Mooring roads in return for a portion needed for widening of San Pedro Road.
7. Postponed pending review, approval of specifications for landscaping at the new city hall.
8. Directed City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen to ask State Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley to push the city's request for freeway connections to two streets, Francisco Boulevard West and Irwin Street, south of the Highway 101 viaduct.
9. Received a request from San Rafael City Schools to adopt an ordinance requiring large developers to provide land for schools at cost, and a report from Menary that this provision is in his draft of a subdivision ordinance.
10. Set for hearing June 6 rezoning of Lynn Court Highlands at the end of Lynn Court off Irwin Street from single family residential to planned community district.
11. Set for hearing June 6 zoning of Quail Hill west of the Northgate Shopping Center, now unclassified, as planned community district.
12. Set for hearing June 6 an appeal by R. E. Bohanna of Marin Neon Co., San Rafael, of planning commission denial of signs at McPhail's Appliances, 917 C Street, and Pearson Yacht Sales, 557 Francisco Boulevard.
13. Set for June 6 hearing on a proposed zoning ordinance amendment that would eliminate requirement for excavation permits when no dirt is taken on or off the site.
14. Authorized Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles to hire more laborers until June 30.
15. Referred to the public works department a letter from Laurel Dell Parent-Teacher Assn, requesting a pedestrian overpass or underpass from the Bret Harte area to the area of the Montecito Shopping Center for high school students.
16. Authorized Rawles to attend the Western Pubilc Works Conference in Portland, Ore., June 12-14.
17. Agreed to consider taking steps to halt merchants from sweeping sidewalk debris into the street. Councilman Fred E. Jensen said merchants sweep debris into gutters which have just been swept by the city street sweeper.
18. Postponed until June 6 action on appeal of Eugene Aureguy and Harold G. Mackenzie of conditions imposed by the planning commission on a permit for a shopping center along the Highway 101 frontage road, southeast of the Terra Linda interchange.
19. Sent a letter to Arthur W. Fiedler, who resigned May 4 as chairman of the city parks and recreation commission, commending him for his service.
20. Authorized removal of four-way stop signs at Vistawood Way and Ridgewood Drive after protests from residents and a report from Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa that the traffic flow along Ridgewood is moderate.

Tiki Carver West's Wife Asks Divorce

Sausalito tiki carver Barney West, owner of "Tiki Junction", is accused of beating his wife Shirley, 33, in a divorce suit filed in Marin Superior Court.

Mrs. West is suing her husband of six years for divorce, charging cruelty. She asks community property including a share of their home at 160 Summit Drive, Corte Madera, a $4,-500 sailboat, three vehicles and the shop in Sausalito. She also asks custody of the two children, 5, and 3, years old, and support for them and herself.

Judge Harold J. Haley yesterday issued a temporary order restraining West from harrassing Mrs. West. He scheduled a hearing at 2 p.m. on May 25 for the wood carver to show why he should not pay temporary support and be further enjoined from bothering his wife.

Council Shuns Marin Park Bonds Stand

San Rafael city councilmen said last night it is not their role to endorse Marin County's proposed $4.3 million park bond issue on the June 7 ballot.

Councilman Charles W. Aby said he favored the bond issue, but "there are people we represent who may be against the bond issue and it's not our business to tell them how to vote."

Councilman Louis H. Baar said, "Let the people decide."

Councilman Harry A. Barbier said he was "for the park bonds," but that as a policy the council doesn't take a stand on issues before the voters.

The council received a recommendation from the city parks and recreation commission that it endorse the bond issue.

Commission Chairman Charles Tacchi said passage of the bond issue would enable the city to achieve many of its aims in recreation. If the bonds passed, San Rafael would receive $511,738.

Woman Proposed To Union's Board

COMBINED AP & UP

LONG BEACH — An ex-school teacher who once dreamed nightmares after working on an auto assembly line was the principle choice today to become the first woman member of the United Auto Workers International Executive Board.

She is Olga M. Madar, 51 today, chosen by the powerful Walter Reuther caucus last night to be its nominee for a new board position it is recommending to the UAW's 20th Constitutional Convention.

Reuther explained yesterday to newsmen his reasons for supporting a woman board member. Union locals have long had women officials. "Women have had to fight prejudice," he said.

Reuther, in his opening address to the delegates yesterday, said:

"We do not intend to sign a basic agreement (in 1967 contract talks) unless it contains a guaranteed annual salary." He called hourtly wages "historically obsolete, economically unsound and morally indefensible."

He also said he would ask the convention to pass a resolution seeking a negotiated settlement of the Viet Nam conflict, saying "there is no military solution to a problem which is primarily social, political and economic in nature."

Reuther said that in connection with the drive for a guaranteed annual wage the industry "may need time to make some emotional adjustments."

Earlier, Gov. Edmund G. Brown told the delegates that the economic and social gains of the Kennedy-Johnson administrations were being threatened by "the hot flames of a new McCarthyism."

He said the 1966 election campaign had "an old familiar ring—the ring of 1946, when a Republican landslide ushered in a new era of repression and recession.

It was in 1946, Brown said, that Richard M. Nixon went to congress "in a campaign of smear and innuendo." It was also in 1946, he said, that Joseph McCarthy went to Washington. And it was the same year that swept in votes for the Taft-Hartley bill.

Brown accused Republican gubernatorial candidate Ronald Reagan of "marching up and down California describing unemployment insurance as a 'prepaid vacation plan for freeloaders.' "

County Planners Run Into Questions On Tract Parks

The Marin County Planning Commission was unable to untie a tough knot yesterday in the proposed subdivision ordinance amendment that would require developers to dedicate land for parks.

Who would be responsible for development and maintenance of the dedicated lands? That was the problem.

Under the proposal, a developer with a residential tract of 100 or more lots would be required to dedicate park sites, while those with smaller tracts would be reqiured to put up an in lieu fee.

Also up in the air was how big the sites should be. Commissioners agreed that relating park site size strictly to the number of lots would not be a good standard.

The commission agreed to discuss the proposal again July 11.

To Speak On Parks

County Recreation Director Pierre Joske will speak about "Ideas on Parks and Recreation" at a meeting of the Marin Conservation Council at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Marin Rod and Gun Club.

Radio Equipment Gone From Plane Cockpit

Harold W. Michaelis of 126 Grande Vista, Novato, reported to the Marin County Sheriff's Office at 12:45 p.m. Sunday that radio equipment valued at $1,500 had been stolen from the cockpit of a plane at the Marin County Airport near Novato.

Michaelis said that he and Jay Alexander of 14 Gardner Drive, Novato, were partners in ownership of the plane.

Human Rights Group Streamlined By Board

The Marin County Human Rights Commission will have five new members and retain four of its old members in a reorganization completed today by county supervisors.

The reorganization reduced membership from 22 to nine.

New appointees were Troy Lewis, manager of the San Rafael office of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.; San Rafael attorney Bella H. Aaron; William Moon, an executive of First of California Mortgage Co.; Donald J. O'Leary, a self-employed marketing consultant, and Richard Harding, soils engineer.

Appointments were made by secret ballot of the supervisors after 21 names were put on a board, including seven members of the former commission.

Joyce Gross complained to supervisors that few were aware of the appointment procedure, it not being known that supervisors wanted applicants to seek interviews prior to today.

heard in Da Nang, 50 miles to the south, where 2,500 Vietnamese marines and paratroops sent north by Ky Sunday tried to extend their hold on the main northern troublespot.

Government marines moved toward east Da Nang but withdrew when they ran into strong rebel forces. The marines controlled most of the city, but anti government forces moved into a third Buddhist pagoda and blocked traffic in the area. The two pagodas they already held were being used as rallying points.

The five northern provinces under the jurisdiction of the army's 1st Corps have been in almost an open state of rebellion since Ky fired his rival, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, as corps commander and virtual northern overlord on March 10. The second of Thi's successors, Lt. Gen. Ton That Dinh, was removed on Sunday after he appeared to side with the northern Buddhist-led "struggle movement" in a broadcast from Hue.

The junta announced in Saigon that both men would be given new assignments, but did not say when or where. The government also disclosed that an armed forces congress on Sunday issued instructions to all four corps commanders to preserve public security and order "so as to create an atmosphere favorable to preparations for the forthcoming election of a constituent assembly."

He said state police were "slowly and methodically" surrounding the Burnt Cabin area. Most were armed with machine guns and other heavy weapons.

The region where the abductor and his hostage were spotted was described as extremely rugged mountain country which abounds in big game .

Fairfax Ponders Federal Funds

Fairfax will explore the possibility of getting a federal grant to revitalize the city's downtown area, according to City Mgr. David J. Sumbardo.

No decision has been made, but two city councilmen, a planning commissioner, and a park and recreation commissioner and members of the citizens' general plan committee agreed that the possibility of federal funds should be explored, Sumbardo said.

City officials and members of the citizens' committee met last Tuesday to view a film on the work of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Field, color consultants, who assisted in the repainting of store fronts in downtown Tiburon in 1954, he reported. They also discussed possible revitalization of the downtown area of Fairfax, Sumbardo said.

Woman Treated In Pill Overdose

Mrs. Jeanne J. Zent, 36, of 1145 Elm Drive, Apt. 7, Novato, was reported in satisfactory condition yesterday in Ross General Hospital, suffering from an overdose of pills taken Saturday night.

Her estranged husband, Richard Eugene Zent, 38, of 1336 Cambridge Street, Novato, and a neighbor, Mrs. Dorothy Ann Marquardt of 1145 Elm Drive, Apt. 4, called police.

bridges and on its Peninsula routes.

The shift of many of these commuters to cars choked already congested highway routes. Orinda and Lafayette drivers said the trip into San Francisco took 25 minutes longer than normal. Waldo Grade north of the Golden Gate Bridge was jammed.

All bargaining offers by both management and union were withdrawn when the strike began.

The company said it had offered a wage package amounting to a 4 and one-half to 4 per cent increase each year in a two-year contract. It said a major issue is a union demand for pension plan boosts.

The union said wages under the expired contract averaged about $8,000 a year with driver pay ranging from $25 to $50 a day depending on run mileage and hours.

Couple On Motorcycle Hurt On Highway 1

A Sacramento motorcyclist and his wife suffered minor injuries when they were thrown from their motorcycle as it went off a sharp curve on Shoreline Highway, about a half-mile south of Bolinas Road, at 5:45 p.m. Saturday.

The driver, Donald D. Monkerud, 21, suffered cuts and bruises and possible concussion. Mrs. Monkerud, 21, suffered multiple body bruises. Both were treated at Marin General Hospital.

Motorcyclist Injured Near Stinson Beach

Cartridge Explodes

Lester B. Young, 24, of 70 Elm Avenue, San Anselmo, was taking apart a blank cartridge in his basement Sunday afternoon when it exploded, cutting his right hand, police reported. Young was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Flames Sweep Big Houseboat In Sausalito

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom estimated $17,000 damage to the houseboat and personal property in the three apartments.

The boat belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Atley B. Carlough, who were aboard with their four-month-old daughter, Mitzi, when the fire broke out at 9 a.m.

Chief Bloom said it began in the apartment of the Phil De Gregories, who were at work in San Francisco. The fire must have raged undetected for some time, the chief said, before it burst through the walls and into the Carloughs' kitchen, where they were sitting.

Fire also broke into the adjacent apartment on the other side of the De Gregories. Its tenants, Mary Jane Bishop and Deanna Bush, were away.

Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Two units from the Sausalito Fire Department and three county units fought the fire for an hour before getting it under control. Mopping up continued throughout the afternoon.

Several nearby houseboats were imperilled but saved by wetting down.

company operated just outside the city, until Vallejo annexed some land. The judge decided that franchise applied to public utilities, and that garbage collection was not a public utility.

Therefore, he reasoned, Vallejo had never granted a franchise at all. Instead, there had been a contract between the city and the company.

Menary said a contract is granted under the city's police powers, while a franchise is given under specific franchise powers.

He acknowledged that other cities in Marin, which do not have charters, routinely grant franchise for garbage collection, but said he doubted they really were franchises, if they ever came to a court test.

Ash Tray Throwing Brings Assault Charge

Mrs. Frederick J. Nadeau, 56, of 45 Bridge Road, Black Point, a counselor at Marin County Juvenile Hall, was booked at the Marin County Jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon Saturday afternoon on a citizen's arrest by her husband.

Nadeau reported that his wife threw an ash tray at him, which struck him on the forearm, causing a three-inch cut. He was treated at Novato General Hospital. Mrs. Nadeau was released under $275 bail and scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court for arraignment this afternoon.

Man Charged With Resisting Officer

Jerry Lee Page, 21, of 175 Drake Avenue, Marin City, was charged with resisting an officer and driving without a driver's license in his possession, near the Oak Tree Tavern, Manzanita, at 2:32 a.m. Saturday.

Sheriff's Deputy Richard Keaton reported Page cursed at deputies and pushed him after they stopped a car to check for a person sought by San Francisco police on traffic warrants. Page was booked in Marin County jail under $550 bail.

Two Hurt In Accident

Hans W. Schneider, 28, and Louetta Worley, 52, both of 15 Morningside Drive, San Anselmo, claimed pains in their necks after their car, driven by Schenider, was struck from behind by one driven by Robert L. Sisler of 212 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo, on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Bella Vista Avenue at 5:55 p.m. Sunday, police said. They told police they would see their own doctors.

Council Settles Trike Problem

One day last week a 3-year-old boy's tricycle rolled into the street and was swept away by a city street sweeping machine in San Rafael.

The boy's mother, Mrs. John McGlynn of 5 Hazel Court, wrote to the San Rafael City Council to see if the city would replace the tricycle.

Last night the council rejected the claim, but agreed that if there is an unclaimed tricycle in the police department's lost and found storage, it should be sent to the boy.

Tiburon Gets Chance At Railroad's Land

Reversionary rights on 7,200 feet of railroad right of way have been offered to the City of Tiburon for $50,000, county Supervisor Peter H. Behr said today.

The supervisors said the property, held by Northwestern Pacific Railroad with reversionary rights held by Francis Newton and Associates, would be ideal for a bicycle path, foot path and possibly a bridle path. The property is 50 to 60 feet wide and runs from Trestle Glen Boulevard to a point about 100 feet beyond San Rafael Avenue and Tiburon Boulevard.

Woman Arraigned On Motorcycle Charge

Susan Jane Bilderback, 27, of 338 Bolinas Road, Fairfax, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday in a felony charge of embezzling and stealing a motorcycle. She is to plead at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Miss Bilderback is accused of keeping a motorcycle which was leased from Howard Motors Inc., San Rafael, beyond the five days agreed upon in a contract.

Vandals Create Mess In Schools

Vandals created a major mess and minor damage during the weekend at Terra Linda and San Rafael high schools, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

At Terra Linda, eggs were splattered over walls and floor in the food laboratory. In the library, two reference books worth $64 were torn up staples driven into the floor and a desk, a pencil sharpener emptied on the floor, and papers scattered about.

At San Rafael, 20 pounds of hamburger were taken from the kitchen and smeared about the hall outside Room 55. A glass pane was broken in the kitchen door.

Fire's Victims Need Garments

The John Nelson family, whose Fallon home was destroyed by fire May 10, badly needs clothing and furniture, the Marin chapter of the American Red Cross announced today.

Mrs. Royal Jimerson, Red Cross ditsirct chairman for the Point Reyes Station area, said clothes are needed for Nelson, his wife, Ethel, and their children, Mary, 14, and Philip, 11.

Anyone wishing to help may call the Red Cross at 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, Mrs. Jimerson said.

Food Service Worker Captures Nomination

Viola Andersen, San Rafael High School cafeteria supervisor, has been nominated for the "Food Service Employee of the Year" state award to be given at the annual conference of the California School Employees Assn., in San Francisco in August.

The San Rafael chapter of the association will honor the supervisor at its meeting May 26 at the city schools administration building.

Motorcyclist Seriously Hurt

Christopher Hackney, 18, of Stinson Beach was injured when his motorcycle collieded headon with a car on Shoreline Highway, two miles south of Stinson Beach, at 5:30 p.m. yesterday.

He was reported in good condition today with a broken right knee in Marin General Hospital. The California Highway Patrol reported Hackney was thrown from his motorcycle when it crossed the road and ran into a car driven by Donna Jo Ann Wallace, 28, of Vacaville. Hackney was cited for driving on the wrong side of the road.

OBITUARIES

Kathryn McLean Rites Set

Requiem Mass for novelist Kathryn Forbes McLean, mother of Richard E. McLean of San Rafael, will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Cathrine's Church in Burlingame.

Mrs. McLean, known professionally as Kathryn Forbes, died Sunday at Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco, after a four-year battle with emphysema. She was 58, and made her home in Burlingame.

A Rosary for Mrs. McLean will be offered at 8 p.m. today at the chapel of Crosby-N. Gray, 2 Park Road, Burlingame. Burial will be in Holy Cemetery, Colma.

Mrs. McLean's novel "Mama's Bank Account" about her Norwegian immigrant grandmother and her mother became an all-time best seller, and was turned into the play, "I Remember Mama," then a movie, then a television series.

She is survived by two sons, Robert M. McLean of Carmichael and Richard E. McLean of San Rafael, a brother Ellis Anderson of Portland, Ore., and six grandchildren.

FRANK D. STAATS

Funeral for Frank D. Staats of Mill Valley, a retired Merchant Marine mate, will be held at 1:30 p.m., tomorrow at Russell and Gooch mortuary, Mill Valley.

Staats, 59, died Saturday at a local hospital, having been ill for about two and one-half years.

Graveside services will be held at 2:45 p.m. at Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

A native of Philadelphia, Staats was in the Merchant Marine since a young man, first sailing out of eastern ports and, in recent years, sailing out of San Francisco. He retired three years ago.

Staats lived 26 years in California and 17 in Marin County, last residing at 520 Shoreline Highway.

He is survived by his wife, Rosa L. Staats; a daughter, Christine Staats of Mill Valley, and one sister and four brothers.

He was a member of Masters Mates and Pilots Union Local 90, San Francisco.

The family requests that tributes be contributions to the American Cancer Society.

LE ROY SWANGO

Le Roy Bruce Swango, 49, a Marin County general contractor for about 10 years, was found dead at his home Sunday afternoon by his wife.

Dr. Thomas W. Stone pronounced Swango dead. An autopsy is pending at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

Sheriff's deputies reported Swango's estranged wife, Janice W. Swango, had not seen him since Thursday night.

Swango, who had been under doctor's care for the last six months, was a native of Oregon and had resided in Marin since 1945, last living at 13 Rhonda Way.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters, Rhonda and Debra, and two sons, Michael and James Swango, all of Mill Valley; his mother, Mrs. C. B. Swango of Eugene, Ore.; a sister, Mrs. V. K. Jones of Portland, Ore., and a brother, C. W. Swango of Eugene.

There will be no funeral. Burial will be private.

Valley Residents Quiz Five County Officials

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

More than 100 San Geronimo Valley residents last night had an opportunity to fire questions at five visiting experts in law, local government, law enforcement, and property assessment.

The fact few such questions were asked was a tribute to the ability of the guests to speak long and to divert any verbal thrusts from the audience as soon as they came their way.

In answer to one question, Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court gave a 15-minute breakdown of a court's role in a democracy, ending with the admonition no criticism should be aimed at so-called "lenient sentences" unless people take the trouble to attend court sessions to "see how justice works."

Residents concerned about rising property assessments came ready to ask County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel why, but were told that it was not his fault if building and land values were increasing.

"We as assessors are not concerned with setting the tax rate," he said. "That is for the governing boards elected by the people they serve."

Others who spoke at the meeting, sponsored by the San Geronimo Valley Assn., were Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, Sheriff's Inspector A. V. Menjou, and County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer.

It was Broemmel who got the brunt of the questions. In turn he asked a few of his own.

"Your property value is going to go up and up in the long range so what is the answer?" he asked. "One answer is that we must watch expenditure programs."

He said that adding to the difficulty is the fact Marin County has 117 different taxation jurisdictions and 77 governing boards who work out how the money is to be spent.

Broemmel contended that under present arrangements, assessing property at its present fair market value seemed the only sure way to equalize the tax burden, although there were loopholes even in this system.

After making study surveys of 24,000 properties in San Geronimo Valley, Stinson Beach and in parts of Fairfax, Larkspur and San Rafael, there had been several cases where the assessments had come out "on the conservative side," he said.

"We found that in some cases where sales have taken place, the figures realized were lower than the amount assessed for the property." This discrepancy, however, represented only a minute percentage of the overall property, he contended.

Asked why the "sudden jerk" in assessment figures over the past year, the assessor said his office has had to work slowly over the past five years because of the need to train more staff.

Supervisor Storer drew approval when he declared, "The property tax is inequitable." He contended the state income tax should be used to carry the financing of schools and the like.

Explaining the criminal procedures in the county, District Attorney Bales said: "Crime is on the increase in the county as it is elsewhere. Sixty per cent of the crime today is committed by people under 18 years of age, and they are not dealt with by my office."

Inspector Menjou told the audience police protection for the San Geronimo Valley consisted of five sheriff's deputies and one sergeant "on duty 24 hours a day."

Four-County Education Talks Slated

A four-county "North Bay Supplementary Education Center" will be discussed at a meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Marin County schools office in Corte Madera, to which leaders of more than 200 cultural and education groups have been invited.

The meeting will start 14 months of study of "unmet student needs" of Marin, Napa, Sonoma and Solano counties, according to County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

The center is proposed as one of 19 in California which would develop new educational programs. The U.S. Office of Education has granted $133,000 for planning the project.

Committees to start the study will be organize at the Monday meeting, and goals will be discussed, Hollis said.

Due Degrees

Patricia Louise Shelton of San Rafael and Robert Henry Lampee Jr., of Tiburon will receive bachelor of arts degrees from the University of Texas at the June 4 commencement.

Muir Woods Zone Ruling Set July 11

After a hearing before 70 persons that continued over two hours yesterday, the Marin County Plannig Commission put off any decision on Muir Woods Park rezoning until July 11.

The crowd before the commission seemed split, with about half backing the request of the Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. for a change of zone to require larger lots.

Zoning now allows 6,000-square foot lots in the area generally bounded by Panoramic Highway and Mill Valley City Limits, and 10,000 square foot lots in surrounding areas, the association wanted this raised to 10,000 and 20,000 square feet, respectively.

Mrs. John Fisher-Smith told the commission the association wanted the change to assure orderly growth, saying that the future of the area "has suddenly jumped on our backs."

Frances E. Bitz, however, presented a petition from 149 who were opposed. He and many others said the change would take away rights of owners, by reducing the number of lots that could be developed.

Commissioners agreed to inspect Muir Woods Park on June 6. They also asked the planning staff to develop more information of sewage disposal, streets and fire protection, and study the possibility of increasing the lot minimum from 6,000 to 7,500 rather than to 10,000 square feet.

Girl, Passengers Injured In Ride Home From Beach

A 19-year-old El Cerrito girl and her three 15-year-old boy passengers suffered cuts and bruises when her car went over an enmbankment on Shoreline Highway a mile west of Dias Road about 5 p.m. Sunday.

Miss Righter told Officer Wesley E. Taylor of the California Highway Patrol that her car went off the road as she was passing another car on a curve. She said she had picked the boys up on the way back from Stinson Beach.

Taylor cited her for having open beer cans in her car and for driving at unsafe speed.

Tomales Will Try New Way Of Teaching English

A pilot program in a new method of teaching English will be started next Monday at Tomales School, following approval by the school's trustees last night.

The county superintendent's office will supervise the program, which will convert English teaching to a new method called the "linguistic" method. The brief try-out before the end of this school year will serve as a model on which a handbook will be prepared for introducing the system in any other Marin schools that want it, said Lawrence Lindberg, director of instruction for the county superintendent's office.

Tomales Bay School District trustees also:

1. Agreed to take the 21 pupils of American Valley School District in Sonoma county next school year at tuition not to exceed $400 per student. American Valley District will be annexed to the Tomales District on July 1, 1967.

2. Set an election on leveling bonds of Tomales Bay, Bloomfield and American Valley districts for Nov. 4. Bloomfield will annex to the Tomales district on July 1. It and the American Valley District have no bonded indebtedness. Tomales Elementary District has $83,000, according to Mrs. Lois Parks, board clerk.

3. Heard a request from a group from Bloomfield that the playground at Bloomfield School be made a community playground if a community service district is formed. The board delayed action on the request pending the official annexation of the district in July.

4. Approved a recommendation by Principal David Raffo that all students be tested each year in reading, mathematics and language, with maturity tests given every second year.

5. Set 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. May 23 for registration of kindergarten children, and next year's kindergarten class for afternoons at the Tomales School. This will enable the children to go home by bus. This is the first time the district has offered kindergarten classes.

6. Raised the pay for substitute teachers from $20 to $25 per day.

8. Set eighth grade graduation for June 14 at Tomales High school.

Open Space Fund Asked By Novato

An application for a federal open space grant to acquire half an acre at Novato for a park will be before the executive committee of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments at its meeting Thursday in Berkeley.

The application is for acquisition only of the land for Arroyo Auichi Park, south of the county's flood control channel at the end of Taft Court.

Total cost of the acquisition would be $22,000 of which half would be provided by grant. The executive committee will be asked to pass the application to the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Corte Madera Zones For Motors Agency

Corte Madera Town Council, over the objections of some non-constituents, last night voted to rezone three acres at Conow Street and Casa Buena Drive to allow construction of a Chrysler Motors Corp. agency there.

Auto agency representatives urged rezoning of the land from administrative professional to highway commercial, saying the new and used car sales would broaden the city's tax base. They were supported by the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce.

Opposition came from the Meadowsweet Improvement Assn., most of whose members live in an unincorporated area just outside town boundaries and have resisted suggestions they annex to the town.

John Brady, president of the association, told councilmen streets in the area were built for residential use and could not stand the strain of another auto agency. Neighboring apartment houses, he said, "would lose tenants and ultimately become slums."

Richard Von Borstal, who owns the Marin Royal Apartments on Meadowsweet Drive said "We should not be subjected to the rear end of an auto agency."

Other objectors suggested the agency would be a hazard to 175 children walking to school through the area and that lights from the car lot would disturb the residential community.

"I find myself completely unsympathetic to your objections," said Councilman Charles F. Pendleton. "Many of you live in the county. In spite of our repeated efforts to bring you into the town, you have held back.

Councilmen voted 4-to-1 to introduce the ordinance rezoninz the property. Harold B. Wagstaff dissented, saying preliminary designs of the building "do not reflect the image of Chrysler."

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

1. Introduced an ordinance amendment lowering the speed limit on Corte Madera Avenue from 25 to 20 miles per hour.

2. Ordered removal of a stop sign from a highway exit at Fifer and Nellen avenues, placing stop signs on Nellen, and banning parking on Tamalpais Drive from Madera Boulevard to the highway.

3. Declared a half-ton truck surplus for auction by the county June 18.

4. As requested by the League of California Cities, adopted a resolution opposing a post office requirement that new subdivisions provide rural mail boxes for curbside delivery. "There is an incompatibility between beautification efforts and old rural mailboxes," said Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher.

5. Declared May 16 through 31 as town cleanup time in prelude to the 50th anniversary celebration June 10, 11 and 12.

6. Approved plans for construction of two picnic areas in the town park at cost of about $2,400.

7. Approved final map for Acacia Park, three-lot subdivision at Baltimore and Palm Avenues.

8. Set for June 6 public hearing on Humble Oil Co.'s appeal of planning commission requirement for a rear entrance to a service station planned for Nellen and Fifer avenues.

9. Set May 23 for budget hearing concerning general government, public works and park and recreation, and June 27 for budget hearing on police and fire departments.

Blade Pierced Heart Of Quentin Felon

One of the home-made blades used to stab San Quentin inmate John Carl Salvestro yesterday pierced his heart. Doctors worked on the convicted sex pervert for several hours repairing the hole, and today his condition was termed "as good as can be expected."

Prison officials were continuing their investigation into the stabbing, which happened yesterday morning in the laundry.

More than 60 prisoners have been questioned, said associate Warden J.W.L. Park, "but we have no suspect yet."

Salvestro, one-time fire eater in carnivals, was stabbed six times in the chest, stomach, hip, wrist and the back of his neck, and his forehead was split open.

Guards found a prison-made knife and a sharpened piece of rod which they believe were the weapons used.

Napa Escapee Surrenders Self

An escapee from Napa State Hospital, Blaine J. Walters, 19, of 345 Drake Avenue, Marin City, was in Marin County Jail today after surrendering himself to a California Youth Authority parfole officer. He was booked for escape.

Walters, serving time for car tampering, was transferred from the jail to the hospital on Jan. 14 for psychiatric observation. He was missing from the institution Jan. 17. Officers said he reportedly has been living around Marin City since that time.

Walters also faces a five-month jail term for assault in the county jail last Jan. 4 on James John McSlhinney, 43.

City, County Bickering Over Buried Utilities

The San Rafael City Council last night approved plans for the first phase widening of San Pedro Road, but held fast against undergrounding utilities unless the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. bears the cost.

County Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, hearing of the council's action at the board of supervisors meeting today, said it was clearly the city's responsibility for "defacing" the project.

The county wants power lines underground along the entire project, but the city has opted for "streamlining," using a single row of metal poles.

Last night, Councilman Louis H. Baar said he was tired of caustic statements about the project from supervisors, especially Leydecker and Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

He said undergrounding for the entire project would cost "another half million dollars," and added the supervisors would check into the costs "before bleating about being tax savers."

At last night's meeting, County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost and County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney appeared for the county. "We are not asking you to support underground utilities, but asking you not to prevent it," Maloney said.

The councilmen said an agreement would be a precedent for the rest of the project, to the end of the San Pedro Peninsula.

Today, County Administrator Alan Bruce, noting next year's proposed budget contains $250,000 for the county share of the next phase of the five-year project said the county contribution could be "considerable leverage" in dealing with the city.

Plans are to call for bids on the road widening next Tuesday and award a contract about three weeks later, Frost said last night. He said an impasse over undergrounding may upset the schedule.

Housewife Summons Police While Break-In Going On

A Mill Valley housewife telephoned police shortly before noon yesterday that burglars were trying to enter her house.

Her action led to arrest of two 18-year-old Marin City men, Larry Walker of 31 Cole Drive and William Lloyd Bland of 99 Cole Drive.

The men, both with previous arrest records, were booked in county jail on charges of suspicion of burglary and conspiracy.

Police said they found what appeared to be marijuana seeds and marijuana ground leaves in a brown paper bag on the ground outside the men's orange station wagon. The bag was believed to have been tossed out prior to the arrest.

Mrs. Frances M. Staub, 45, said she was watching television at about 11:42 a.m. when she heard a car door slam outside.

She looked out her bedroom window and saw two men walking toward her front door. She locked the door. Then she said she heard the door bell ring twice, then someone knocking.

Then, she said, she heard a man's voice inside her house, telling her barking poodle to "be quiet," and "take it easy."

She was on the phone by then, talking to police.

Patrolman Robert V. Kinney arrived just as Walker and Bland started to drive away. He forced their car to a stop in front of 28 Glenn Drive.

Investigation showed the house had been entered, the stereo-radio console moved off its base and carried to the front door, and one speaker cabinet had been moved to the center of the room. Wiring had been ripped from wall outlets.

Mrs. Staub said the same two men had come to her house last Monday morning and asked her daughter, "is Bobby at home?" That same day, a burglary was reported at the home of Robert Moore next door at 28 Glen Drive, in which a stereo radio was taken.

Police said Walker was already facing charges of robbery and vehicle theft, and Bland, a charge of possession of stolen property.

Murder Trial Jury Panel Still Not Set

Selection of a jury in the murder trial of Jack R. Gorman and Marc Charels Osuna went into its second day today with questioning of the fifth prospective juror in Marin Superior Court.

Four panels of 60 persons each will be called. Chosen will be 12 jurors and two alternative jurors. Defense attorneys will have 20 joint peremptory challenges of jurors, and an additional five for each of the two suspects.

The prosecution will have a total of 30 challenges.

Gorman, 36, and Osuna, 30, are accused of the Labor Day shooting death of bartender Mario Ferrari at Mission Inn in San Rafael. Trial is before Judge Thomas F. Keating and is expected to last about five weeks.

The suspects are in San Quentin Prison as parole violators.

$111,000 Jump For Hub Schools

Supt. Stephen Parodi of San Anselmo School District will hand district trustees a preliminary budget request of $1,399,057 for fiscal 1967 when they meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the faculty room at Isabel Cook School.

The budget is $111,226.45 higher than this year's budget of $1,287,830.55.

The superintendent said this year's total district tax rate of $2.95 per $100 assessed valuation could rise or fall, according to state-set loan repayment rates.

Sleepy Hollow Fire Contract Talk Slated

San Anselmo City Council will meet with directors of the Sleepy Hollow Fire District at 8 p.m. today in City Hall to discuss renewal of the 10-year contract under which the city has provided fire protection to the unincorporated area.

The first contract was signed in 1956 and expires next month. Also scheduled for discussion is the fire protection budget proposed for next year.

Flood Control Cost Criticized In Mill Valley

The Mill Valley City Council agreed last night that the city should either have a program within the County Flood Control District No. 3 which will give the city its money's worth, or should pull out.

Decision came after it was reported that the city, to date, has contributed $250,000 to the district but realized only about $80,000 in return.

PROGRAM ASKED

"I think we should come up with a program, see how much it will cost and present it to the county," said Councilman Rodric L. Robinson. "Then we should say, 'is Mill Valley going to get its dollars out of what we put in?' If we're not, forget it. I don't want to be left holding the proverbial empty sack."

Mayor Albert E. White said immediately. "I think this is the intent."

Mayor White asked that the June 6 agenda carry the question of whether the district's proposal to put about $50,000 into a Marincello access road is "using public funds for private development."

A proposed new sign ordinance, which would require changes in 53 non-conforming signs, was discussed, then postponed.

ONE-WAY STREET

The council discussed for an hour pros and cons of making Woodbine Drive a one-way street, then continued the subject until such time as people along Woodbine give their feelings as to a one-way street and proposed assessment district.

Mayor White said the printed letter, with postage, would cost about $150 for mailing to all households.

Robinson said he felt the whole council should see it before it is mailed "to determine who is propagandizing what."

The Mill Valley City Council also:

1. Set for tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in city hall the first fiscal 1967 budget hearing.
2. Directed City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to prepare a lease to permit Paul B. Fischer and Associates to develop the city's small craft harbor, the method of bonding to be outlined when lease is prepared.
3. Introduced an ordinance rezoning land of Gerald Kott at East Blithedale Avenue and Forrest Street from professional-administrative to general commercial and duplex.
4. Set for June 6 discussion of a proposed assessment district for a "Blithedale Park" in the William S. Allen development, and the same date to give property owners a chance to object to weed abatement orders.
5. Asked Jordan to give an opinion in writing on whether personnel hiring should be administered by the library board or city manager.
6. Introduced an ordinance making barbed wire and electrified fences illegal.
7. Introduced an ordinace requiring business trucks to carry signs on exterior in letters not less than five inches tall giving business name, address and telephone.
8. Heard from City Manager Bert Balmer that a survey has shown there are 185 duplexes which have no business licenses.
9. Continued to June 6 a change in swimming pool ordinance requiring fences, now three and one-half feet high, to be six feet. Councilman Michael Wornum, who owns a pool, was absent.
10. Introduced an ordinance requiring that street frontage improvements be applied for at time a building permit is secured.
11. Set for 8 p.m., June 8, a meeting with Mill Valley School District trustees.

Hamilton Airman Hurt In Auto Wreck

A/1c Charles S. Williams, who lives in the barracks at Hamilton Air Force Base, was in satisfactory condition today in Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco with head and chest injuries suffered about 4 a.m. Saturday when his car hit a steel pole at the intersection of Highways 37 and 121 in Sonoma County.

The California Highway Patrol in Santa Rosa, reported Williams apparently fell asleep at the wheel. He was given emergency treatment at Sonoma Valley Hospital, transferred to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital, and then to Letterman.

Mill Valley Sets Up Art Purchase Board

Mill Valley Mayor Albert E. White last night created an art board, believed to be the city's first, which is to recommend works of art to be acquired by the city.

The board is "to promote and encourage various kinds of art," said White, and can be formalized into a city commission later, if deemed desirable.

The city council approved White's proposal of a board of four, three of whom he said would be active members, one acting as advisor. They are: Donn Emmons, architect; Mrs. Ann O'Hanlon, artist and art teacher at San Francisco State College; Don Dudley, director for an advertising art company, as active members, and Mrs. Roger Kent, a member of the San Francisco State College Art Commission as advisor.

The Mayor said the board would be asked to select art for the new library as well as for other city buildings and might encourage the city's relationship with groups such as the Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival.

White reappointed four members to the board of appeals: James Tawns, Jesper C. Strandgaard, Fred Bitgood, and Jack Brabo, and appointed Robert McCreadie to replace Albert Bianchi, who is moving to San Rafael.

San Francisco Thief Escapes Hospital

Dennis F. Laflamme, 19-year-old San Francisco youth transferred from Marin County Jail to Napa State Hospital on April 29 for observation of possible suicidal tendencies, has escaped the hospital.

Laflamme had pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to car theft and burglary. Sentencing originally was scheduled today.

San Rafael Picks Senior Citizen

The San Rafael City Council last night nominated Mrs. Eleanor G. Murray of 1018 Grand Avenue, a member of the city library board since 1934, for the Marin County 1966" "Senior Citizen of the Year" award.

Mrs. Murray, former dean of girls at San Rafael High School, also is a former president of the Retired Teachers Assn. of Marin County.

The Senior Citizen of the year will be announced at Hamilton Air Force Base on May 26. The award is sponsored by the Senior Citizens Coordinating Council.

Legislature Remains A Tangled Session

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Senate and Assembly leaders went to their balky colleagues today and tried to persuade them to settle a two-house feud over a legislative pay raise and constitutional revision.

Other issues in the drawn-out session remained tangled in a maze of election-year politics and hard feelings.

Signs of the growing unhappiness over the continuing stalemate were evident yesterday when backers of Gov. Brown's anti-drunken driving bill brushed aside the opposition of the chairman and won Assembly Ways and Means Committee approval of an amendment designed to speed the measure to final passage.

But a meeting of legislative leaders produced some optimistic talk.

Senate President Pro tem Hugh Burns, D-Fresno, said that both sides had agreed to find out how far senators and assemblymen are willing to go to compromise their differences over revising the constitution and boosting legislative pay.

Assemblymen, so far, have said they will stand firm on their demands for modernizing the legislative, executive and judicial sections of the state's bulky and lengthy constitution. Their amendment, already approved by the house, would permit lawmakers to set their own pay and set up annual legislative sessions.

They've also sent to the Senate a bill boosting salaries from $6,000 to $18,000 a year—to take effect only if the constitutional amendment is adopted by the people.

The Senate struck out most of the provisions of the constitutional revision, keeping the pay raise and the annual sessions.

Meanwhile, the Senate gave final approval to a measure that would make constitutional revision No. 1 on the November ballot—if it ever gets that far.

Both Burns and Mulford said they thought lawmakers will insist on staying in session until their business is finished, rather than recessing for the June 7 primary election and then coming back.

The Assembly, meanwhile, held another session without acting on any Senate-passed bills—including the bookkeeping change the governor needs to balance his budget.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

Senate and Assembly leaders try to persuade their colleagues to compromise on thorny issue of revising State Constitution and increasing legislative pay.

Final legislative approval is given to bill putting hallucinatory drugs such as LSD under state control with criminal penalties for illegal trade.

Hearings continue on tough anti-drunk driver bill. One Assembly committee undercuts another's work by eliminating a provision establishing set levels to determine intoxication.

Senate committee remains reluctant under heavy pressure to approve major reform of local property tax assessing practices.

THE GOVERNOR

Bills signed:

Health — Provides for licensing by state of home health agencies, and allows approved agencies to participate under Medicare; AB 132, Rumford, D-

Judges — Raises number of superior court judges in San Francisco from 22 to 24; SB 33, Oakland.

McAteer, D-San Francisco.

THE ASSEMBLY

Resolution adopted:

Highways — Asks study of inclusion of federal Forest Highway 100 over Sierra in state highway system; ACR 44, Zenovich, D-Fresno.

THE SENATE

Concurred in assembly amendments:

LSD — Curbs use of hallucination-causing drug LSD and prescribes misdemeanor and felony penalties for its possession, use, manufacture, transportation and sale; SB 6, Grunsky, R-Watsonville.

Bill passed:

Revision — Provides that constitution revision amendment, if adopted by legislature, would be No. 1 item on proposition list in November general election; AB 167, Mills, D-San Diego.

Resolutions adopted:

Russian — Requests Congress, State Department and Department of Interior to take necessary action to protect marine resources off California coast and to monitor activity of Russian fishing vessels in area; AJR 19, Davis.

Farms — Directs Department of Education to study and report to legislature in 1969 on education of children of migratory farm workers; ACR 30, Pattee, R-Salinas.

The Black Hills of South Dakota are not really black. They just seem that way because of the deep green made by pine and spruce trees growing on them.

BIT OF A STICKY WICKET

When the Edward R. Barcewski family of 148 Golden Hind Passage, Corte Madera, went to bed Sunday, they could not find Tina, their 11-year-old German shepherd. Neighbors found her yesterday, up to her chops in the low-tide mud of San Clemente Creek, with the tide coming in. The more they tugged, the more she sank until a Humane Society worker used a stick connected to a rope around the dog's neck. Russell Kruse of 163 Golden Hinde Passage boosted her with another stick from behind.

(Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)

FREE AT LAST—The double-stick method worked and Tina soon held this soggy reunion with Barcewski outside the family home.

Tamalpais High School District trustees last night adopted a teacher-proposed four and one-half per cent pay raise and advised teachers to study and agree on a system of merit pay.

Trustees did not have to vote on a proposed new series of salary steps which would have paid teachers with 25 years experience $20,000 a year. The Tamalpais District Teachers' Assn. salary committee withdrew that request.

Motion to adopt the new salary schedule, which will cost the district $206,726 more per year, was passed by 4-0 vote, with Dr. J. M. Stubblebine abstaining to dramatize his belief that a merit pay system is needed.

Such a system, he said, "is long overdue. In deciding what salary a teacher should get, we have to consider his teaching, first, last and always. It's vital to determine such a system of merit and maybe we should do away with this damn lock-step system altogether."

Other board members agreed that a system of merit pay is needed. Marietta Larson said "The difficulty with the present salary schedule is that ability is not reflected."

Last night's action raised the teacher pay range from $5,950-$12,150 to $6,185-$12,700. In a separate motion, trustees agreed to give incoming teachers up to six years instead of five years credit for experience in other districts.

Trustees also granted non-teaching employees their requested $25 per month pay raise. The average increase is five per cent, according to Supt. Chester G. Carlisle. Cost of the raise to the district is $32,100 a year, he said.

Hobbs Selected For Black Point

Other new officers, chosen last week, are: Riley Wingate, vice president; Mrs. Daryl Lawhern, treasurer; Mrs. Franklin Miller, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Craig Corwin, recording secretary.

Individual Marin winners at the field day included Kim Marks, Rosemari Brush, Nancy Metzker, Lisa Murphy, Pam Tryggestad, Susan Henry, Susan Hensley, Glenn Parks, Mary Davidson, Richard Tuck, Dianne Thorsson, and Eric Angress, all taking first place awards.

Second place awards were won by Linda Elkin, Joan Eischen, and Connie Connell. Third place winners were Marian Baccaglio and Marianne Camous.

Driver Injured As Car Leaves Road

Craig Quentin Alger, 21, of San Francisco suffered minor cuts to his left arm when his car ran off San Marin Drive 227 feet west of San Mateo Drive, and into some brush and trees, at 12:50 a.m. Sunday.

He was to see his own doctor for treatment, Novato police reported.

Hamilton Prepares For Annual Show

An assault landing characteristic of the war in Viet Nam will highlight Armed Forces Day Saturday, when thousands of visitors are expected at Hamilton Air Force Base.

A C-123 Provider of the 4650th Combat Support Squadron will stage a short-strip landing and takeoff. Capt. Rex Haggard, a veteran of many support operations of this type, will bring the plane down at a steep descent, giving the appearance that he will crash it.

After it lands, it applies a reverse-thrust, cutting its landing roll to a minimum. It will unload 10,000 pounds of fuel oil very quickly and then make a short-strip takeoff, again with maximum power and climb.

Speed is essential in such an operation, particularly in Viet Nam because many of the fields used are under enemy fire.

For many of the men at Hamilton, Armed Forces Day will start Thursday when they take a minature show to children at San Francisco's Shriners' Hospital.

Capt. McIlhaney R. Kendrick III of Novato is in charge of a special program for the hospital, complete to a concert by the Fourth Air Force Band and model airplane flying competition.

On Saturday another highlight will be parachute jumps by the "Green Berets" of Detachment 2, Company A, 12th Special Forces, from the Presidio of San Francisco. They will perform once in the morning and once in the afternoon.

Displays of aircraft will be in Hangers 5 and 7 on the base.

Complete program for the day follows:

10 a.m., prayer by chaplain. 10:05, four F-101s take off. 10:10, C-123 takeoff. 10:30, "Green Berets" jump. 11:20, band concert. 12:10 p.m., mod 1 aircraft areobatics. 1 p.m., Four F-101s take off. 1:10, "Green Berts" jump. 1:50, model aircraft aerobatics. 2:30, model aircraft races.

Cemetery Cleanup Plan Given

Richard F. Wood, candidate for coroner, today urged that juveniles arrested for narcotics offenses be put to work cleaning the cemetery at the county farm on Lucas Valley Road.

County supervisors generally thought the work programs for all juvenile offenders might be a good idea and referred the suggestion to Walter Busher, head of the county probation department.

Wood, whose presentation was filmed by television station KGO-TV, was not successful, however, in getting supervisors to change its agenda so the TV cameras could pick up his further comments.

This was a discussion of markers for graves of indigents, which County Administrator Alan Bruce has said is the responsibility of the county social service (welfare) department.

The discussion was slated for 11:45 a.m. and supervisors refused to change the time. The television men went away and Wood sat down and waited.

Coin Machines Pried By Thieves

Larkspur police reported a washing machine in the Bon Air Apartments at 210 Lower Via Casitas was pried open and $20 in quarters taken. A hair dryer and washing machine at 320 Via Casitas were also jimmied, they said.

Tiburon Plan Board Seats New Members

The Tiburon Planning Commission last night seated three new members and appointed two standing committees.

Seated wert John G. McChesney, John J. Berryman and Alton S. Lee, who were appointed last week by the city council. Erik Rettig was named vice-chairman.

Chairman Stephen H. Nash, reported the commission established a design committee composed of Peter MacGowan, Rettig and Lee, and a committee on use permits and adjustments of Joseph C. Marshall, McChesney and Berryman. Nash said the commission is awaiting city council action to make the committees into permanent boards.

The Tiburon Planning Commission also:

1. Continued to May 31 at 8 p.m. in Del Mar School a public hearing on the Callister and Payne downtown plan. About 53 persons attended last night to comment on the plan, which features a "port of call" small yacht harbor.

2. Asked applicant Rawson to redesign development plans for a 5.3-acre Tiburon plaza commercial project on Tiburon Boulevard at Mar West Street.

3. Referred to the design committee the tentative map of Heath Land Co.'s 41-acre 62-lot El Marinero subdivision near Ridge Road.

Hamilton Dancer Is Tops In Air Force

A/1C Robert Landin of Hamilton Air Force Base won second place in the dance solo category at the Air Force's "world wide" talent contest at Westover Air Force Base, Mass.

Airman Landin, 22, who lives in the barracks, placed first in the Fourth Air Force contest at Hamilton and in the Air Defense Command contest at Selfridge Air Force Base, Mich.

DEADLINE SET ON APPLYING FOR BALLOTS

Application for absentee ballots for the June 7 primary in Marin County may be made to the county clerk's office at the San Rafael courthouse until 5 p.m. next Tuesday, according to County Clerk George H. Gnoss.

The ballots are for voters who will be absent from their precinct on election day or unable to go to the polls. Applications may be made in person or by writing the county clerk.

Novatan Pleads Guilty To Charge

Jerry Marvin Sager, 31, of Novato pleaded guilty to second degree burglary yesterday in Sonoma County Superior Court in Santa Rosa. He was referred to the county probation department, and sentencing set for May 31.

Sager had earlier pleaded innocent to a charge of armed robbery of a Petaluma gas station, in which a masked man with a hand in his pocket stole $200. Yesterday he pleaded guilty to the second degree burglary, which is unarmed.

He was arrested in Novato, March 24 in a car which fitted the description of that used by the bandit. He lives at 7350 Redwood Highway, Apt. 5.

PIED PIPER NEEDED

Ross School Board Worries About Rats

If there's a Pied Piper in the audience, would he please stand up? Ross School District needs his services immediately.

Rats are threatening to invade the Ross School from Corte Madera Creek nearby, the district's board of trustees was told last night.

Children and teachers have seen the rats in the creek, and the rats have already invaded the school garbage cans. So far they haven't entered the school.

The board instructed Supt. Robert Gowan to seek county officials' aid in exterminating the vermin.

Gowan's contract as superintendent for three years was approved. He will receive $13,500 per year, with one month paid vacation.

The district's tentative budget, $373,701 for the 1966-67 school year, was reviewed, and the superintendent directed to establish priorities so the board may eventually reduce the total.

The Ross School Board also:

1. Heard curriculum programs presented by teachers Gloria Iwanicki, Mrs. Nancy Snyder and Mrs. Norma Bergeron.

2. Granted a sabbatical leave for next school year to Mrs. Ede Alessio, fourth grade teacher, to travel in the Far East.

3. Hired Mrs. Judith Troy and Miss Sue Wilsey as longterm substitutes for the balance of the school year, to teach sixth and fifth grades.

4. Accepted the resignation of Ralph Kremoian, vice principal, "due to unforeseen personal obligations."

5. Denied a request for inter-district transfer of a pupil from Kentfield to Ross. The board made the denial after long discussion, trustees saying they felt granting the request would set a precedent.

6. Expressed commendation to Lionel Stott for his work in producing and directing the recent Parent-Teacher Assn. show, "Here We Go Again."

Frozen Steaks Taken From Marin Carport

Eugene Snyder of 280 Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley, reported to police Sunday that someone broke open a locked food freezer and stole $500 in food, including 400 pounds of meat, mainly steaks.

Entry was made by springing the door on the freezer at the rear of Snyder's carport in a tool shed. Also taken were two cans of paint, valued at $5.

Pro-Park Bond Banner Brings Foe's Demand

Equal banner space on the streets of Mill Valley was asked last night by City Councilman George E. Wickam to erect a sign asking a "no" vote on the proposed $4.3 million county park bond issue.

This came following a request by Jerome C. Hauke, city parks and recreation commission chairman, for council permission to put up a banner favoring across East Blithedale Avenue.

"If we're going to have a sign like that, let's have one on Miller Avenue, 'vote no on bonds,' " countered Wickham, who was lone dissenter in the May 2 council vote to support the bond issue.

Mayor Albert E. White retorted that the council, as a group, has gone on record favoring the bond issue.

The council left the decision of Hauke's proposed banner up to City Mgr. Bert Balmer.

Turkey has resisted Russian encroachment 13 times in the last 400 years.

Leo Durocher says:
"LOOKING FOR A BUSINESS?
Call Bob Morgan Collect"

Leo says, "When it comes to your future, you don't want tips about what to do. You want facts. And Bob Morgan can give you all the facts on AAMCO — one of the world's most profitable franchises. AAMCO is the world's largest network of automatic transmission specialists — with more than 200 successful franchised dealers from coast to coast. Get with a winning team. Call Bob Morgan, today."

Part of that winning team is Leo, himself. On radio, TV and in newspapers, Leo is selling for AAMCO dealers coast to coast — part of the consistent, hard-hitting advertising and promotional support that is writing the AAMCO dealer success story. And what a story it is. Most dealers find that net profits start the first week . . . average annual gross of all transmission centers is $110,000, while the best centers gross over $250,000, making possible personal incomes of up to $50,000 per year.

If you can meet our requirements . . . if you can manage a modest investment of $12,500 to $23,000 (depending on territory) . . . have the drive and desire to own your own successful business . . . and can participate in our management training program . . . WE will train you thoroughly in the most advanced management and merchandising techniques . . . and back you all the way with continuous help and supervision that helps you sell — and keep on selling. BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN ORDINANCE NO. 1518

AN ORDINANCE OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, AMENDING SECTION 19.04.030 OF THE MARIN COUNTY CODE TO PROVIDE SPECIAL QUALIFICATIONS OF APPLICANTS FOR SWIMMING POOL ELECTRICAL INSTALLATION PERMITS.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. Section 19.04.030 of the Marin County Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

19.04.030. Building permit for electrical work required. No person, firm, or corporation shall do any writing or install any fixed electrical equipment without first obtaining a permit for said work from the building inspection department of the county, except as provided in Section 19.04.645 hereof. Furthermore, no such permit shall be issued to any person to do, or cause to be done, any work pertaining to electrical installations of swimming pools except to a person holding a valid, unexpired, Electrical Contractors' License (C-10) or a valid unexpired Swimming Pool Contractors' License (C-53), issued by the Contractors State License Board of the State of California. Performance of such work shall be the responsibility of the holder of the permit.

SECTION 2. This ordinance is to take effect and be in full force and effect at the expiration of thirty (30) days from and after its passage; and before the expiration of fifteen (15) days after the passage of the ordinance the same shall be published with the names of the members voting for and against the same, at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published in said County of Marin.

The foregoing ordinance was passed and adopted at a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, held on the 10th day of May, 1966, by the following vote:

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
(Advertisement)

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District will receive bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation and services for remodeling of the existing cafeteria building at the College of Marin, Kentfield, Marin County, California.

2. Each bid to be in accordance with the plans and specifications now on file at the office of FALK & BOOTH, 16 Beale Street, San Francisco, California 94105, or the Marin Junior College Office at 139 Kent Avenue, Kentfield, California, where same may be examined and copies obtained.

3. Each bid shall be made on a form to be obtained at the office of Falk & Booth, 16 Beale Street, San Francisco, California, or the Marin Junior College District Office at 139 Kent Avenue, Kentfield, California, and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or a bid bond for ten percent of the amount bid, made payable to the order of the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District, and shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board on or before the 2nd day of June 1966 at 3:00 P.M. and will be opened in public at or about 3:00 P.M. of that day in Room 25, Harlan Hall, College of Marin, Kentfield, Marin County, California.

4. The above-mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract if awarded the work and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District.

5. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a labor and material bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the Marin Junior College District.

6. The general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, has been ascertained by the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District to be as follows:

CLASS OR WORK	WAGE PER HOUR

Sheet Metal Workers	5.53

7. All labor to receive time and one-half for overtime, double time on holidays, unless otherwise specified.

8. All other trades not hereinabove mentioned to receive wage prescribed for that particular craft or type of workman.

9. In addition to the hourly and/or per diem wages for the crafts, classifications or types of workmen listed above, contractors may be required to make employer payments for health and welfare, pension, vacation and similar purposes as required by the executed collective bargaining agreements for the particular craft, classification or type of work involved.

10. The working day shall be eight (8) hours unless otherwise specified above. The per diem rate shall be the hourly rate multiplied by the number of hours in the working day.

11. All bidders must be properly licensed to perform said work.

12. The Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District reserves the right to reject any and all bids and/or waive any irregularity in any bid received. Unless otherwise required by law, no bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) calendar days after the date set for the opening thereof and the Board will act to accept or reject the successful bid within that period of time.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Many old medicinals were obtained from trees. None is recommended today but it is interesting to speculate why they were selected.

The powdered bark of the cork tree was taken in warm water to stop bleeding from the mouth, nose, and bronchi. Pitch (cedria) from large cedar trees was said to relieve toothache and lessen the pain of extraction.

The juniper was a tree full of remedies. According to Industrial Medicine and Surgery, the seeds were prescribed for pain in the chest and abdomen. In addition they relieved gas, sudden chills, and cough. Juniper berries taken in white wine were prescribed for convulsions, ruptures, bowel spasm, sciatica, and uterine afflictions.

THOSE TAKEN in red wine acted as an astringent upon the bowels.

The cause of the mental disorder schizophrenia is not known but there is reason to believe that it is of chemical origin. Biochemists have been studying the blood, tissues, secretions, and excretions of victims of the disease and the only clue is a pink spot that develops in their urine when a certain chemical (DMPE) is added.

A group from the University of Liverpool tested 391 normal individuals and the pink spot appeared in only one. The test was positive in 46 of 84 schizophrenics and absent in 17 with other forms of mental disease. The pink spot also was absent from the urine of 20 close relatives of three schizophrenic patients. No one seems to know what this means except that chemical differences exist.

FOOTPRINTS are not as accurate as fingerprints for identifying newborns. Dr. Kenneth S. Shepard, a California pediatrician, collected 51 sets of newborns' footprints and had experts compare them with patterns taken five to six weeks later. According to his report in Medical World News, they could do so in only 10 of the 51 which is not conclusive enough to stand up in court.

According to Dr. Shepard, the practice of footprinting is a needless waste of time. He recommends wrist bands that are attached to the infant in the delivery room. A tattoo that eventually disappears is better. Several years ago we reported on the use of the ear as a means of identification. We assume it has fallen by the wayside because it did not improve upon existing methods and was more difficult to do.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

HYPERTHYROIDISM

Mrs. C. S. writes: Must an overactive thyroid gland be removed?

REPLY

Not necessarily; medical treatment is adequate in many instances. The decision must be made by the physician in attendance. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on overactivity of the thyroid gland.

SPIDERS

W. F. writes: Why do some people have spider veins and others are not bothered? Some individuals stand all day and don't have them.

REPLY

The cause is not known except that such patterns may run in families. Many of these people have thin skin and the veins are more noticeable.

MORE LIKELY

Mrs. O. C. writes: Does angina pectoris always lead to coronary thrombosis?

REPLY

Not always, but the individual with angina pectoris stands a greater chance of developing coronary thrombosis than persons who have never encountered the symptom.

FOOD IODINE

J. V. E. writes: Do any foods contain iodine, or must we depend upon iodized salt for our supply?

REPLY

Fish and foods grown in coastal areas supply this element, as sea water contains iodine and its spray, carried by the wind, enriches inland water and soil.

WASTED LEGS

B. E. writes: What is meant by muscular atrophy of the legs?

REPLY

Wasting of the muscular tissues because of disuse, paralysis, or nutritional failures.

Today's Health Hint—Chronic fatigue demands investigation.

Burglary At Theater

Marjorie Casebier of 134 Bolinas Avenue, San Anselmo, told police Saturday afternoon that her electric portable typewriter, worth $159, was stolen the previous night from the Festival Theater building at 2 Kensington Avenue in San Anselmo.

Drake High's New Library Electrifying For Patrons

By DIANE BLANKENBURG and LINDA BROWN
Drake High School

Perhaps the most surprising feature of Drake High School's recently renovated library is the number of shocks students and faculty members must face each day from the static buildup in the nylon carpet.

Walking from room to room and having to turn a knob or push a panic bar can surprise even the expectant with its snap and tingle.

Mrs. Ruth Taylor, head librarian, reported that in the new library at San Rafael High School "they've thought of putting in automatically opening doors to reduce the discomfort" because of the shock.

However, the Drake library also has the latest in electronic equipment to aid students.

A listening system through which students wearing headsets can hear live lectures, tapes, records, or the audio portion of a film has been installed. The headsets are located in several portions of the library including one designated as the "listening area", where tape recorders and record players are situated.

A photocopy machine has also been installed for student use. The coin operated machine allows students to reproduce material for later use.

The library itself has been divided up into various areas, one for reference, one for research. Under a new policy, students will be allowed to study in the sections (reference and research) either before or after school. Individual desks have been installed to enhance student concentration.

Other ways to improve and use the new library facilities have been suggested by the faculty library committee and are being considered by Principal Harold Allison. The faculty plan urges the development of cooperative services with other libraries, especially those in the Tamalpais High School District.

The purchase of an additional 7,000 books was recommended by committee members. This would bring the library's book total to 17,000, the minimum suggested by the American Library Association for a school Drake's size.

The committee also called for the purchase of encyclopedias, dictionaries, and an increase in the number of available magazines.

Files of exceptional student work and resource files for teacher and student use along with cross references were also suggested.

One large conference room, which can be divided by a sliding wall, has been partitioned off. A large overhead projection screen will be located in one end of the room. It is hoped that eventually films will be made available for viewing by individuals or small groups.

The faculty committee has also proposed:

—A trained audio visual librarian in charge of audio visual equipment for the entire school.

—Fullest use of clerical and student help to allow librarians to give as much individual attention to students as possible.

—A library orientation program for freshmen and new students.

—Displays from Drake's Fine Arts Department.

—The eventual addition of microfilm equipment.

—Use of the library by students for as many hours of the day as possible.

Additionally, the school recently received approval from the State Board of Education on an application for $41,821 for library improvements. These improvements will include tape recorders, record players, television sets, tapes, records, earphones, books, and periodicals.

Three additional construction projects, underway at Drake since last summer, have been completed, giving students and school officials greater convenience to daily tasks.

The new office wing, including the dean's and attendance offices, and a reception room, decreases the congestion which previously crowded the main office.

The new study hall, which extends from the library to the east corridor, is designed to serve a dual purpose. A tiered seating arrangement enables its use as a lecture hall.

The gym foyer, planned when the school was built 15 years ago, provides a ticket booth, check room, snack bar, rest rooms, and an entrance into the boys and girls gyms."

Archbishop To Preside At Grad Rites For Dominican Collegians

Annual commencement ceremony of Dominican College of San Rafael will be tomorrow at 2 p.m. in Angelico Hall on the campus with Most Rev. Joseph T. McGucken, archbishop of San Francisco, presiding. Commencement speaker will be Dr. Frank Sullivan, professor of English at Loyola University, Los Angeles.

A total of 83 seniors will receive bachelor of arts, bachelor of science and bachelor of music degrees. Five graduate students will be awarded master of arts degrees, and 20 students will receive Califorina teaching credentials.

The Dominican College Madrigal Singers will sing under direction of Mrs. Winifred Baker, accompanied by Sister M. Francesca, O.P., organist.

The Baccalaureate Mass was celebrated Sunday by Very Rev. Benedict M. Blank, O.P., with Rev. Richard Vaughan, S.J., chairman of the psychology department at University of San Francisco, as speakers.

Two Marin County students will receive master's degrees in teaching. They are Donald Lawrence Van Etten, Corte Madera, and Lonne William Baldwin, San Rafael. John Joseph Savant of Mill Valley will receive a master of arts degree.

Mrs. Orine E. Suffern of Novato will receive a bachelor of music degree. Thirteen Marin students will receive the bachelor of arts degree. They are:

Passenger Hurts Ankle On Road

A 22-year-old Oakland woman suffered a fractured left ankle when she jumped or fell from a moving car on the Terra Linda offramp, about 300 feet northeast of Highway 101, at 3:40 p.m. Friday.

Injured was Margaret Ann Simpson, a passenger in a car driven by Andrew Finklea, 27, of Oakland. She was taken to San Rafael General Hospital where she was reported in good condition today.

Miss Simpson told California Highway Patrol officers she jumped from the car. Finklea told officers she had fallen.

San Rafael Youth Wins CAP Honor

Stephen Bowcock of 128 Fernwood Drive, San Rafael, has been awarded the Gen. Carl A. Spaatz award by the Civil Air Patrol.

He thus became the 14th CAP cadet in the nation to receive the patrol's highest award, which carries with it an automatic promotion to cadet colonel. It was presented to him at the patrol's Pacific Region conference in Las Vegas by Col. Joe L. Mason, national CAP commander.

Portable Video Taken From Home

Byron L. Haviside Jr., of 116A Edwards Avenue, Sausalito, reported loss of a portable television set in a burglary of his country home in Inverness, sheriff's officers said yesterday.

Also taken were about six bottles of liquor and a carton of cigarettes, deputies said.

An attempt to burgle Hayden's Market in Marin City was abandoned with tripping of a burglary alarm, officers said. A rear door lock was broken.

Finances Figure Heavily In School Unification Vote

Dixie, San Rafael Residents Get Women Voters' League Fact Sheet

Residents of Dixie School Distract can't lose, financially, in the June 7 election on unification of Dixie's district with San Rafael High School and Elementary School Districts.

If they favor unification, there will be a $15 per pupil gift from the state. If they reject it, Dixie District will get more money anyhow, through "area-wide equalization" of tax funds.

Dixie District residents will benefit also by a reduced tax rate if unification passes.

San Rafael Elementary School District residents, on the other hand, will pay a higher tax rate if unification passes. And, because of the complicated formula governing the state's $15-per-pupil "carrot," they won't gain much from it. But if it fails, about $166,000 of the taxes they pay for San Rafael schools will be diverted to Dixie District.

These facts are brought out in a question-and-answer fact sheet on the unification proposal (county measure "E" on the June 7 ballot) released today by the League of Women Voters of Central Marin.

The league reported its study of the unification was handicapped by the difficulty of getting reliable figures on tax rates and state apportionments as they would be affected by the unification. Two thousand copies of the fact sheet have been prepared for distribution, and more will be made if there are sufficient requests, said Mrs. H. James Compton, league president.

Dixie and San Rafael Elementary School Districts are both parts of San Rafael High School District. Most San Rafael residents, however, tend to think of their elementary and high school districts as a single school district because both are governed by the same board. (Residents of the City of San Rafael who live in Dixie School District don't think of it that way.)

Unification would mean that all three would be in one district, with a single board governing all schools from kindergarten through 12th grade.

Here are some of the questions and answers from the League of Women Voters' report:

Q. Who prepared this unification plan?

A. Eleven local county committee members on school district organization are responsible for studying and making plans for unification. School boards in Marin elect these members. . . .

Q. What happens if unification passes?

A. An election for seven trustees to form the board of the new district will be held, probably within 90 days. The unified district will start operating July, 1967, giving the trustees almost a year in which to plan. The $15 yearly bonus per child from state funds is added immediately in July, 1966.

Q. What happens to trustees now on school boards?

A. If proposition E passes, the present trustees . . . will carry on until July, 1967.

Q. How will the new school board members be selected?

A. The seven members of the unified board would be elected at large, as at present.

Q. Would the unified board be under the jurisdiction of the San Rafael city charter?

A. No, it would not . . .

Q. What happens to the teachers and administrators now employed?

A. Teachers will have the same tenure in the new districts as they now have in the separate districts. Administrators will have tenure for two years or the length of their contract, whichever is longer.

Q. Will the state give more money to unified districts?

A. Yes, the state will give a bonus of $15 per pupil. This, plus additional state money available for the unified district will add over $300,000 to its support.

Q. What happens if the majority of voters in one district vote for unification but it fails?

A. The district that votes for unification receives the $15 bonus, regardless of the outcome of the election.

Q. What will happen if unification fails in both districts?

A. Neither district will receive any additional monies from the state. However, area-wide equalization will be effected which will result in some of the local tax funds from the San Rafael Elementary District being given to the Dixie district. This will cost the San Rafael taxpayers approximately $166,000.

Q. What happens to the state loans the Dixie District has incurred?

A. If Proposition E passes, the unified district assumes responsibility for repayment.

The League of Women Voters worked out its own figures on the projected tax rate. These show that the total tax rate, aside from bond redemption, would rise from $4.415 per $100 assessed valuation in the San Rafael Elementary School District to $4.725 in the unified district. In Dixie Elementary District, however, the total would drop from $5.555 to $4.725.

To level the bonded indebtedness of the districts, Measure F would have to be passed by two-thirds vote. This measure is meaningless if the unification measure fails. If it passes, the unified district would have bonding capacity of 10 per cent of its assessed value, including present outstanding bonds. If unification passes but bond levelling fails, residents of each existing district would still have to pay taxes to retire their bonds, and the new district would still have a 10 per cent bonding capacity. Immediate effect on the tax rate would be slight.

Tam Trustees Hire Human Relations Aide

Tamalpais High School District trustees last night hired Lanny Berry, 34, a former Marin County juvenile probation officer and part-time member of the county's community relations staff in Marin City, to fill a new position as special assistant in human relations.

Berry, who lives at 685 Blackberry Lane, Lucas Valley, will be district liason with community groups and will work with parents and teachers of culturally disadvantaged children. He will be assistant to Supt. Chester G. Carlisle at an annual salary of $12,700.

Berry, who will be awarded a master's degree in social work from University of California in June, was a county probation officer from 1961 through 1964. He worked part-time on the community relations staff while studying at the university.

Tamalpais High School District trustees also:

1. Accepted resignations of Beatrice Gruen, language teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School; Elizabeth Shedd, language teacher at Redwood, and Mrs. Bobbi Walker, English teacher at Tamalpais.
2. Hired Sandra L. Gariffo, a first year teacher, to teach English at Tamalpais at an unspecified salary.
3. Accepted gifts of 57 books for the Redwood library and three books for the Drake library.
4. Approved extra service contracts totaling $49,801 for 116 teachers who also serve as coaches, department chairmen, counselors and activity advisors.
5. Awarded a $50,555 contract to Zoellner Construction Co., Lowest of seven bidders, for construction of a field house at Tamalpais.
6. Authorized the superintendent to deposit $10,300 to cover the district's share of landscaping Doherty Drive, along with the City of Larkspur, when the road is extended to Highway 101.

Knife Charge Brings Extra Prison Term

Ruben Morales, San Quentin inmate convicted April 19 of possession of a knife, was sentenced to one to three additional years in prison yesterday by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court.

Morales, serving time for an Aug. 3, 1961, conviction in Fresno County for furnishing marijuana, had a hand-fashioned, foot-long blade last Aug. 7.

Jail, Fine Imposed

James Oscar Fisher, 50, San Francisco, was sentenced to five days in county jail, fined $110, and placed on 18 months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested on Highway 101 by California Highway Patrol on May 11.

May 17, 1966

Hearts of Romaine
VEAL SCALLOPINI A LA ARPA
SOUFFLE DI RISO
Fresh Asparagus
Coffee
Macaroons

VEAL SCALLOPINI A LA ARPA

- 2 pounds veal for scallopini
- Flour
- 2 tbs. butter
- ¼ cup olive oil
- ½ cup chopped green onions
- 1 tsp. extract of beef
- 1 cup chicken stock
- ¼ tsp. monosodium glutamate
- Pepper to taste
- ¼ tsp. each oregano and rosemary
- 2 tbsp. finely chopped parsley
- ½ pound fresh mushrooms, sliced and previously browned in butter
- ½ cup Marsala wine

Pound veal on both sides, dredge in flour and brown in butter and oil. Remove from pan and place in an ovenproof dish and set in warm oven (250°). Meanwhile add to drippings in pan all remaining ingredients except wine and mushrooms. Simmer 10 minutes; then add veal, mushrooms and ¼ cup of wine. Simmer 5 minutes longer, adding a little more wine for flavor about 2 minutes before serving. Serve with Souffle di Riso. Serves 4.

SOUFFLE DI RISO

Cook ¾ cup Uncle Ben rice in 2 cups milk over low heat till tender, stirring frequently with a fork (about 15 minutes). Remove from heat when all milk is absorbed. Melt 6 tbsp. butter and stir in 3 tbsp. flour and cook, stirring, for 1 minute. Remove from heat and gradually add 2 cups milk. Cook and stir till smooth and bubbly. Remove from heat. Add 1½ tsp. salt and 2 cups shredded Swiss cheese; stir till cheese melts. Add rice. Beat 4 egg yolks till thick and lemon-colored. Fold in cheese mixture; cool slightly. Beat 4 egg whites to stiff peaks; fold cheese mixture into whites. Pour into ungreased 1½ quart souffle dish or casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350°) 65 minutes or till knife inserted comes out clean. Serve immediately.

Looking Glass Dance Set By Jolly Rogers

A trip through the "Looking Glass" is the theme for this year's annual benefit dance held by Jolly Rogers Chapter of Children's Home Society.

The festivities, to be held Saturday at the Meadow Club, will include cocktails, dinner and dancing for some 300 guests and Jolly Rogers members.

READY FOR TASTE TEST

Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock Marin Alumnae of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority will present a wine tasting at 821 Sir Francis Drake Blvd., in San Anselmo, with Miss Nancy Buese as the hostess. Mrs. Donald Dupertius, right, is chairman. With her are, from left, Mesdames Alan Sweeney and Philip Lastreto. This second annual wine tasting will benefit the chapter's local charity. Reception Held In Sausalito To Honor German Author

By MOLLY MARIN

Noted author Gunter Grass of West Berlin was guest of honor Saturday evening at a reception given by Erich F. Sommer at "Omphale," the ark of Mrs. Virginia Barclay on the Sausalito waterfront.

Sommer is German consul for cultural relations in San Francisco.

Herr Grass has been in the United States to attend a conference at Princeton University of the "Group 47," a German-speaking literary organization. He has accompanied by Andrjei Wirth, famous Polish literary critic. They left the Bay Area Sunday.

Prominent guests among the 200 invited were Kenneth Rexroth and Lawrence Ferlinghetti of San Francisco, and Ward Evans, Alan Watts and Mayor Jan Paul Dyk of Sausalito.

MARIN SMITH COLLEGE Club members and their husbands will meet for cocktails and a gourmet box supper on Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Edward McCrum of Ross. Following supper the party will move to the Festival Theater in San Anselmo for the Lillian Hellman play, "My Mother, My Father and Me."

Mrs. McCrum, the club's new president, who has been vacationing in Mexico, will return in time to hostess the evening. Mrs. Harrison Dibblee Jr. of Ross, immediate past president and now president of the Bay Area League of Smith Clubs, is touring Rome and the Greek isles with her husband. Mrs. William S. Anderson of Ross, co-chairman for the evening, now traveling with her husband in Europe, will return in time to greet friends and guests at the McCrum's.

Mrs. Thomas E. Drohan and Mrs. K. L. Rice both of Tiburon, are assisting with arrangements for the supper and theater party.

AMONG MARINITES heading for the islands are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Holchester of San Rafael, who sailed Sunday aboard the Lurline for a Hawaiian sojourn. The G. A. Rosselets of Larkspur are also Hawaii travelers.

BELVEDERE NEIGHBORS, the A. C. Andersons and the Erwin Farleys are both planning trips to Japan. Neither couple knew the other would be traveling in the Orient. By chance they will stay at the same inn in Kyoto at the same time.

RECEIVING congratulations for her cover story on yachting in the May issue of San Francisco Magazine is Elisabeth Viscountess St. Davids, who now lives in Tiburon. Lady St. Davids, whose marriage to the Viscount was dissolved, as was a later alliance with Jestyn Reginald Austen Plantagenet Phillips is still entitled to the title. She prefers to be known by the St. Davids moniker professionally because this is the byline which she has used for a number of years in writing both research articles, such as the one about the Bay Area's yacht clubs, and fiction which appears in leading British women's magazines.

Elisabeth's interest in yachting dates from her childhood when she sailed out of the Looe Sailing Club in Cornwall. She once lived on a Dutch-Thames barge called the Tortoise.

Nancy Grace To Be Bride

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Nancy Woodward Grace of Ross and Jackson Bowers Beecham, who is attending medical school at Temple University in Philadelphia.

Nancy is the daughter of Mrs. William H. Grace of Ross and the late Mr. Grace. She is the sister of Charles, William Jr., John and Robin Grace. A graduate of Dominican Upper School, Nancy attended Bradford Junior College and is a student at College of Marin.

The future bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Clayton T. Beecham of Sunbury, Pa., formerly of Philadelphia, and the brother of Nina and Richard K. Beecham of Sunbury. He was graduated from Chestnut Hill Academy and Williams College before entering Temple medical school.

The couple is planning a late August wedding.

Nuptials At Navy Chapel For Couple

The Catholic Chapel at Treasure Island Naval Base was the setting for the wedding of Janice Jansoone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jansoone of Fairfax, and George J. Bury of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, on May 7.

Janice, given in marriage by her father in the 11:30 a.m. rite, wore a full length gown of white silk organza in an empire style with reembroidered Alencon lace at the bodice. Shirlie Carson of Fairfax wore a full length A-line gown of sea spray blue saki as maid of honor.

Lt. (j.g.) Joel Butler of San Rafael acted as best man and Lt. (j.g. Cari Hitchner, Lt. Cari Gregory and Ensign Robert Radnick ushered.

The bride, who was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and attended College of Marin, was employed as a secretary with Crocker Citizens National Bank in San Anselmo.

George, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bury of Nu Mine, Penn., received a degree in education from State College at Indiana, Penn. He is a lieutenant junior grade with the U.S. Navy.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Wife In Quandry Over Husband In 'Martini For Lunch Bunch'

DEAR HELEN:

My husband has a job that requires a lot of entertaining at lunches. You guessed it, he's a sales representative on an expense account. He says you have to soften up prospective customers with martinis, but does that mean he must also drink two or three? Sometimes he gets more looped than the buyer. He isn't used to this sort of thing. I can't seem to get through to him. Maybe you can.

YOUNG WIFE

DEAR WIFE:

I may not have any more luck than you had, but I'll try: New members of the "Martini for Lunch Bunch" (or any member, for that matter) had better nurse one along slowly, and this only on special occasions. Water on the rocks puts more zip in a salesman's pitch. H.

DEAR MRS. BOTTEL:

Are you getting payed by the boot store and the shaving co. to put such trash as this in your Youth Asked For It column? You told a 15-year-old girl it was alright to shave her legs and then you okayed "go-go boots." Here parents and school principals are trying so hard to help bring children up right, and you go and tell them this disgraceful junk. The brats of today are bad enough allready without you helping make them worse. I will stop the papper if you don't apologise. NO NAME

DEAR N. N.:

I'll apologize on one condition: that you give me one good, valid reason why you think it is disgraceful to shave the legs and wear "go go boots."

"Brats of today?" Hogwash. Today's young people are on the whole smarter, neater, more idealistic, more involved and better all around citizens than our generation ever was. (More polite and better spellers too!) H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am a dressmaker, choosing that work in order to be at home with my family. Some of my women customers are fine and thoughtful but I also have the other kind.

When certain females come to be measured, they wear a good girdle. When they come for the first fitting, they wear a rag of a girdle or none at all, and then fuss about the fit. I then alter the garment. With the last fitting they usually wear the good girdle again and scream about the fit. That means I practically remake the garment twice.

Perhaps changing girdles is their privilege but I cannot charge for this extra work. These women usually hint they think my price is exorbitant, but the truth is that, with all the changes, I make less than a dollar an hour.

How do I handle this problem? Asking them to wear the same foundation garment at all measurings and fittings isn't enough. They forget.

EUGENIA

DEAR EUGENIA:

Why not have "Instructions for Fitting" cards printed? And post a "firm foundation" notice in a conspicuous place in your sewing room. These, with your reminders, should keep the situation under control. H.

DEAR HELEN:

Subject: office collection. How much should one give to a semi-stranger who wants donations to help pay for flowers for funerals, presents for showers, a watch for retirement — anything and everything that comes up in the office? I hardly know some of these people. This passing the hat is flattening my bankroll.

FLEDGING PHILANTHROPIST

DEAR F. P.:

Give only for those you know and don't be afraid to say "I'm broke" if you are. Others do. H.

P. S. A quarter donation is acceptable for "fledglings," especially if your office is collection-happy. H.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH LIMA

On May 7 Janet Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Perkins of Fairfax, exchanged vows with Joseph Lima of Tillson, N. Y., at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax.

The bridge, given in marraige by her father in the double ring ceremony, wore a full length gown of white eyelet organdy in a three tiered style. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Paulett Brower of San Rafael, wore a green crepe gown. Mesdames Larry Perkins of San Anselmo and Joyce Stephens of San Bruno, sister of the bride, wore complimenting green crepe dresses.

Serving as best man was Kim Corley of Redding and ushering were Larry L. Perkins of San Anselmo, brother of the bride, and Gary Rivara, cousin of the bride.

Janet, who was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School, is employed with Pacific Telephone Co. in San Francisco.

Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Lima of Tillson, N. Y., and was graduated from Kingston High School in New York. He is serving with the U. S. Navy aboard the USS Coral Sea.

Rainbow Girls' Tea Set Sunday

Nancy Kimberling of San Rafael Assembly 195, Order of Rainbow for Girls, will give a tea at the home of Mrs. Neal Madson from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday in honor of the new members. They are Carolyn Weikel, Pamela Cambridge, Jeanine Wright, and Elaine Stadner

Registration On For Girls In New Outdoor Program

Registration is underway for an outdoor program for third, fourth, fifth and sixth grade girls, offered for the first time by the Marin YWCA, 216 Greenfield Ave., San Anselmo.

Girls will be taken by chartered bus to Lagunitas Lake on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons, 1 to 5 p.m. for four consecutive weeks starting June 22.

Special emphasis will be placed on outdoor and camp crafts, hiking and nature lore, as well as singing, hand crafts, games and sketching. The girls will be in small groups with others of their own age.

Further information on fees and registration may be obtained from the Marin YWCA.

Volunteers Are Needed To Help Elderly Persons

There are many ways for volunteers to help the elderly handicapped. Individuals or groups of people who enjoy staging parties can put on a monthly birthday celebration for residents of rest homes.

Teen-agers who like to make favors and decorations can take a rest home as a project for the summer and keep it supplied with flowers and table favors.

People who show travel slides might furnish this entertainment in an evening, or someone with a portable chord organ could play familiar songs for an hour or two.

Persons who can share time and talents with the elderly handicapped, may telephone for an interview appointment with the Volunteer Bureau at 725 A Street in San Rafael.

Terra Linda Assn. To Sponsor Dance

Terra Linda Athletic Assn. will sponsor its annual dance on Saturday at the Lodge, north of Novato. The festivities will begin at 9 p.m. for the benefit which helps buy equipment for the Terra Linda boys baseball program.

Dance chairmen are Fred Von Lehr and Vince LaPorte, who are assisted by their wives and Mrs. Robert Daniels. Tickets are available at the door.

Domestic Accidents Claim More Lives

Home accidents, particularly to children, are one of the more serious "epidemics" of society. The Institute of Life Insurance reports that up to age six, one of every four children is injured each year in a domestic accident. Accidents claims the lives of more children between the ages of one and 14 than the five leading diseases of childhood.

Breakfast Planned By Tam Centre

The annual breakfast for members of the Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club and their guests will be held at Rancho Rafael on Friday at 12:30 p.m.

For the program, Marion Hayes Cain will present her dramatic group, The Magic Circle, in a skit called "A Sunny Morning." Performers will be Cathy Sanborn, Robert Herrmann, Barbara Morrisey and Kimberly Christiansen.

A special feature of the program will be Joaquin Quintero, a graduate of the University of Vera Cruz who will sing folk songs and accompany himself on the guitar. He will also provide mood music for the performers.

In charge of arrangements are Mrs. George R. Weymouth and Mrs. Elmer Jones. On the committee also are Mrs. Roy Rhodes and Mrs. Thomas Nicols.

Attends Meeting

Mrs. John J. Foley of the First Baptist Church of San Anselmo attended the board of managers meeting of the American Baptist Women in Kansas City, Mo., this week. She is president of the American Baptist Women of Northern California.

Peggy Ann Sports Becomes Bride Of Earl J. Carter

Peggy Ann Sports, daughter of Tech. Sgt. and Mrs. R. W. Sports of Hamilton Air Force Base, became the bride of Earl Joseph Carter of San Rafael in a 5 p.m. ceremony at the base chapel on April 29.

Both bride and bridegroom were graduated from Terra Linda High School. Earl, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carter of San Rafael, is employed as a repair man. He is the brother of Carol Carter of San Rafael and Lyn Robert and Johnn Carter of Portland, Ore.

Peggy is also the sister of Greg Sports of Hamilton.

Camping For Girls At San Domenico

A new "Summer Adventure" will be held for girls from nine to 13 from July 3 to Aug. 5 on the new campus of the San Domenico School for Girls in Sleepy Hollow. The five-week program conducted by the Dominican Sisters of San Rafael is planned to combine spiritual guidance, creative experience and outdoor fun.

Instruction in French and Spanish will utilize the facilities of the school language laboratories. The language will be spoken at mealtime, in the dormitory and at play. National drama, folk dances and songs are part of the program, and exploration in the arts will be encouraged.

Swimming in the new Olympic-sized pool, playing tennis, riding the trails of the 550-acre campus will keep youngsters busy out-of-doors. The program will include singalongs and campfire fun, as well as trips to San Francisco museums or to visit a Marin beach or redwood grove. San Domenico residence and dining halls, chapel, library, art and music department, language laboratory, all will be used in the summer program. For information, write to Summer Adventure Secretary, San Domenico School for Girls, Butterfield Road, San Anselmo.

which had a collapsible mast, indispensable for going under bridges along English waterways. She now owns a trimaran, the Kifkif, which means half and half in Arabic, which she sails in the bay.

Educated at the Couvent Dit des Oiseaux, she attended both the Paris and the English schools of this name. Her flair for writing became evident early, as her first poem was published at age seven. She is the daughter of Dr. Alec Woolf; a retired professor of languages of Hove, Sussex, England.

AT THE LUNCHEON of the Marin Country Club Women's Golf Assn. Thursday at the club in Novato members were talking about the G. C. Davenport's new baby girl who has been named Monique. She is the sister of Dan Fransen, Mrs. Benny Westbrook, and Bill and Greg Davenport. Another member, Mrs. David Merzario just returned from a visit with family members in Dusseldorf, Germany. She says she visits her parents there at least once a year as her husband is a pilot with Pan American.

Marin Country Club members will be missing two charter members, the Richard MacCabes, who are moving to Portland Ore., the first of June. They have bought a new home in Argaye Terrace and are looking forward to playing the various golf courses in the Portland area.

Peter Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson of Marin Country Club Estates, will tour five countries in Europe with the Rutgers University Glee Club, leaving May 30.

A retirement dinner will be held at Hamilton Air Force Base on May 26 honoring Brig. Gen. Jack A. Gibbs, commander of the Sixth Air Force Region at Hamilton. General Gibbs and his wife, Doris, have built a home in the Estates. They plan to do a lot of fishing after General Gibbs retires. Their son Jim will be home from the Citiadel in Charlestown, S.C., to attend the dinner.

RETURNING FROM a two-week trip to the Northwest are Dr. and Mrs. J. Hudson Ballard of Novato. They visited with Mrs. Ballard's mother, Mrs. Quincy Scott in Portland. On their trip north Dr. Ballard lectured three evenings at the First Presbyterian Church in Eureka.

MRS. AND MRS. FRED LUTJENS, San Rafael, were given a surprise party on their 35th wedding anniversary by their daughter, Marilyn, a freshman at University of California at Santa Babara. Marilyn, who flew up from college, had to let her father in on the secret, because he had to pick her up at the airport, but he got the biggest surprise when Marilyn presented them with round-trip, jet airline tickets to Hawaii for their vacation in July. While maintaining her grade average, Marilyn worked every spare minute to give her family the gift.

THE FREDERICK S. ALLENS of Ross entertained out of town visitors recently at a dinner party at the West End Villa in San Rafael. The guests included Dr. and Mrs. Dewey Dominic of Cody, Wyo., who were here on a brief trip; Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Holter of Ross, and the Allens' daughter, Alice.

FOLLOWING THE Mountain Play performance of "Peer Gynt" yesterday several couples entertained groups—among them Messrs. and Mesdames Nelson Shreve, William Carter and Stanley Jessup, and for the play itself the San Marin Club in Novato planned a party for some 60 playgoers. . .

Alpha Phi Alumnae To Attend Theater

Alpha Phi Alumnae of Marin and their friends will attend the Festival Theater's presentation of "My Mother, My Father and Me" at 8:30 p.m. on Saturday at the theater in San Anselmo.

A buffet dinner will be held in Alexander Hall, across from the theater at 7:15 p.m. Mrs. Morton Willard, 125 Reed St., Mill Valley, is in charge of arrangements and reservations chairman.

Weary-Of-Fund-Raising Dance Called 'It's For The Birds'

Three hundred invitations hand-painted by Mrs. M. E. McAninch have been sent for the Sausalito Woman's Club's spring dinner-dance Saturday.

Tired of fund raising events, the committee headed by Mrs. S. C. Stapp decided to make light of the necessary and chose the theme "It's For the Birds" for this final fund and fun raising event of the year.

Mrs. Fay Sparks will carry out the theme in decor with bird cages and other suitable motifs, assisted by Mesdames Roger Dinelli, Albert Purcell, Howard A. Shapiro and Messrs. Howard Sievers and Cotton McAninch.

Dinner chairman Mrs. Joseph DeMartini is assisted by Mesdames Peter Fugina, Elmo Maggiora, Charles Henderson and George Kowski.

An innovation will be a "lonely hearts table" for widows who wish to come for the dinner and join Mrs. Stapp at her home afterward.

In charge of music are Mr. and Mrs. Arie Slikkerverer, and greeting guests will be Messrs. and Mesdames Robert M. Gunn and George W. Quinn Jr.

Serving will be Mesdames King Kettrich, Conrad Kett, Merrell Sisson, William V. Lynch and Bryon Hurd, Mrs. Dinelli is reservation chairman.

Fairhills Guild To Greet Members

Fairhills Guild of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum will meet on May 23 at the home of Mrs. Jason Widmer. Honored at the 10:30 a.m. coffee are two new members, Mesdames Ulrich Kraemer and Edwin W. Thomas.

MARIN SINGERS REHEARSE—Novato tenor Kenneth Rowland, portraying a young husband, is at a loss for words in the presence of a young wife, portrayed by Sausalito soprano Sidney Peterzon. The scene is from a rehearsal of "Une Education Manaquee," to be presented by the Sonoma State College Opera Workshop starting Thursday.

Sonoma College Opera Workshop Slates Show

Sonoma State College Opera Workshop will present two one-act comedies in its latest production opening at the Rohnert Park Junior-Senior High School auditorium Thursday at 8:15 p.m.

The cast, including Marin residents in leading roles, will perform Puccini's "Gianni Schicchi" and Chabrier's "Une Education Manquee," in English.

Sausalito soprano Sidney Peterzon, who has been chosen by the Metropolitan Opera for next season's traveling company, will make her debut with the group. She will portray Lauretta, Schicchi's daughter in "Gianni Schicchi," and a young bride, Helene, in "Une Education Manquee."

Kenneth Rowland of Novato also will appear in both operas, playing two roles, Rinuccio and Cherardo, in "Gianni Schicchi," and a young count in "Une Education Manquee."

Mike Hall of San Rafael will appear in "Gianni Schicchi." Performances will be directed by Peggy Donovan.

The group will present evening performances on May 19, 20 and 21 at 8:15 p.m., and a children's matinee at 2:30 p.m. May 21, at the school auditorium.

'May Evening' Concert Set For San Anselmo Church

A public "Music for a May Evening" concert will be presented on May 22 at 8 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo.

Performing will be the Marin Pro Musica, assisted by the male choir of the San Francisco Theological Seminary under direction of Wilbur F. Russell, and strings and tympani of the Oakland Symphony Orchestra under direction of Asst. Conductor Robert Hughes.

Works of contemporary French composer Francis Poulenc will be featured. Also performed will be Britten's "Five Flower Songs."

Russell will play on the Leonard William Buck Memorial Organ Poulenc's Concerto in G minor and Handel's Concerto No. 5 in F.

Opera Tells Fall Season Performances

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Opera announced yesterday its complete schedule of performances for the fall season.

Kurt Herbert Adler, general director, said there will be 48 home performances of 13 operas, and one performance each in Berkeley and Sacramento.

The season opens Sept. 20 with Bellini's "I Puritani," starring coloratura soprano Joan Sutherland.

"I Puritani" will also be given in the Memorial Auditorium, Sacramento, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 5. Strauss's "Elektra" will be performed in the Greek Theater at Berkeley on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 9.

All seats for this season's San Francisco performances will be sold on a subscription basis. There will be no non-subscription performances.

Other operas in the repertory include "Don Carlo," "The Love Of Three Kings," "Boris Godunov," "Tannhauser," "Madame Butterfly," "The Marriage of Figaro," "The Trojans," "Falstaff," "Carmen," "Rigoletto," and "The Markopulos Case" by Janacek, which will receive its American premiere.

New Arrangement Set For College 1966 Art Show

Organization of the College of Marin Art Show this year is being changed because of lack of space during construction of the new busic and arts building.

This year the show will be spread over three days and two evenings, Friday through Sunday.

On view in the art gallery will be exhibits representative of instructional areas ranging from painting and print making to jewelry and lapindary.

Edwin A. Codagon, director of the fine arts division, said it is planned to hold monthly exhibits and artist shows on the completion of the new music and art building.

The art show will be open Friday from 7 to 10 p.m., Saturday from 1 to 5 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m.

Raises Given By Trustees In Novato

Novato Unified School District trustees, by a 4-to-3 vote last night gave all nonteaching personnel a two and one-half per cent across-the-board increase.

This amounts to one step on the pay scale in addition to their normal step increase. It will cost the district approximately $31,000 next fiscal year. This was in the preliminary fiscal 1967 budget.

Voting against the increase were Marett B. Boissevain, Mrs. Leonora M. Dougherty, and William Schneeflock.

Boissevain said that the district had granted a large increase last year. "We pay our secretaries and clerks more than private industry. I do not think that they are entitled to an increase this year," he said.

Trustees discussed a second pay proposal by the negotiating committee of the Novato Teachers Assn. but took no action on it.

The new scale would start at $5,540 and go to $11,739 per year, compared to $5,520 and $10,656 in the current salary scale. The teachers two weeks ago asked for a scale starting at $5,700 and going to $12,010.

Supt. James G. Bunker said the district could levy a special tax on the difference in the cost of elementary and junior high school education to bring in $32,000 in additional revenue, take $13,000 out of proposed capital outlay, and reduce the reserve by $94,000. He figured these would provide an additional $139,000 for teachers salaries.

The scale proposed by the teachers would cost approximately $250,000 more than provided in the tentative budget.

Board president Daniel H. Barber said he might call a special meeting to discuss teacher salaries.

The Novato Unified School District also:

1. Awarded a $3,125 contract to Safeway Steel Products of San Francisco for two sections of bleachers for the new high school gymnasium.

2. Approved the summer school program, named the principals and set the pay scale. The high school principal will receive $937 and the teachers $750 for a six-week session. Elementary principals will receive $750 and teachers $600 for a five-week session. Named principals were: Stanley Onderdonk, high school; Ernest Mareck, Hill Junior High School; Donald Wineland, West Novato School; Mary Hiatt, Marion School; Marlowe Lancaster, Lynwood School; Roy Damas, Pacheco School; Robert Vaughan, Meadow Park School.

3. Approved an application for a children's center to be operated by the county superintendent of schools, at no cost to the district.

4. Accepted resignations of Ann Crawford, fourth grade teacher at Pacheco School; Godeane Eagle, speech therapist; Linda Kirshman, Olive School; Sydney McNeel, Hill Junior High School, and William Smithousen, science at Novato High School.

5. Hired Anne Blockma to teach language at the high school at $5,520; David Coughlin, fourth grade at Hamilton School, $6,483; Marion Ford, home economics at Hill Junior High School, $6,804; Frances Foster, home economics at high school, $8,730; Allan Gere, sixth grade at Rancho School, $7,125; Carolyn Helwig, girls' physical education at Hill Junior High School, $5,841; Willis Larkin, social studies at high school, $8,409; Winnie Moore, fourth grade at Lynwood School, $5,520; Genevieve Rolph, first grade at Lynwood School, $6,804, and Bernice Thorpe, elementary librarian, $6,483.

County Education Board Approves Big Budget Hike

The Marin County Board of Education last night approved 4-1 a $423,949 1967 general fund budget, after voicing concern over its 22 per cent increase from last year.

"The timing is inopportune to vote against it, but I find an alarming jump from the 1966 budget, said board member Patrick W. Pollock. "Compare it to the cost of living rise, and it's not of this size."

The general fund budget, up $103,000 over last year, goes to the county board of supervisors for final approval. Other expenses of the county schools office are paid from sources other than the property tax and do not require supervisor's approval.

Board member Lee C. Richardson zeroed in on a $17,252 appropriation for the County Committee on School District Organization, up $3,930. "I want to know how much of the taxpayers' money has been spent in 17 years (since the committee was formed) and what has been accomplished for unification," he declared.

Board President James C. Carroll commented, "If we don't like the way the committee's doing it, we can petition the State Board of Education to take it over from them." County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis noted that the board had gone on record as supporting unification.

Largest items of the increase was for the education program at juvenile hall in Lucas Valley. The detention education program rose about $10,000 to $64,243, and the two-year-old family rehabilitation center jumped $34,300.

Richardson voted against the budget. Mrs. Adele J. Alpers and Arnold Dolcini were absent.

The board approved with little comment a $624,784 special education budget, up $71,291. This budget is for educating the mentally retarded and handicapped.

The Marin County Board of Education also:

1. Decided to visit the children's center at Manzanita School, Marin City, next October. Richardson said the board "should either make it into something or give it up. It was a sick place when we visited it last."

2. Announced after a 45-minute closed session that it had approved the transfer of George Renworth from principal of Bayview schools in San Quentin Prison to the superintendent's office as a program supervisor at his present salary of $16,039, and transfer of Daryl Hopkins from director of special services to superivsor of juvenile hall programs and special education at his present salary of $16,800.

3. Passed a resolution urging the state legislature to retain a 50 per cent ratio of local to state tax support and not to legislate education programs without a supporting tax to pay for them.

For more than 1,000 years Chinese have been trying to gain control of South Viet Nam, but resistance to invasion has been strong.

Hearing Slated On Unification

A public hearing on the June 7 election on unification of San Rafael and Dixie school districts will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Civic Center by the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

The public hearing is required by law, according to Robert F. Stannard, assistant county superintendent of schools.

If time allows, the committee will also consider a tentative recommendation on the unification of the Tomales High School District with either the Petaluma or Tamalpais high schools.

Journalism Teacher Picked For Tam High

Mrs. Martha Myricks of San Francisco will be journalism teacher and Tam News advisor at Tamalpais High School next school year. She will replace Mrs. Hazel Mohler who will teach at Monterey College.

Mrs. Myricks has worked on publications at University of California Medical Center, San Francisco. She is at Tamalpais now doing student teaching in English.

County Planners Want To Be Loved

The Marin County Planning Commission wants to be loved, and members yesterday wondered why some cities in the county do not love them.

Commission Chairman Margaret Azevedo brought up the subject of city love at 7 p.m., near the close of a long session.

She said the commission and planning department have tried to cooperate with cities, even done some planning for cities under contract and taken on other jobs for them, but "the fact of the matter is that they have not loved us."

In some cases, after the county staff has assisted, the cities have promptly gone out and hired staff of their own, and in one case even hired away a county employee, she complained.

She suggested that future work for cities should be done with certain undestandings or requirements, such as agreeing to work toward a uniform zoning ordinance and agreeing to think "county-wide" on planning problems.

Commissioner Hugh Dougherty suggested cities may become disenchanted because the county staff has not done contractual work as rapidly as the cities want it.

"I think we should not undertake too much," he said.

Planning Director Paul C. Zucker said the planning staff might well undertake general planning for the cities, through federal assistance grants, at no cost to the cities. In the past the local contribution has been shared by city and county under the federal program.

"Our concern should be more than just the unincorporated areas of the county," he said.

Commisisoner William F. Upton was absent from yesterday's meeting.

The Marin County Planning Commission Also:

1. Set hearing June 6 on the Oakwood Valley master plan by Bearcreek Development Co. for propertly is between marin city and Marincello.
2. Voted 6-0 to apply the slope policy to land divisions (small subdivisions). The slope policy, which governs lot sizes in subdivisions, allows 7,500 square foot lots on slopes under 10 per cent grade and larger lots as the grade increases.
3. Granted a land division creating a 8,500-square foot lot and a 10,000-square foot lot for Robert Berry on upper terrace avenue in Bolinas, subject to approval of the county health department on sewage disposal.
4. Recommended an amendment to the zoning ordinance requiring undergrounding of utilities in planned community zones, a requirement already laid down in the subdivision ordinance.
5. Rejected 6-0, permit for a service station at Mount Lassen Drive and Lucas Valley Road next to one recently completed. Applicants were J. A. Calleri of San Leandro and W. Djernes of Los Gatos.
6. Put off consideration of amendments proposed in the Lucas Green shopping center plan at Highway 101 and Lucas Valley Road, until June 6.
7. Approved a land division creating two one-acre lots for George Kohler in the top portion of Paradise Ranch estates, with provision that right of way be established on a tract road.
8. Put over until June 6 consideration of Romac-Pacific's application for a garage at Shoreline Highway and Almonte Boulevard, south of Mill Valley.
9. Granted architectural supervison to Burton Capel for a warehouse that will be the new location of Marin Surplus, on the south side of sims street at Jacoby Street, east of San Rafael. New landscape plans were required.
10. Approved 4-1, with commissioner Michael Praszker abstaining and commissioner Eugene Trombley dissenting, grading plans for a 45 lot tract west of Novato in Marin Highlands, being developed by Roberts and Aguirre.

Grocer Sued Over Contract

Marin Foods Inc., former owner of Gary's Market at 688 Point San Pedro Road, San Rafael, has filed a $108,000 suit in Marin Superior Court against grocer William Rakestraw for alleged breach of contract in his purchase of the store.

Co-plaintiffs Michael Gary and Richard Girogosian, stockholders of Marin Foods, charge that Rakestraw and the William Rakestraw Co. bought the market—now called Rakestraw's Loch Lomond Market—on Feb. 11, 1965, but have since refused to pay $58,000 in bank notes, tax, liquor sale profits, and debts to Marin Foods stockholders.

They ask $50,000 in punitive damages, alleging Rakestraw fraudulently represented he would make the payments.

Fuchsia Society Sale

The Marin County branch of the American Fuchsia Society will hold a plant sale Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Montecito Shopping Center in San Rafael.

Commodore 'Not Villain,' Tellis Says

Alexis Tellis of Commodore Properties declared today that his firm is "not the villain in the piece" in putting the county on notice on the Richardson Bay heliport.

The firm, with plans to develop the site of Commodore Helicopters with a hotel, bar and restaurant, asked soon after the county's two-year lease ended that it be put on a month-to-month renewal basis.

Tellis, in a letter to the county aviation commission, said the heliport location has always been considered an interim one. The pad itself, where the San Francisco-Oakland Airlines' helicopters land, will not be needed by Commodore Properties for about five years, Tellis said. The ticket office nearby is in a building that will soon be demolished.

If the county wishes to retain the heliport, it will have to establish a ticket office in some other location, Tellis said.

Pure Gold Gone From Fairchild

Three-quarters of an ounce of pure gold was reported stolen Sunday from Fairchild Semiconductor, 4300 Redwood Highway, San Rafael.

Used for certain types of electrical instruments, the gold was stored in a round plastic dish.

Last to see the gold was security guard Felix Heredia Jr. of 537 Norman Drive, Novato. He said it was in position about noon but had vanished by 3 p.m. Value at present gold prices was $27.

Freitas Reports Sign Destruction In Race

San Rafael Police Officer Gilbert F. Freitas, candidate for county coroner, reported the destruction Friday of five of his campaign signs in widely scattered parts of San Rafael.

Freitas offered a $200 reward for information leading to the arrest of those responsible. "Somebody," he said, "just drove all over town smashing those billboards and throwing them in the street."

Damaged Marin Car Readied For '500'

INDIANAPOLIS — The MG Liquid Suspension Special, designed by Joe Huffaker of Novato, was scheduled to be back on the Indianapolis track today after the machine suffered $1,000 fire damage Sunday on a test run.

Veteran driver Bob Veith was at the wheel when the fire took place, and didn't realize the rear of his car was ablaze even after the yellow caution lights around the track went on. But after officials pointed at the back of the car when Veith sped past the start-finish line, Veith looked back to see the flames.

Huffaker said a high-pressure fuel line on the supercharged Offenhauser engine broke when the car was running at about 150 miles per hour. "It was only the second time we had the new car on the track," said Huffaker. "We should have the car running properly for next Saturday and Sunday's final qualifying sessions."

Huffaker's boss, Kjell Qvale, president of British Motor Cars, has a back-up car identical to the one driven by Veith, but it's powered by a Chevrolet engine. After Veith qualifies his choice of the two cars, Qvale and Huffaker are considering the possibility of offering the other car to Masten Gregory, an American living in Paris.

One Huffaker-designed and built car, the Veith-Huffaker-Offenhauser, has already qualified for the pole position of the sixth row for the Memorial Day race. Driven by rookie Gary Congdon of Garden Grove, the car is a 1965 Huffaker model. Two other 1966 Hoffaker models have been entered by Vita-Fresh Orange Juice organization, with Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., and Chuck Stevenson of Los Angeles hoping to qualify them next weekend. Unser, whose Offie-powered car has been beset by problems since arriving at the track, got it up to only 155.4 m.p.h. yesterday.

McElreath, one of the early qualifiers last weekend for the race, hit more than 160 miles an hour in the Zink-Urschel-Slick trackburner.

Mario Andretti, who captured the pole position Saturday with a record 165.899 m.p.h. appeared briefly on the track and got to a little over 157 m.p.h.

The 1965 national driving champion from Nazareth, Pa., exercised a car that obviously was filled to capacity with fuel. Andretti apparently was running his first fuel tests to get his entry in shape for the May 30 race.

With 18 cars qualifying over the weekend, 15 spots in the 3-car field remain to be filled Saturday and Sunday.

Rookies Larry Dickson, Marietta, Ohio; Red Riegel, Leesport, Pa., and Lee Roy Yarborough, Jacksonville, Fla., completed their 30, 135 nd 140-

LUCKY GOLF DROPPED, MAY GET FALL DATES

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Lucky International Golf tournament is off the winter tour, director John Keane disclosed yesterday after talking with PGA officials in Florida. But General Brewing Corp., the sponsor for six years, probably will agree to hold the Lucky during the late fall.

Keane said players wanted to start the PGA tour later so that the San Francisco joust was dropped in favor of the Crosby Tournament at Monterey and tourneys at San Diego, Los Angeles, and Palm Springs.

A House Divided: Son Bites The Hand That Feeds Him (Ate To 1)

FAMILY AFFAIR: The scene is the J. Robert Fitzhenry residence at 115 South Ridgewood Road, Kentfield.

It should be noted here that the Fitzhenrys are a typical American family, with one exception: Their athletic loyalties are hopelessly divided.

As the curtain rises, it is the early evening of Friday, May 13, 1966. The family is seated around the dinner table.

Son Jack, speaks: "Pater, dear Pater, I respectfully request permission to use the family carriage this evening. You see, oh great and generous monarch of this mighty mansion, my playmates and I desire to attend the automotive cinema this post meridian and a vehicle is quite mandatory, you know."

Father, dropping fork and jaw simultaneously is a classic expression of incredulity, meanwhile spilling a gob of tartar sauce on his green necktie: "Hark! Do my lobes deceive, or did I actually recognize an utterance of impudence emanating from the vocal cavity of my heir apparent, pray tell?"

Jack: "Oh, come off it, great leader, to heir is human, to give devine, so how about the magic wand for the bucket o' bolts so I can take the gang to the flivver flicks, eh pops?"

Father: "Hush, you young whippersnapper!"

Mother: "No, that's kippered snapper, Honey; Would you care for another serving?"

Father: "No thanks."

Mother: "Well, then, wipe the tartar sauce off your tie."

Father: "Please do not interrupt. I, as head tutor of the honorable Sir Francis Drake High School baseball team, am defending my honor and dignity against this brash young first baseman for the hated Redwood Giants who has the audacity to ask favors of me after what happened today."

Jack: "Hey, Mom, dig that dignity bit!"

Father: "Enough, young one."

Mother: "Aw, come on, Hon, just because Jack plays for Redwood and you coach at Drake there's no reason to get so mad."

Jack: "Pass the bread, oh mighty loser."

Father: "Well, at least he could show a little respect for the great bread winner of this clan."

Jack: "Pass the bread, oh mighty loser."

Father; "See? See? Impudence! And he has the nerve to ask for the family chariot. Of all people! It was bad enough when Redwood barely beat us the first time. But today, he just smiled for seven innings when they beat us 8 to 1."

Jack: "Aw, pops, I didn't smile . . ."

Father: "Oh no? Then how'd all those gnats get on your teeth? You scored a run and participated in a double play. I saw you laughting and joking. And now you ask for my Edsel with the Hupmobile engine. Never in my life!"

Jack: "Pass your tie, pops. We're out of tartar sauce."

Father: "Ohmigawd!"

Mother: "Please let him use the car, Father. Come on, give him the keys."

Father: "Pow! I'll give him the keys right in the mouth!"

As the curtain descends, Pater Fitz resignedly tosses keys in a perfect strike to son Jack, who pauses on his way out the door to remark: "Thanks, Casey. Sorry you lost 10 straight games. Remember, it's not that you win or lose, but how you play the game. Ten straight? Say, Pops, how do YOU play the game?"

NFL Mum On 16th Team

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 16th team in the National Football League still is Team X and will not be named until some time before the college draft.

Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner, insisted today that the owners had made no decision on the expansion club and would not make any at the spring meetings that opened yesterday. "We have no deadline," he said but admitted it should be before the draft.

"We are having representatives of the seven cities in here Wednesday," said Rozelle. "They will bring us up to date on stadium plans and make their presentations. We are very proud of the caliber of people who are coming, including governors and mayors."

Houston; New Orleans, La.; Seattle, Wash., Cincinnati; Boston; Portland, Ore.; and Phoenix, Ariz. are due to make their best sales pitch to the owners. Each will have 15 minutes to tell his story.

"I have read three different reports that three different cities have it locked up," said Rozelle. "It simply is not true. We have not made up our minds. After we get the presentations we will be ready for some important discussions. There will be no decision at these meetings."

Rozelle expects Team X to be ready to field a ball club for the 1967 season. The league will be divided into an Eastern Conference and Western Conference with each conference split into two four-club divisions. That will set up playoffs for each conference title before the league championship game.

If it comes down to a matter of immediate stadium availability, Houston would appear to have an edge because the Astrodome is wide open. However, that would involve a hand-to-hand war with the rival Houston Oilers of the American Football League.

Rozelle said last night that three other cities had the possibility of using interim stadiums until their own could be built. New Orleans presumably could play in the Sugar Bowl, Cincinnati at Crosley Field and Seattle at the University of Washington. Rozelle emphasized he did not know if such permission would be available.

When the city is selected, the Western Conference members will have their choice between Atlanta and the new city. When Dallas and Minnesota were admitted, the East had the choice and took Dallas. Atlanta, however, counts in the East standings in 1966 only.

The NFL studied means of winning the all-out talent war with the AFL, expected to flare up next fall. A central scouting system with pooled information on college athletes was discussed.

The league decided to extend the goal posts 20 feet above the cross bar to help officials in making calls on field goals.

The league denied their was any connection between the innovation and the disputed field goal by Don Chandler of Green Bay in last season's tie playoff game with Baltimore. The Colts claimed the field goal was no good, but the Packers won 13-10 and went on to beat Cleveland for the title.

Beard Wins In Stirring Comeback

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—This gracious old city prides itself on its hospitality and has been trying ever since 1964 to make up for the trouble which befell Frank Beard here.

That year the bespectacled golfer came to New Orleans to play golf. He made no money and went away with encephalitis—a killer disease sometimes called sleeping sickness.

Beard almost died. He was administered the final rites by a Roman Catholic priest. But he recovered to return to New Orleans again.

Last year Beard returned to the city. A pretty blonde airline hostess named Pat Roberts flew in from Dallas and the two had their first date. They came back together last Oct. 30 and were married.

New Orleans still wanted to make amends. So this year Frank Beard conquered the fairways of Lakewood Country

Santa Clara Gets All-Star Cager

SANTA CLARA (AP) — Ralph Ogden, a 6-foot-5 forward last month named to the All-American high school basketball team, has announced he will enroll at the University of Santa Clara next fall.

He will join his brother, Bud, a 6-foot-6 forward - center who also plays for the Broncos.

Ogden averaged 24 points a game in leading Lincoln High School of San Jose to an undefeated, 29-9, season last year.

3-Game Series In Dodgerville

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pitcher Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants and catcher John Roseboro of the Los Angeles Dodgers face each other in Dodger Stadium tonight for the first time since their celebrated bat incident of last August 22.

The bat incident was unclear when it happened, and little light has been shed since. It is established that in the altercation, Roseboro's head was gashed, and Marichal was later fined $1,750 and suspended eight playing dates.

Both had plenty to say at the time, but now don't want to talk of it at all, saying "It's still in the courts." The reference is to the still-pending $110,000 law suit that Roseboro brought against the Giants' ace righthander.

Roseboro said Marichal, at the plate, hit him on the head with a bat. Marichal said Roseboro had returned a ball so close to his head that it nicked his ear. At any rate, Roseboro will be behind the plate tonight for the third-place Dodgers and the unbeaten Marichal—aiming for his eighth straight victory—is scheduled to pitch for the first-place Giants.

They've met on the field since the incident, but not in Roseboro's home park, Dodger Stadium. There was apparent coolness between the two, but nothing happened in their Candlestick Park meeting earlier this month in San Francisco, the scene of the incident.

Marichal, whose latest argument was with Giants' management over the subject of increased salary, goes into the game with an amazing 0.76 earned run average to go along with his seven victories.

He'll be opposed by another right-hander whose spring financial demands made news, namely Don Drysdale, 2-4 for the season and victim of Marichal's 8-1 victory last May 3 in Candlestick.

That early triumph was part of a three-game sweep that started the Giants on a 12-game winning streak in a surge that has boosted them five games

TV COVERAGE

All three of the Giants-Dodgers games in Los Angeles this week will be televised by KTVU, Channel 2, starting at 7:55 p.m. each day with a pre-game warmup show starting at 7:40 and post-game show at approximately 10:45.

Daniele Continues To Lead Bat Race

Terra Linda High's slugger Fred Daniele continued to lead most batting departments in the Marin Athletic League baseball race through last week's games, with a .414 average, 12 runs batted in, 2 home runs and 2 triples.

Mike Einstein, Tamalpais first sacker, moved into second place in the batting derby with a .379 mark with Novato's John Dolinsek third at .360.

In team batting, Terra Linda held a firm grip on first place at .257 average, although the Trojans are sixth place in won-lost standings.

Tam's Ron Gilliam, however, is the big winner with a 5-1 mark and leads strikeouts with 47, one more than Marin Catholic's Ben Burch.

BEARD

Club, beating Jack Nicklaus and Tony Lema for largest check of his career.

Beard won the $20,000 first prize money in the Greater New Orleans Open yesterday.

"He played in the pro-am, then slept for 17 hours, got up and played in the 1964 tourney," said Mrs. Beard, expecting her first child in early August.

He didn't survive the 36-hole cut. Three tournaments later he managed to win $1,500 although ready to sleep at the drop of a hat.

He started by car from Miami, Fla., for his parents' home at Louisville, Ky. "He told me that he couldn't drive for more than 45 minutes without stopping to sleep," said Mrs. Beard.

He dropped into a coma as soon as he reached home.

"They gave him three kinds of antibiotics," said Mrs. Beard. "They don't know which one worked. The doctor said his being an athlete helped pull him through."

Pat says her husband is deeply religious and she thinks that accounts for his miraculous recovery.

Beard started out one stroke behind Nicklaus and Lema. Nicklaus canned a birdie putt on the first hole and appeared ready to walk away with the title.

Beard said an eagle at No. 5, a par 5 hole, gave him a lift. But the biggest one came on the ninth green where Nicklaus knocked in a birdie putt to tie "and I managed to get a birdie too and stay ahead."

Beard fired a sizzling 67 for a 72-hole score of 276. Gardner Dickinson finished second, two strokes behind. Nicklaus had to settle for a third-place tie with Lema, Miller Barber and Bob Goalby.

The victory pushed Beard's 1966 earnings to $45,903—more than he made officially for all of 1965.

ANOTHER TICKET TO THE WORLD SERIES?

Twins' El Curvo Ahead Of 1965 Pace

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

Camilo Pascual is two weeks ahead of his 1965 pitching timetable and barring another derailment could be the ticket to another American League pennant for the Minnesota Twins.

Pascual was left waiting at the station most of last season because of a shoulder ailment, but an operation during the summer made the Cuban righthander the feared "El Curvo" once more.

Prior to the injury, which at first was diagnosed as a tumor but turned out to be several torn muscles which had formed into a knot, Pascual won eight straight with his sixth victory coming on May 30.

With his fast ball humming once more, Pascual won his sixth game of the 1966 season yesterday and at this rate could easily surpass his best year of 21 victories in 1963.

Minnesota's 2-1 triumph over Washington, the only action in the major leagues, was achieved on a two-out bases-loaded walk in the ninth inning and moved the Twins to within five games of first place Cleveland in the American League.

Harmon Killebrew touched off the winning rally against Washington starter Phil Ortega with a single. Andy Kosco ran for him and was forced at second by Sandy Valdespino. Bernie Allen than singled and Casey Fox replaced Ortega.

Cox intentionally walked Mincher to load the bases, and got Zoilo Versalles to hit into a force play at the plate. Cox, however, couldn't find the strike zone against Cesar Tovar and walked him four for four pitches to push across the deciding tally.

Jim King's first homer of the year in the fourth inning had tied the score at 1-1 for Washington after Minnesota tallied a run in the third on a triple by Versalles and a sacrifice fly by Tovar.

Pascual emerged unscathed from a Senator threat in the third when Ortega and Fred Valentine singled to put runners on first and third. Frank Howard ended the Washington march by forcing Valentine at second base.

A one-time wearer of the Washington uniform before his club moved from the nation's capital to Minnesota, Pascual now has beaten the Senators 13 times in 14 decisions.

Clay And Thornton Predict Kayo Wins In Title Fights

Cassius Says Cooper Too Nice To Cut

LONDON (AP) — World heavyweight champion Cassius Clay claims he will knock out Henry Cooper in their May 21 title fight at London's Arsenal Soccer Stadium.

"I will knock Cooper cold with a good, clean punch," he told newsmen yesterday.

Clay stopped Cooper with cut eyes in the fifth round of their previous London fight in 1963.

Asked if he planned to cut up Cooper again, Clay retorted:

"I do not deliberately cut people. Cooper is too nice a man for me even to think of such a thing."

Clay put in six devastating rounds with sparring partner Jimmy Ellis at his White City Stadium guy yesterday.

Clay's speedy juggling with feet, fists, head and body frequently left Ellis undecided and off stride.

Ellis tried a fast left hook — Cooper's best punch — on Clay, but the champion steered it off target with his own left and cracked a right on Ellis' jaw.

"Did you see that?" said Dundee, "That's what I call audacious. The boy's not only got a way to block Cooper's best punch, but a punch to rock him in the same move."

Torres Can't Go Distance, Says Fresnan

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Challenger Wayne Thornton predicts he will knock out light heavyweight champion Jose Torres in the 10th or 12th rounds in their title fight at New York's Shea Stadium Saturday night.

"I know I can take him and win the championship," the contender from Fresno said yesterday during a lull in training.

"Torres has never gone more than 10 rounds. If he doesn't get me by the fifth, I'm sure I'll have him the rest of the way. I intend to force the fight. It should be a rough one."

Thoronton underwent a physical examination by Dr. Erwin Campbell of the New York Athletic Commission, who pronounced the challenger fit.

"One of the most relaxed men I ever saw—he yawned throughout the examination," the doctor said.

Thornton will go six rounds each day Tuesday and Wednesday and then prepare to break camp.

Torres also underwent the routine checkup and was found in good shape.

"I feel good, I look good, I'm fast," Torres said.

REDWOOD GOLF TEAM CLINCHES TIE FOR TITLE

Redwood High School's golf team clinched at least a tie for the Marin Athletic League championship yesterday by whipping San Rafael High school 4-2 at the Meadow Club in Fairfax.

A win against Tamalpais or Marin Catholic in Redwood's final matches would give it sole possesison of the title. The Giants' record is now nine wins, no losses and one tie.

Redwood's Tim McMurray and San Rafael's Don Hawken and Doug Francisco tied for medalist honors, each shooting 2-over-par 37. Other Redwood winners were Norm Hantzsche, Dave Cardy and Bruce McGee.

Dressen In Hospital

DETROIT (UPI) —For the second time in two years, the Detroit Tigers are playing without their 67-year-old skipper Charlie Dressen.

Dressen was admitted to a Detroit hospital yesterday afternoon after complaining of arm and chest pains. Doctors feared that the veteran manager may have suffered his second heart attack in just over 14 months.

So for the second time since coming to Detroit with Dressen in 1963, Coach Bob Swift found himself managing a pennant-contending baseball team. He learned of Dressen's illness yesterday only an hour and one-half before the Tigers were to take the field against the St. Louis Cardinals for an exhibition game.

Show Interests Hunters, Anglers

A show of interest to hunters and fishermen, the Northern California Mobile Home and Travel Trailer Show, will open tomorrow at the San Francisco Cow Palce and run through Sunday.

The show will feature more than 100 travel trailers and mobile homes of all sizes, and in all price ranges from $1,000. Many of these travel trailers are ideal for the hunter or fishermen, and sleep up to eight persons.

The show is open each day from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., except Sunday (10 a.m. to 7 p.m.). Admission is $1 for adults, 50 cents for children 6-14, and children under six will be admitted free. The show is sponsored by the Trailer Coach Assn.

ahead of the Dodgers.

Marichal's 112-52 record is the best winning percentage in the National League for active pitchers with 100 or more decisions, and he stands 18-8 against the Dodgers. Drysdale has a giant-killing record 29-21 in his favor.

The bitter intra-state rivalry continues tomorrow, with the Giants scheduled to send lefty Joe Gibbon against L.A.'s Claude Osteen and Thursday when newcomer Ray Sadecki, like Gibbon a lefty, likely to oppose Dodger ace Sandy Koufax.

L.A. Angels Boom; Mays' May Swoon

by BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Figuring The Majors:

THE WEEK-END series against Boston which drew 81,699 in new Anaheim Stadium lifted the California Angels into the major league lead in home attendance with 386,810.. The Los Angeles Dodgers are next with 358,947, followed by the New York Mets with 342,936 and the Houston Astros, 299,035.

ALTHOUGH THIS will be a month Willie Mays is likely to remember because he broke the National League career home run record, the San Francisco star is batting only .245 in May. He's had 13 hits in 53 times at bat.

JOE MORGAN of Houston, the National League's leading batter with a .360 average, must enjoy hitting the the Astrodome. He's batting .426 in 16 games there. His average for 14 road games is only .280.

THERE'S A good reason why the Cleveland Indians are leading the American League. Of the 24 games they've played, the Indians have been involved in 13 one-run games and won 10 of them.

SINCE HE was moved back to second base on May 5, Cincinnati's Pete Rose is hitting at a .348 pace with 16 hits in 46 tries. Before that, he was batting only .209. Rose started the season at third base to make room for Tommy Helms. The latter since has moved to the hot corner.

QUICK QUERY: Which National League pitcher has struck out 10 or more hitters in a game the most times this season? Not the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax or the Reds' Jim Maloney, but Bob Gibson of St. Louis. Gibson has done it three times.

GEORGE SCOTT, Boston's rookie first baseman, has a .716 slugging average. He has three doubles and three triples to go with a eague-leading 11 homers among 36 hits. Scott has compiled 78 total bases in 109 times at bat.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

STEVENS

The fisherman, a young fellow who was a beginner in the hunt for striped bass and sturgeon, was all eager-like. "It couldn't have been a bass," he said, "unless he was a whopper. I guess it was a huge sturgeon. He acted different than any bass I have ever caught, though. It seemed like he was shaking his head—sort of an up-and-down action."

"Like a big bird — kinda fluttering," asked an old timer at China Camp.

"Yeah, that's it!"

The old timer walked away. Why spoil the kid's big thrill by telling him it probably was a big stingaree.

ALICE QUAN of China Camp reported practically no stripers were caught over the weekend, but that there were lots of sting rays and skates in the neighborhood.

REGARDING THE underwater fliers: A skate acts very much like a stingaree when hooked, but, while the latter is worthless as food for the table, the skate — or rather, the skate wings — are a true delicacy to the lover of fish food. Occasionally you will note skate wings on the menu of a restaurant specializing in fancy fish food.

IN CASE you happen to land a skate, cut off the wings close tot he body, parboil them long enough to make it easy to strip off the outside skin and cook them. They really are fine eating.

You won't mistake a sting ray for a skate if you remember that a skate has a somewhat pointed snout which appears almost transparent, while a sting ray's nose is blunt, and of a solid brown. Also, the stinger has a razor sharp spearlike spine on its tail near the body which can inflict a mighty painful sting.

MAKING A telephone contact over some of the local area I am forced to pronounce salmon trolling very poor up until Sunday, ditto the striped bass yield in the San Pablo Bay.

There is some rather good news to pass along. From Lee Anderson's Oakland shop I learned that the boat R.S.P. worked the area in the Bay Bridge locale and netted 9 bass to 18 pounds, and Arnold Montario and friend limited out with stripers to 24 pounds at the South Tower of the G.G. Bridge. (I understood that both the bay bridge report and the south tower action was had by trolling.)

Strampe Fires Best ABC Score; 8 Still Unbeaten

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Bob Strampe of Detroit fired a four-game series of 996 yesterday, the best score of the American Bowling Congress Masters Tournament finals, to move into a select circle of eight undefeated contestants.

Tommy Tuttle of King, N.C., Al Thompson of Cleveland; Tom Harnisch of Bufalo; Karl Winfield of Los Angeles; Marv Lowry of Birmingham, Ala.; George Howard of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Gene Raffel of Milwaukee were the only other unbeaten finalists.

Strampe rolled games of 213, 248, 288 and 247 in his big series late last night to defeat Les Schissler of Denver by 213 pins.

Tuttle tied Larry Cassera of Glens Falls, N.Y., 811-811, but won a one-game roll-off, 201-166.

Howard, at 5-foot-7 and 112 pounds the smallest of the finalists, has the best over-all record. He has won three straight matches with series of 972, 924 and 863 for an average of nearly 230.

Defending champion Bill Welu of St. Louis was one of several top-ranking stars dropped into the losers bracket yesterday.

Former champions Harry Smith of Redwood City, Calif., and Don Carter of St. Louis joined the once-beaten ranks. All-Star titlist Dick Weber of St. Louis also is a one-time loser.

The Masters, a companion event to the ABC Tournament, ends Wednesday night with a match for the $4,000 title.

Two Marin Winners In Swimming Meet

Ken DeMont of the Ann Curtis Swim Club and Bonnie Halloran of the San Rafael Swim Club were first place winners at the Flying Fins meet last weekend at San Lorenzo.

Ken won the 25-yard freestyle for boys 8 and under and Miss Halloran won the 50-yard backstroke for girls 10 and under.

Other point winners for the Ann Curtis team were Jim Tufts and Rick DeMont, while JoAnn Hislop and Laura Listug placed for the San Rafael Swim Club. Sisters Bebe and Leslie Bryans, affiliated with the San Rafael team but swimming unattached, also placed.

A BATH FOR FRISKY KAUAI KING

PREAKNESS RACE SATURDAY

Kauai King On The Spot

The tentative line-up lists nine 3-year-olds who will oppose Mike Ford's Kentucky Derby winner and talk in the opposition camps is that they're not here for second, third or fourth money.

For instance, trainer Jim Padgett of Blue Skyer: "He should run a big race and I think we have a good chance to win this one," said the son of the principal owner of the colt.

Like many of the others, Padgett also found an excuse and also encouragement in the Blue Skyer's Derby performance. The gray colt suffered a head virus shortly before the Derby and Padgett said, "He was behind two weeks in his training."

Padgett hesitated about entering the one and one-eigth mile Derby, but when he did Blue Skyer put on a rallying finish for third place, beaten only half a length and a nose. "He was a tired horse at the end of the Derby," Padgett said.

Another example of the prove-it-to-me-again school is trainer Joe Considine of Exceedingly. About a month ago, Exeedingly was 24 lengths behind Kauai King in the Prince Georges Stake at Bowie.

Prefacing his remarks by saying he didn't want to alibi, Considine said it was the first time Exceedingly raced in mud and he showed he didn't cotton to it and secondly it was the first race in two months for the colt.

"He should be at his best for the Preakness," declared Considine, unless it rains and then he'll scratch Exceedingly.

Trainer Lucien Lauren is another who has hinted he feels Amberoid did not have a chance to show his best in the Derby. The colt, owned by Reginald N. Webster, stumbled at the start and never did catch up, finishing seventh.

Others from the Derby field poised to tackle Kauai King again are Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Advocator (second); Wheatley Stable's Stupendous (fourth); Robert Lehman's Rehabilitate (sixth), and Paul Ternes and James Bartlett's Williamston Kid (11th).

Expected to join them in the one and three-sixteenths mile race are Mrs. Edward Lasker's Indulto, last Saturday's winner of the Withers Mile, and either Exhibitionist or Understanding from the stable of trainer Hirsch Jacobs.

Miller Suffers Second Pro Loss

Steve Miller of San Anselmo, former Drake High star now pitching for Durham, N.C., Houston Astros farm club in the Class A Carolina League, lost another game, it was reported from Player Periscope of Novato.

Miller worked three innings of one game, giving up 10 hits and two walks, while striking out one. He now has a 1-2 win-loss record in 14 innings pitched, and has a 4.50 earned run average. He has given up 22 hits, 10 walks, and has fanned 7.

FINAL MARIN SWIM SCORES

Final team scores in the Marin Athletic League swimming and diving championships held Saturday at Novato High School, as announced yesterday by the host school:

Class A — Terra Linda 77, San Rafael 69, Drake 55, Tamalpais 50, Redwood 27, Novato 4;

Class B — Tamalpais 80, San Rafael 71, Novato 38, Drake 27, Redwood 23, Terra Linda 21.

Mrs. Sarm Winner In Golf Tourney

Mrs. W. I. Sarm shot a net 73 to win Championship Flight honors yesterday in the Oakview Ladies Rover Club championship tourney at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club in San Rafael.

Winners were:

WOMEN'S CHAMP WINS ACE TOURNEY

Mrs. Charles Gondak of 6 Stanford Court, Larkspur, who only last Thursday captured the Marin Country Club's women's spring handicap golf championship, followed up that performance with another title Saturday.

Beating all the men in the field, Mrs. Gondak won the Redwood High School Benchwarmer's Club's benefit hole-in-one contest at the Redwood football field!

One of her tee shots hit the pin and came to rest only seven inches from the hole. She was awarded a $50 savings bond for first place.

Second place went to Dr. John McGee, the Meadow Club sharpshooter, whose shot landed 16 inches from the cup and earned him a suitcase as prize.

One of the most valuable prizes was won by Mrs. McGee—two tickets to a Giants-Dodgers game at Candlestick Park this season.

Contest chairman Bert LeBeck, who was instrumental in obtaining more than $600 worth of merchandise prizes for the event, said the tournament netted $300 for the benefit of Benchwarmer Club projects in support of Redwood High School athletics.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Most Unlucky Hand: Misplayed By Both Sides In Tournament

"That was one of the unluckiest hands I ever played," South remarked as the opponents chalked up 100 points.

"No, the bad luck was mine," North corrected him. "Anybody else at the table would have made the slam."

Opening lead — ◇ 10

Declarer took the first diamond trick in dummy, discarding a heart from his hand.

He then led a trump from dummy, discovering the bad news when East discarded a diamond.

TRIED FINESSE

South took two high trumps, led a heart to dummy and tried the club finesse. West thereupon defeated the contract with a club and a spade.

We have all seen unluckier hands, but South did have something to gripe about.

Still, North was right also. South had two chances to make his slam despite the bad breaks in both black suits.

SHOULD RUFF

South should ruff the first diamond, draw two top trumps and cash the top hearts. When the queen and jack fall, South can lead a heart to the 10 and give West his trump trick.

West must return a diamond, and South can then discard three clubs on the ace of diamonds and the two long hearts.

South killed this plan when he was in such a hurry to discard a heart at the first trick.

MISPLAYED TRICK

Even after South had misplayed the first trick he could still make the slam.

After taking two high trumps he should lead a heart to dummy, ruff the jack of diamonds, lead another heart to dummy and ruff a heart.

Declarer then gives West his trump trick. If West returns a diamond, dummy ruffs and cashes two hearts, giving South three discards for the clubs.

If West returns a club, South gets a free finesse and gets to dummy by ruffing a club for a good heart.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid 1 notrump. Do not raise partner's suit even though you have two very good cards in his suit. You need more than two trumps to raise.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, May 17, the 137th day of 1966 with 228 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase; the morning stars are Venus and Saturn; the evening star is Jupiter.

British physician Edward Jenner, discoverer of smallpox vaccine was born on this day in 1749.

On this day in history:

In 1875, the first Kentucky Derby was held at Churchill Downs in Louisville, Ky. It was won by "Aristides."

In 1954, in a unanimous decision the Supreme Court ruled that racial segregation in the nation's public schools was unconstitutional.

In 1961, Premier Fidel Castro's offer to return Bay of Pigs prisoners in exchange for 500 bulldozers was refused by the U. S. government.

A thought for the day — President Franklin D. Roosevelt; "It is an unfortunate human failing that a full pocketbook often groans more loudly than an empty stomach."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

School Spending Has Opportunity

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Spending for education is going up. Business is spending more in the booming education market. And many a firm is pretty happy about the results and prospects.

Industry's investment in education is twofold. First is the growing volume of grants for research and scholarships and outright gifts, now running around $250 million a year. Second is the entry of hitherto outsiders into the education field as suppliers or partners.

Both approaches bring results. Research and scholarships fertilize the field from which business harvests future products and management. The second venture, teaming up to supply needs popping up in an age of pressure for more educational facilities and supplies, looks like a profitable venture to an increasing number of established business firms in other fields.

The roster is a long one. Just as big is the opportunity—and still growing.

Education-oriented firms have been prospering right along with the striking growth in the number seeking more education and training. They include textbook publishers, furniture makers, athletic equipment providers. But recently companies with quite different origins and activities have been linking up with those already in the field.

Mergers of acquisitions of firms already in the school and college supply business have blossomed fast in recent months. Some companies also have set up joint ventures to enter the field. Others have formed new companies or subsidiaries to meet a newly apparent need.

International Telephone & Telegraph plans to merge with Howard W. Sams & Co., a publisher and printer of books, magazines, training and reference services. Radio Corp. of America has acquired Random House, a publishing house that foresees a revolution in education in the next 10 years. International Business Machines took over Science Research Associates, a publisher of educational materials and psychological tests.

With 4.5 million enrolled in U.S. colleges today—and enrollment expected to double by 1973 or 1974—education is looking more and more like a prime business venture.

Life Firm Picks Man

SAN FRANCISCO—San Francisco Life Insurance Co. directors have elected Donald R. Thomas of San Lorenzo as assistant secretary and chief underwriter, John K. Rowlan of Lafayette as controller and A. Donald Clerihue of San Fran cisco as assistant actuary.

Market Fizzles Out In Space Failure

NEW YORK (AP) —The stock market closed lower today after an early rally fizzled. Trading was active.

The initial advance, a lively one, came to a halt just after news came that the Gemini 9 space mission had been ruined by failure of the Agena satellite.

Market technicians said this served as an "excuse' 'for the list to down again.

Volume for the day was estimated at 9.5 million shares compared with 9.27 million Monday.

The list was advancing when news came of the Agena failure. The rally stalled. Prices remained higher as trading slackened. Then selling began in the afternoon. The list went lower on balance.

Boeing, already upset by news of a mishap to one of its planes, widened its loss to 6 points. Lockheed, prime contractor for the Agena, was off nearly a point.

Many important gains throughout the list were trimmed. In some instances they were replaced with losses.

Previously rallying airlines reversed their direction. Eastern sank about 4½, United Aircraft and Pan American 2 each.

General Motors held about half of a gain that earlier had exceeded a point.

Eastman Kodak and Westinghouse Electric held 1-point gains and Du Pont was up about 2½. SCM was active and up about 2.

Greyhound, Ltd., Pays

CHICAGO—The board of directors of Greyhound Lines of Canada, Ltd., a subsidiary of Greyhound Corp., has declared a regular quarterly dividend on the common stock of 20 cents a share. The dividend is payable July 1 to shareholders of record June 1.

Marin's Bank Debits Climbing

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco reported unadjusted bank debits of $179,770,000, compared with $172,736,000 in April a year ago. Unadjusted deposits were $78,895,000, compared with $78,819,000 for the same month in 1965.

Adjusted debits, deposits and turnover ratios are not compiled for Marin County, since figures have not been reported for a long enough period to make adjustments for seasonal fluctuations.

Tamalpais High Print Shop Man Joins Son

Both Schroeder and his son studied printing under Jules Chouree, retired print shop head. Schroeder, formerly associated with Andrews Printing Co., San Rafael will open his new shop June 1.

Sears Chairman Tells Plan For Retirement

CHICAGO—An "extra salesman" from Oakland who advanced through the ranks to become chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Sears, Roebuck and Co. has announced he will retire next Jan. 31.

Austin T. Cushman told shareholders at the annual meeting that the company's nominating committee will recommend a successor to the board of directors later this year.

HOUSING FOR SUMMER TRAVEL. This "Camper Special Package" featuring built-in heavy-duty drive line and chassis components in a Ford F-250 light truck is one of a number of models to be on display in the Ford Camper Caravan at Ames Ford Sales next Tuesday, May 24, including expandable, chassis and cab-over mounts. Vehicles will range from the 26-foot Condor accommodating eight people to the compact Bronco.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

New Ford Campers Due In Marin For Summer Recreation Activities

Summer is only a few degrees Fahrenheit around the corner, and more than ever this year one of the biggest booms in outdoor recreation in many a season will take on added impetus.

This is in the sale of "campers" which seem to be making great headway in replacing the small size trailer in the mobile housing field.

Unlike the trailer, the camper is not towed, but is mounted on and is usually removable from a pick-up truck, making that vehicle available for other purposes when necessary. The truck is generally matched for size and weight of its superstructure with special equipment to handle an overload.

A "Ford Camper Caravan" sponsored by Ford dealers in this region and on tour of 40 Northern California cities will put in appearance in Marin next Tuesday at Ames Ford Sales in San Rafael. The 17 units making up the caravan will include a wide selection of late models, some of them expandable as much as 10 feet in size from their over-the-road length.

Camper manufacturers from all over the state are participating in the program.

DON R. SACCANI, president of Anchor Distributing Co., San Rafael introduced a new member of the Hamm's brewing family to the trade at his warehouse last Friday night—canned draft beer.

Cans are all aluminum and seamless, which gives the bacteria no place to hide—an important factor in the new popular packaging of draft beer in small, take-home containers. Unlike ordinary packaged beer, draft beer is not pasteurized and several processes are used by brewers to destroy and inhibit bacteria. Hamm's uses a filtration process.

WILLIAM RAKESTRAW, who has Rakestraw's Loch Lomond Market in San Rafael, is planning on opening a branch market in the Russian River resort of Rio Nido. Store is now being remodeled for its opening, which Rakestraw hopes will be in time for the Memorial Day weekend.

SIMPLIFIED BUSINESS SERVICES, Mill Valley, operated by Brian Rowlands and his new associate Peter Gilliam, has gone into the electronic data processing field and now provides this service for small businesses.

PHILIP L. FLAX of San Rafael, who heads Flax's Artist Materials in San Francisco, has announced plans to move from 255 Kearny Street to 250 Sutter Street in August. The latter address is the site of the old Goldberg-Bowen grocery store. Extensive remodeling will be started shortly on facade, main floor, mezzanine and basement. The 27,000 square feet of floor space will probably make Flax's the largest specialty store of its kind in the world.

M. DOUGLAS WOODRING of Ross has been promoted to banking services officer in the business development and customer relations department at Wells Fargo Bank's metropolitan division in San Francisco. He joined the bank in 1964 as a management trainee.

INSURANCE MEETINGS. Five Metropolitan Life salesmen from the San Rafael office attended last week's business conference in Newport Beach. James Crean of Corte Madera; David Berwick of San Rafael; Eugene Coppini of Novato; Lewis Burge of San Anselmo and Robert Johnson of Petaluma . . . Miss Corita Bergman, assistant office supervisor in the San Rafael office of Prudential Insurance, was at a training conference in Los Angeles last week. . . . Carroll Walker of San Rafael, agent for Northwestern Mutual Life, was at the recent gathering of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters in Hawaii.

Sears Income Gains By 10.1 Per Cent

CHICAGO — Sears, Roebuck and Co.'s first quarter net income will be approximately 10.1 per cent higher than the record set last year, Austin T. Cushman, chairman of the board, told shareholders at the company's annual meeting.

Earnings for the three months ended April 30 are estimated at $49,617,000, or 33 cents per share, Cushman said. This compares with $45,069,000, or 30 cents per share in the same period of fiscal 1965.

Big Fertilizer Plant Pact Set

CHICAGO—An agreement has been signed in India providing for participation by a subsidiary of Standard Oil Co. of Indiana in a major nitrogenous fertilizer plant at Madras.

Negotiations for the plant were concluded by representatives of the Indian government, which will own 51 per cent, and American International Oil Co., Standard's subsidiary repsonsible for operations outside North America.

The fertilizer plant, India's largest, will process naptha from the Madras refinery, yielding about 200,000 tons a year of nitrogen equivalent fertilizer, plus other products.

Man Of Year Selected

LAS VEGAS — George D. Booth, merchandising manager of Chrysler Corp.'s marine and industrial products group, has been named international sales promotion man-of-the-year.

Required Blood Test Bill Infringes On Our Rights

It may be too late to stop the so-called "implied consent" bill that would force drunken drivers to submit to a blood test.

Most legislators are reluctant to oppose the bill (SB-3) with too much vigor for fear of being accused of defending drunken driving.

However, several legislators, notably Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Oakland, and Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, have spoken out against the bill during committee hearings. Some of those arguments bear repeating.

1. Assume that an officer asks a man to submit to a test, and the man says nothing. Or assume that the man is a diabetic, who acts almost exactly like a drunk when he suffers a diabetic seizure. In his incoherent state, he may refuse to submit to a test. Whether he refuses or says nothing, the officer's testimony can bring automatic suspension of driver's license for six months.

2. Supposing you are driving over a lonely stretch of desert road 50 miles from nowhere, and an officer stops you for speeding or other violation. If he happens to be a spiteful or an ornery officer, he could make it rough on the driver. He could "suspect" that you had been drinking and ask you to submit to a blood test.

To comply would mean accompanying him 50 miles back into the closest town, and to refuse would be automatic suspension of license for six months.

3. The ultimate guilt or innocence of a driver has no bearing on the loss of license. The moment an officer arrests you on suspicion of drunken driving, you either submit to a test or lose your license. And that six-month suspension stands, even if a subsequent trial acquits you of the drunken driving charge.

4. The law would discriminate against California drivers. If an out of state driver refused to submit to a test, how would California suspend his license?

5. This is ex-post facto legislation, which says in effect that California motorists consented to submit to a chemical test when they got their licenses three or five years ago.

We all agree that drunken driving and highway deaths should be cut down. But in our eagerness to do so, aren't we giving up too much of the basic individual rights which we once regarded as inviolable?

If we start yielding blood or other body fluids under coercion, then it's just a short step before we begin submitting to stomach pumps or truth serum tests, all in the name of fighting vice, crime or highway carnage.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

ROUND THE WORLD ON ONE LEG

A former Paris tailor is walking around the world on one leg and an artificial limb.

In Turkey, recently, having walked his way through 14 countries, he told interviewers: "I love walking and do not consider myself handicapped, having only one leg."

From Turkey, the adventurous 62-year-old bachelor intends to walk to Iran, India and the Far East and go to the U.S. by ship.

He had become bored as a tailor and then won several walking races in France. Newspapers praised him as "the man who challenges his disability."

"I don't know when I shall complete the world tour," the one-legged man concluded. "All I know is that I want to walk until I die."

Persons with big objectives usually push on despite handicaps that would dishearten most people.

Set your sights on heaven and you will more easily overcome the trials and temptations that beset people who have no goal in life.

"I press on toward the goal, to the prize of God's heavenly call in Christ Jesus."
(Philippians 3:14)

Keep me conscious, O Holy Spirit, of why I am here, where I came from and where I am going.

Some Who Quit Work Finding Way To Get Unemployment Pay

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Under present law, people who quit their jobs voluntarily, without good cause, are disqualified from participating in the benefits of unemployment insurance.

However, some unions have discovered a way in which claimants can avoid the disqualification, have their cake and eat it to.

The California Unemployment Insurance Appeals board in a 2-1 decision some time ago furnished aid and comfort to claimants seeking ways and means for this avoidance in a decision which gave benefits to a babysitter.

THE CLAIMANT filed for insurance, giving her last employment as a babysitter. She had quit a previous job voluntarily and without good cause to move out of her community. All the benefits she drew were charged to the reserve account of her previous employer.

Thus, although revisions in the code were designed to protect the previous employer from just such a charge, and the public from unwarranted raids on the insurance fund, the subterfuge was found to be legal by the appeals board.

The collection process is relatively simple. Anyone so desiring can quit a job voluntarily and without good cause, work an hour or so for another employer, earn a couple of dollars, file for unemployment insurance, and get paid.

Reason is the eligibility qualification was decided by the appeals board on the basis of the "last" employment, which in the case of the babysitter was the job of babysitting in employment not covered by the code, rather than the job she quit voluntarily and without good cause.

THIS PROCESS became known in some union circles as "tricks of the trade," in other words, a trick to despoil the unemployment insurance fund of monies designed to be made available to the legitimately unemployed.

The California Teamsters Union recently advised members: "If not eligible because you have quit work, don't file for benefits, but get a one day job picking peaches for a friend, or do some limited work for a neighbor, or work a few hours as a babysitter. Then file."

One member of the unemployment insurance appeals board, Lowell Nelson, former official of the California State Federation of Labor, an appointee of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, is aiding and abetting this dissipation of insurance money.

Nelson on April 4 issued a letter on state stationery to persons who attended a referees forum last year, enclosing a bulletin advising that extra sessions of the same type of meeting scheduled for the latter part of this month in Fresno, would be held by labor representatives to "explain their tricks of the trade" to those who attend.

THIS LETTER was issued following Nelson's "aye" vote on the decision which gave benefits to the babysitter.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Thanks For Article, Editorial On College

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Thanks to you for the excellent editorial on the college in the May 6 issue of the Independent-Journal.

Thank you also for the feature in the magazine section written by Stephen Cook on the College of Marin commemorating our 40th Anniversary.

Your excellent support of the college has been an important factor in the college development and in improving its service to its students.

End Discrimination; Draft Women

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We hear much about discrimination against minority groups and against women.

Why don't we hear anything about discrimination against men in general, regardless of color or creed? There exists an emphatic discrimination against men due to the fact that women do not enjoy equal treatment in being drafted into military service. This condition should be promptly remedied!

I would say that women should be drafted to bear arms, but if discrimination against men should continue to the extent that women are not drafted to bear arms they could still be drafted to furnish manpower for the hundreds of support activities required by the military, thus releasing more men to bear arms (and more discrimination). Women could do most of the work in hospitals, mess halls, clerical offices, etc.

As long as politicians and various groups insist on eliminating discrimination we should make a clean sweep of the problem.

Another great injustice resulting from not drafting women results from the fact that the men have to leave school for military service leaving the women to finish their educations and obtain the jobs which many of the men would get if they were not drafted.

Where Are Public Servants?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

What happened to public servants?

I, as a commoner, have always believed that congressmen, judges, governors, presidents, etc., are elected by the people to express the people's wishes. This apparently is too much to ask. Although we pay their salaries and do the voting, we are certainly not the bosses.

It was dramatically brought forth in 1964 that the State Legislature had not conveyed the public's wishes by passing the "Rumford Forced Housing Act." As you know, the vote went "yes" on Proposition 14 by more than 2-to-1.

Now another (public servant?) is doing what is best for the public sheep. Lyndon B. Johnson has introduced the same type of legislation on a federal basis. Meanwhile, the State Supreme Court has also shown what it thinks of the public opinion by declaring Prop. 14 unconstitutional.

As a footnote to this, it is noteworthy to call attention to the fact that Gov. Pat Brown wants to put off the use of the repeal of Prop. 14 until after the election. He apparently isn't very proud of this forced housing, although he ramrodded it through the Legislature.

These "super human" officials, however, seem to think that they are quite qualified to overrule public opinion. I, for one, would like to put some public servants into office, and get these "superior beings" out.

What Does 'Negro' Add To News Story?

Editor, Independent-Journal

What does the word negro add to the news story enclosed (Apr. 26)? Not a thing except to make life more difficult for the negroes in general.

This type of reporting happens often in your paper — and should be eliminated—or the race of every person named in the news should be reported—which would be very stupid! Do you agree?

Fight For Freedom A Losing Battle

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. Cranston (and others) publicly remind us that communism and fascism were buddies during the rise of Third Reich. He warns that we would even now more likely find Communists in the "right wing" camp than in any other.

Since communism and fascism are still alike in that both require centralized control, and will use any means to gain that end, aren't we calling the wrong camp "right wing?"

I ask you to note the rise of the "Great Society." Even some of its early advocates are alarmed at lack of resistance to federal controls, which in the name of excellent causes like "War on Poverty," conservation, consumer education, etc., are clawing into every facet of American private life, too often invited by requests for unneeded federal aid.

Local administrators must abide by federal dictate, otherwise our forced contributions are withheld until we come around to the government's way of thinking. And who can count the dollar shrinkage in the bureaucratic jungle between Washington and here?

We move fast toward price and wage dictation in the name of another good cause —inflation control. That choking sensation we all feel is loss of freedom, which once lost is, historically, never regained. Listen to your candidates. Disregard labels pinned on them.

Anyone who presses for logical government spending, for more freedom of choice, for local effectiveness could not be a right or left wing extremists. He fights for your freedom and he fights a losing battle today.

BENNETT CERF

CAROL TRUAX, author of the flavorsome "Father Was a Gourmet," recalls how her doughty father, a Supreme Court judge for 28 years, presided with majestic grandeur at dinner parties which his wife took delight in arranging in his honor. Nor could any untoward mishap put a dent in his aplomb. One evening, for instance, he was carving a large goose when suddenly "the resisting bird with a great slide took wing and landed squarely" into a startled lady's pale-green-silk covered lap. Did Judge Truax apologize? Not he! He drew himself up majestically and boomed, "Madam, I'll trouble you for that goose."

ABE BURROWS, early in his career, not only wrote additional bits of business for a Broadway-bound musical, but appeared personally in it as well. The opening night audience was so ecstatic that nobody had to wait for the reviews to know they had a big, fat hit on their hands. Burrows, bubbling with joy, collared the producer, and demanded, "I want a star on my door—and I don't care who she is."

Unfinished Business May Be November's Political Issues

What they are talking about as issues now may look different by election time next November.

President Johnson is betting — or hoping — that the record of this Democratic-run Congress will be his party's chief inducement to the voters.

THAT'S THE BIG point he made in a speech last week at a Democratic fund-raising dinner.

Naturally, the outnumbered Republicans are hoping for something a little more irritating to talk about. It's been clear for some time what they would fasten on, or like to.

This is a guess since inflation, or the danger of it, may have retreated into the background by November and by then the war in Viet Nam may look less cloudy and frustrating, or the reverse.

JOHNSON, the master politician, knows as well as Nixon or anyone else that by November inflation and the Vietnamese war may plague the Democrats. He's not making them issues ahead of time.

This Congress made a splendid record last year. But this year he has run into some difficulty there and the final record for 1966 is months away.

The President predicted that "the American people are not going to disown the most productive Congress ever assembled." He said: "Together we have passed more laws for the good of more men, women and children than any one Congress since our nation was founded."

THIS PUT HIM and his Democrats of 1965-66 ahead of any Congress in the presidency of his hero, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

This week GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss said his surveys showed inflation to be a "major domestic issue, far beyond other domestic issues in recent years."

And Nixon chimed in to say the war in Viet Nam is just as big an issue "because the Democrats have made it so."

Johnson knows as well as Nixon and anyone else that by November the war in Viet Nam may be a plague to the Democrats. But he's not magnifying it ahead of time.

Instead, he spoke of it in a general way, urging Democrats to tell voters that "America will persevere until peace comes to Viet Nam."

BUT WHEN he added—"it is the stand the vast majority of Americans will respect," — he revealed why he hasn't given his critics added national attention by making a full-length reply to them.

He doesn't think his critics on Viet Nam make up a very large part of the population.

Relocation Of NATO May Cost $2 Billion

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Relocation of the scores of NATO bases, depots, supply, communications and other facilities in France, as adamantly demanded by President De Gaulle, could cost as much as $2 billion.

That's the jolting estimate General Lyman Lemnitzer, NATO commander, gave the House Foreign Affairs Committee at a private meeting. The committee was largely responsible for his recent visit to Washington for consultations. In a long session, he was questioned closely about NATO and De Gaulle.

While Lemnitzer did not directly discuss who would foot the huge bill for relocating the NATO installations, committeemen were left with the impression the U. S. would have to bear most of the expense — as it did in building them.

It was indicated Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is considering bringing much of the removable equipment back to the U. S. for storing as part of the strategic reserve. This plan is still in the discussion stage. Decision will depend on what is finally done about the NATO facilities.

OTHER SIGNIFICANT highlights brought out during Lemnitzer's meeting with the foreign affairs committee were:

Contingency plans for the defense of West Berlin are undergoing re-examination, including France's role. Still undetermined is France's participation in this urgently important study. The U.S. now has 5,200 troops in West Berlin; Britain, 3,200; France, around 3,000.

Maintenance of full NATO strength and defenses is now deemed more crucially essential than ever before because of Russia's modernization and mechanization of the 127 divisions it has stationed in easternEurope. Their fire power and mobility have been greatly increased.

THE U.S. is intently alert for a possible hostile Soviet move in Europe because of the intensifying conflict in Viet Nam and the mounting involvement of U. S. forces there.

President De Gaulle is giving no hint to his NATO allies on what he contemplates discussing with the Kremlin rulers during his visit next month. The imperious Frenchman has rebuffed efforts by British and German leaders to sound him out. Prime Minister Harold Wilson proposed flying to Paris to confer with De Gaulle, but was told he would be busy until July — after he returns from Moscow.

Questions by representatives Thomas Morgan, D-Pa., chairman, and E. Ross Adair, R-Ind., brought out the potential tremendous cost of moving NATO defenses in France to other countries.

"What will be the cost of relocating all these installations?" asked Adair. "The pipelines, air and communication facilities, the bases, depots, and NATO headquarters?"

"IF THAT BECOMES necessary," replied Lemnitzer, "it could be one of the most expensive military projects in history. The cost would run anywhere from $500 million to $2 billion, depending on the extent of the relocation."

"If De Gaulle goes through with his apparent plans," continued Adair, "do you anticipate that we will be denied supply depots and communication systems that can't be moved?"

"We are hoping to work out some arrangement so the pipelines will not be a complete loss," said Lemnitzer. "But there is no indication so far what De Gaulle will do about that."

"Won't the defense of Berlin be made more difficult by De Gaulle's actions?" asked Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen, R-N.J.

"They have raised new problems," agreed Lemnitzer. "Our review is designed to determine what changes will be necessary to support U.S., British and possibly the French forces now stationed in West Berlin."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By THERON NEWELL

Years-Old Election Signs Still Are On Novato Utility Poles

With the political pot boiling for the June primary, the last city election in Novato is all but forgotten. That is, forgotten except for some of the signs still visible on the utility poles. However, many of these have been covered by posters for the coming election.

When the election is over this fall, we wonder how many of them will still cling to the poles to slowly fade away in the winter rains? The city can boast of still having Clausen and Grader for Congress posters on some of the poles.

THERE IS SOME local opposition to the Novato Fire District buying a $70,000 aerial truck. There are those who think that this is a luxury piece of equipment which the district cannot afford.

When the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau made a study of Novato, it recommended that the district purchase such a truck and have a drill tower to train the firemen in fighting fires from heights.

The bureau's recommendations for a district to have such a truck are that there be 20,000 population or five buildings three stories or 35 or more feet in height.

Novato has these. So if the district wants to keep pace with the growth of the community, it should have such a truck.

If it does not keep pace with growth, and should have some tragic fire in one of its high rise buildings, the fire district would be the first to be criticized for not having it.

ONE UTILITY that has not kept pace with the growth of the city is that of the telephone service. The city is still divided so that residents have two phone companies. Many residents who live in the southern part of the city and have businesses in the San Rafael area, have phones from that exchange.

So it is still possible that people must pay a toll charge to talk to a neighbor across the street or a block from their house. Toll free service to other parts of the county could solve this.

There is one problem that cannot be solved by that. That is the lack of circuits which connect northern Novato with the outside world. Many times when a person dials "one" to make a toll call out of the city, he gets a busy signal. That means that all the equipment for handling long distance calls is busy.

When this happens occasionally, one does not think much of it, but there are times when it takes several minutes before a person can make a call out of the city. For all intents and purposes, Novato is cut off from the rest of the world for that period.

THE NEW Novato Square Shopping Center has the appearance of anything but a thing of beauty. It is understandable. Thousands of tons of dirt have been removed to make the various grades and levels for the buildings on the square.

This is just a sign of progress. One of these days there will be buildings on these pads and the appearance will be changed drastically.

In the meantime, one hopeful sign has appeared. Last week trees were planted in the squares in the sidewalk at the same intervals as those on Grant Avenue.

So the sidewalks around Novato Square now blend in very well with Grant Avenue. Overnight the appearance of the project was changed by the trees. They made a world of difference in the looks of it. When the building are constructed, suddenly the trees will come into their own and will be seen as a beautiful addition to the landscaping.

MORRIE RYSKIND

A gently critical note from a well-wisher, Mrs. J. R., praises me with faint damns: "You can be very amusing at times, but more frequently you are pessimistic. Is that a way to win friends and influence people?"

It is an old complaint, lady, and there's nothing much I can do about it. It's in the genes. Those of us who are descended from Cassandra know we can never hope for the popularity bestowed on the off-spring of Pollyanna. They are the eternal optimists who see only the doughnut and we the pessimists who are aghast at the size of the hole therein.

NOR DO WE derive any satisfaction from saying "I told you so," when one of our gloomy predictions comes to pass—for we are compelled to suffer along with the rest. So even when we see clearly what's coming up, inwardly we pray that we're wrong.

Thus, on the night of the last presidential election, as each of the returns added to the magnitude of the Johnson sweep, I wrote:

"For me and millions like me, this was Custer's Last Stand for the principles we devoutly believed in — and will believe in 'til our dying day. This was not just the scalping of one man or even the massacre of a political party—it was, we fear, the beginning of the end of a way of life that had brought more genuine liberty than man had ever known before.

"For, make no mistake about it, America has made a sharp turn to the left in this election. The revolution of 1776 has been overthrown by the counter-revolutionists of 1964; the sacred tenets of limited government and individual freedom and responsibility have been replaced—for better or for worse, only history can tell—by the doctrines of the welfare state, to be run by the Fabian carpetbaggers."

A DISMAL OUTLOOK, to be sure, and I was promptly reproved by many. A Tennessee reader sent me a copy of the far cheerier editorial on the election from his hometown paper. "Read this," he said, "and compare it with your own dire predictions. Then put it aside for a year or so, until this new administration has had a chance to function, and see it you haven't woefully exaggerated. And I trust you will then be man enough to eat your own words."

I did put the editorial aside and wrote the reader I accepted his challenge. But I mislaid it and had forgotten all about it till the other day when another Southern reader, bless her, sent me a copy of the editorial in question. Here then, for comparison, are some relevant quotations from it:

"Hopefully he (LBJ) will now give even closer scrutiny to the question of federal spending on giveaway programs at home and abroad. He has already shown his ability to cut such spending . . . But there is still work to be done.

"He will be free now to select his own cabinet and close advisers . . . Agriculture is an important mainstay of the economy, and it is our own hope that the President will lose little time in finding a secretary of agriculture who has a better knowledge of that problem (than Orville Freeman) and one who can deal with the situations . . . in a sensible and capable manner.

"DURING HIS ONE YEAR of caretaker administration, President Johnson weeded out of Washington some of the theorists and dream builders who would guide the national economy astray. Tuesday's vote was an endorsement of that action and the President should see to it that . . . the advisors who gather around him have a solid grounding in the practical as well as the theoretical aspects of economics."

Well, there you are and I've kept my pledge. You can judge for yourself and decide whether the pessimist or the optimist spoke truer. But I think it fair to point out that the giveaway programs, the theorists and dream builders are still with us and that Orville Freeman is still handling the problems of agriculture.

Student Art To Be Shown

Approximately 250 pieces of student art work will be displayed at the College of Marin art department's spring exhibition Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Room 61 of the Art Building, according to Edwin A. Cadogan, chairman of the fine arts division.

The annual exhibition usually includes an art in action show, Cadogan noted, but this has been omitted this year as the exhibit is limited to one room due to "physical problems connected with construction of the new music-drama building."

Included in the display will be student work from day and evening classes in ceramics, design, drawing, illustration, interior design, jewelry, lapidary, painting, printmaking, photography, sculpture and weaving.

The display will be open from 7 to 10 p.m., Friday, 1 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m. Saturday and 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Cadogan said.

Back From China Sea

Ensign Roger S. Lion, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Lion of 26 Wray Avenue, Sausalito, has returned to the South China Sea, off the coast of Viet Nam, aboard the tanker Elkhorn. He was in Manila.

Marine Reserve Open House Set

Marin County Marine Corps Reserve Unit will open its training center doors at 153 Madison Avenue, San Rafael to the public Thursday from noon to 9 p.m.

The open house is being held in celebration of Armed Forces Week. Training equipment and weapons will be on display and films will be shown throughout the afternoon.

The unit was formed in Marin 34 years ago and has been at its present location since 1961.

Council To Discuss Fence Ordinances

Ordinances prohibiting barbed wire and electrified fences and requiring business vehicles to carry the vendor's name will be heard by the Mill Valley City Council at an 8 p.m. meeting today.

Also on the agenda are hearings on a proposal to make a portion of Woodbine Drive a one-way street, discussion of Paul B. Fischer fulfilling his option to pick up the lease on the city's small craft harbor for development, and discussion of a proposed quarterly newsletter. An ordinance regulating swimming pools will be given first reading.

Stinson Water Board Cuts Budget Sharply

Directors of the Stinson Beach County Water District drew up a greatly reduced 1967 preliminary budget Friday night: down to $4,510 from this year's $7,060 budget.

The higher costs last year were partly for engineering fees to determine the feasability of a sewage system. Action on this project is waiting on a county survey.

Foster Family Care, Youth Talk Set

A discussion of teen-agers and foster family care will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the conference room of the new Sunny Hills in San Anselmo.

Miss Dina Rys will lead the discussion. A film will also be shown on the topic.

Investor's guide! A Cadillac remains unmistakably a Cadillac regardless of year. New or previously-owned, its impressive size, its remarkable beauty and its continuity of styling have all contributed to Cadillac's reputation as the finest of all luxury car investments.

Every day, more and more wise car buyers are discovering that they can get more performance, luxury, distinction and pride of ownership in a previously-owned Cadillac than in many new cars of lesser stature. For example, Cadillac engineering has always been so advanced that many features of Cadillacs several years old are just now finding their way into new cars of other makes. And Cadillac has for years provided as standard equipment automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes, power windows and power seats on most models, automatic cornering lights and many other conveniences that even now cost extra on most new cars. Consider, too, the extra reassurance of motoring in an automobile of Cadillac's impressive size and stature. Before you buy your next car, be sure to look for your authorized Cadillac dealer's used car sign. It is the best possible landmark for a wide, attractively priced selection of well cared for, previously-owned Cadillac cars.

Junked Cars Are Homes For Fishes

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The island city of Key West has solved the problem of what to do with abandoned automobiles it clears off the streets.

It chains the car bodies together and dumps them in the ocean to form artificial reefs which soon become prime fishing spots. Fish seem to be more attracted to the old cars than to natural reefs.

Big Boat Show Is Attraction At Northgate

Beginning tomorrow, all merchants in both the fashion mall and the services plaza will have tickets for a drawing to award a week's vacation in Acapulco for two, or one of two three-day visits to Disneyland for two. The tickets will be available through noon on Saturday.

On Friday morning, boats from dealers throughout Marin will be on display in both sections of the center. Exhibits will cover the wide range of craft available in the county, from outboards to yachts and sailboats. The boat show will continue through 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Northgate Sporting Goods will also be erecting a display of camping equipment on the mall. Tents, cots, stoves and the many items used for camping in Northern California will be included.

In addition to the drawings and other displays, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. will host a one-million dollar tent show of telephones and the related sciences.

Contributing boat dealers will be Marin Boat House, Channel Boat Sales, Chris Craft Sales, Clipper Yacht Sales, Edgewater Boat Shop, Western Boat Shop, Owens- Marin Yacht Sales, Mandella Boats and Bristol Yachts.

Old Blazer Reverts To Bright Hues

The blazer this summer truly lives up to its name.

When the odd jacket first began to appear at sporting events some 75 years ago in what seemed to the Victorians a veritable blaze of color, the new fashion was promptly dubbed "blazer." And though in the ensuing decades colors were tamed to navy blues, wines and blacks, the name stuck.

But this summer the blazer, now a staple item in the male wardrobe, returns to the original concept of its Victorian ancestors in a blaze of color and pattern.

While navy blue still holds the number one color spot, it is being seriously challenged by clear reds, yellows, jewel greens and bristol blues in solids, pin-strpies and brazen awning stripes.

And where color is important, cotton is important because it takes it and holds it. The big blazer fabrics this summer will be denims, sailcloths, cotton hopsacking and madras in just about any color under the sun.

And there's an entirely new fashion idea emerging in the blazer suits designed for those occasions when a suit is too much and a jacket not enough.

New Zealand Currency Switch Profitable For Coin Collectors

By CHARLES CARTER

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Half-crowns, worth 2 shillings 6 pence (35 cents) at the banks and the prize of American coin collectors, are missing by the million in New Zealand.

They apparently have been salted away with the thought they will become increasingly valuable as time goes on.

New Zealand will switch to decimal currency July 1967, and as a first step the government decided to withdraw the big silver and cupro-nickel coins last May 2.

It was then estimated 15 million half-crowns were in circulation, and that 3 million or so of these would be tucked away as souvenirs or for future sale to collectors.

But five months later, only 8 million had gone back to the Reserve Bank for keeps. They are still being returned, but only in a trickle.

The Reserve Bank has set up machines to separate the silver coins minted between 1933 and 1948 from the cupro-nickel ones issued since then. About 3 million have a 50 per cent silver content, and 12 million are cupro-nickel.

If the bank got the lot, they would produce about 400,000 pounds ($1,120,000) worth of silver, and 100,000 pounds ($280,000) of nickel. The half-crowns that are returned will be melted down, and the metal sold to help pay the cost of the switch to the New Zealand dollar.

Half-crowns are prized by coin collectors, especially in the United States.

Even before May 2, extra fine uncirculated half-crowns of the 1963 issue were bringing $2.25 from American collectors, while those of the 1961 issue sold for $16.

Bay Firms Get Spotlighted In New Book

Two of the Bay Area's largest and best-known stores, City of Paris and The Emporium have been selected among 31 great American retailing organizations which are included in an anthology of famous pioneer-retailers, called "Old Masters of Retailing", published by Fairchild Publications' book division.

A full chapter is devoted to each of the stores, tracing their operations from the horse-and-buggy days to their current status as modern merchandising emporiums. The book has been brought up-to-the-minute and includes reference to key officials in both organizations, including City of Paris president, George S. DeBonis, and Emporium president, F. S. Hirschler.

The book was written by the late Philip J. Reilly, former managing director of Associated Merchandising Corp. (AMC), the world's largest buying office. It adds a significant chapter to the history of American business and places the multi-billion dollar retailing industry in proper perspective.

Some Stretch Slacks Don't Stretch, Now

The following should be of special interest to gals who are presently having a weight problem: Some stretch slacks now on the market are shrinking.

The experts say that some of these garments have literally lost a little of the "permanent memory" put into the fabric by the manufacturer. How do they become so forgetful?

In order for the fabric to stretch and then remember to return to its natural shape, a set crimp is put into the fiber thus giving the fabric what some call memory. The stretch fiber must also be fully relaxed before the final fabric is cut. Apparently some manufacturers, not gals, have relaxed a little.

Heads, Feet Due To Be Cool, Men

Cool summer comfort, at the top and bottom, laced with style for the sizzling season, is seen in men's hats and shoes for summer '66. Flexibility, remarkable lack of weight, and "air conditioning vents" are the distinguishing features of this season's new hats and shoes.

As far as hats are concerned, straw weaves and braids minus stiffening sizings have been adapted for businesswear as well as casualwear. In many styles the crowns of the hats have been designed with sections or rows of openwork to provide cooling vents. In other styles, the familiar coconuts, panamas, palms, leghorns and milan-types have either been reduced in weight or opened in weave or braid.

Select your new straw from light, medium or dark shades with particular emphasis on the mediums and lights. The choice of hat bands is virtually limitless from conservatively striped ribbons to vibrantly colored batiks, Madrases and silk puggarees.

New brim widths include everything from slims to moderately wide shapes for businesswear and also find the big, sweeping brim a favorite for "planter" and "beachcomber" casuals. Crown blocks include center creases, pinch fronts, telescopes and pinch-telescopes. Some of the soft straws can be shaped according to the wearer's preference.

Summer shoes stride into the season with new approaches to style and comfort in both dressy and casual styles. Regardless of the type, lightweight flexibility is the all-pervading feature of the new oxfords and slip-ons. Updated tanning processes have given new flexibility to medium-weight as well as thin soles. Many summer styles are made with unlined uppers to shave the weight and increase the porosity of the leathers.

Woven leather uppers and styles with open areas let their shoes "breathe" with every step. Poromerics, man-made and simulating either smooth or grained leathers in appearance, are also lightweight, flexible and have been proven to be both comfortable and durable. The poromerics can be cleaned with a damp cloth and have done much to revive the popularity of white shoes as well as blacks and browns combined with white.

Slip-on styles are more popular than ever this summer and range from the ruggedly casual handsewns for casualwear to sophisticated "boxer-top," elastic gored and plain slip-ons styled for wear with business and dress-up outfits. Many rise in an unbroken line from toe to ankle and above.

Off-duty shoes take on added color as sueded leather casuals appear in light blues, grays, olive-greens, yellows and reds. Sand-tones and palomino shades as well as cinnamons are fine mates for colorful slacks and walk shorts, too. And rising rapidly in popularity are the new sandals in natural or white with a hand-made look.

THE TRIED AND TRUE make a winning combination in summer shoes and hats. Here a classic tassle loafer and pinch-front coconut straw with bright Madras puggaree flank a white Panama optimo with striped band and a streamlined open white casual slipon that bridges the dress-into-casual wardrobe requirement.

X-Ray Camera Aids Spacemen

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (UPI) —A television camera that looks at invisible x-rays instead of a visible light is helping assure the flawless performance of Gemini man-in-space vehicles, office computers and your teen-age daughter's transistor radio.

The camera—heart of an ultrasensitive testing system developed by Picker X-Ray Corporation for the nondestructive inspection of amall components —converts x-rays directly into video signals. These produce a magnified image of the part's interior on a full-size television screen.

Tiny specks of solder "on the loose" inside transistors are among the trouble-making flaws that have been detected with this system.

Belgian Theater Official Battling Copyright Laws

Huisman says that American and other foreign plays cannot be performed in French until after presentation in Paris and by French touring companies.

The director argues that the regulation is obsolete and delays local viewing of recent works by as much as 10 years.

Good Dress Believed Help For Classroom Attitudes

Many schools require uniforms as a standard of dress. Uniforms reduce differences between individuals and put all on a nearly even basis as far as appearance is concerned. They become an effective discipinary tool.

Administrators find that students have a different feeling about themselves when they are physically clean and when their clothes are clean. Students who are always clean and appropriately dressed are better equipped to enter all phases of school work. They are good school citizens.

Everyday school clothes are important. Behavior usually matches a student's dress. Extreme variations in dress may result in disciplinary problems, delinquency and school dropouts. A pattern of sloppy appearance and inattention to school work results in poor grades. Good study habits generally result when appearance in dress is upgraded.

Northgate Tent Show Due To Display Many Marvels

A carnival-atmosphere will prevail in the Northgate Shopping Center tomorrow through Saturday when Pacific Telephone unveils a huge tent show packed with unique displays of communications marvels of the past, present and future.

The name of the show is "Telefair," admission is free and all Marin County phone users are invited, according to Troy Lewis, Northern Marin telephone manager.

Telefair will be open during the normal hours of the shopping center. It debuts tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. and on Wednesday and Friday evenings it will remain open until 9:30 p.m. It will close at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday and Saturday.

Visitors will have an opportunity to be awarded a demonstration long distance call to any location in the continental United States, Alaska and Hawaii. Telephone company plant craftsmen will present a splicing demonstration on an actual section of cable. A demonstration will show viewers how calls are transmitted overseas by means of underseas cable.

Included in the exhibits is an array of historical phones dating back to Alexander Graham Bell's initial invention. Customers, themselves, will be able to operate modern-day telephones that will be on display.

In addition, visitors will be able to listen to how they sound on the telephone, and play Tic-Tac-Toe with a computerized telephone relay device that has never lost to a human opponent.

For the scientifically minded, demonstrations are scheduled to explain satellite communications, microwave, a sun-powered phone, and the laser-a device which someday may carry millions of telephone calls on a single beam of light.

Stolen Pillowcase Lasts Long Time

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A Nashville hotel has been congratulated on the "excellent" linens it uses. The words of gratitude came from a woman who should know — she's been using one of the pillow slips for 31 years.

"Thirty-one years ago my husband and I spent our wedding night in your hotel," she wrote anonymously from Memphis. "When we checked out, we inadvertently mixed one of your pillow cases with our luggage.

"The pillowcase has lasted," she said, through "three children and four grandchildren," but now is wearing out.

"If the lady had given her name and address I would have sent her a replacement," said manager Leon Womble.

Robber Pleads For Rifle Back

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) — Service station attendant Gilbert Spaulding was confronted recently by a man wielding a rifle and ordered to empty the till, police said.

Spaulding complied and the robber stuffed the loot in his pockets. But Spaulding managed to grab the rifle and took back the money.

The robber, police said, begged for his rifle to be returned. He told Spaulding he was broke. Spaulding bought the loaded rifle for $20.

Pupil Likes Snow Best To Play In

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP)—When the first snow of the season fell, Mrs. Steele Gregory took time to explain to her second grade class how snow is created.

"Let's forget about all that," said one impatient youngster. "Let's get out and play in it."

Cloud Seeding Pioneer Declares It's Time To Remodel Weather

By WILLIAM E. HOWARD
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Spacemen are getting ready to run up a $150 million phone bill.

This is the estimated cost, over the next three years, of keeping in touch with Apollo astronauts as they fly in earth orbit and eventually to the moon.

Congressional investigators are rather appalled for, it turns out, hidden in the phone bill is what amounts to a $40 million subsidy to the Communications Satellite Corp. (COMSAT).

There are indications that some very high level government manipulating was involved in this one—apparently in an attempt to keep COMSAT in business. The government-sponsored enterprise is not doing very well. Only 75 of 240 channels on its Early Bird Satellite which relays communications across the Atlantic, are leased and producing revenue.

Early Bird brought in only $3 million in 1965 and is expected to have only slightly more revenue this year.

The future didn't look much better, until the National Aeronautics and Space Administration suddenly decided in mid-1965 it needed communications satellites to improve voice contact with Apollo astronauts. The present Gemini global network was deemed insufficient for space medics to "recognize subtle changes in the astronauts' voice characteristics which are clues to their psychological and physical condition."

Investigators of a House government operations subcommittee, in a newly issued report, don't question the merits of this explanation. But they do wonder why NASA went to COMSAT when the government is stringing up—at a cost of $30 million—a military communications satellite network of its own which could have handled the Apollo job.

The only explanation that appears in the testimony taken is that the military network "could not meet NASA requirements."

Well informed officials, when asked about this, say that's a lot of nonsense. NASA never gave the people building the network—the Air Force—an opportunity to make necessary changes.

The subcommittee report says someone high in the administration worked out a policy saying the military network could be used only for purposes "unique" and "vital" to "national security" that could not be met by a commercial system.

"This policy is narrower than the law creating COMSAT," says the committee, indicating that it was invoked primarily as a legal out for NASA to buy commercial service.

The investigators also spelled out just what kind of a plum the $40 million will be to COMSAT. This money will pay for putting up 1,000-channel Early Bird-type satellites over the Pacific and Atlantic oceans. They will be owned by COMSAT and become the basis for its global system, which Congress specified must be in operation by 1967. The corporation was supposed to pay for these satellites out of $200 million raised in the sale of stock.

NASA for its $400 million will use just eight of the 1,000 channels. That's all it needs. The eight channels, moreover, will be operated full time only during flights for about four weeks out of every two months through the end of 1969—the lunar landing date.

The other channels — and NASA's when free—can be leased by COMSAT as it pleases commercially. Other government agencies using the channels will also have to pay regular rates.

What it all adds up to say investigators, is a free ride for COMSAT.

"If the objective is to get COMSAT going, then this is the way to do it," says one pained government official. "But as a taxpayer, I can't see it. A better system could have been devised that is cheaper and has lasting benefit to the nation."

Courtesy Makes Boatmen Naturally Friendly Lot

Boatmen are a naturally friendly lot.

They like to get together with other boatmen and swap information, yarns about boating adventures they have had and discuss almost anything pertaining to boats and boating.

The reason boatment get along so well is that, in general, boatmen are always courteous to other boatmen. Few skippers will knowingly do something delibertately to disturb the enjoyment of others.

In case you might not know all the little courtesies dictated by etiquette and custom, a few reminders are offered by the Evinrude News Service.

AVOID BEING a show-off, a nautical "hot-rodder." This type is never popular. Never run fast past a pier or float, close to a swimming area, an anchored boat or fishermen.

When anchoring leave enough space for the boat next to yours so that you don't foul each others' anchor line or bump against each other if the wind or tide changes.

When you are fishing in a channel, it is best not to anchor because you are blocking traffic. Also don't tie up to government buoys or local navigation markers except in emergencies.

Others may have need for space at a float or pier. Don't bar them by tying up your boat and then going off and leaving it. Unless you are invited to do so, it's not good manners to land at a private pier or float.

OBSERVE THE Golden Rule. Don't do things to other boatmen you wouldn't want them to do to you. Keep your refuse aboard your boat until you can dispose of it in a proper container. Don't litter the waterways. Don't be snoopy about the activities of others when you are aboard their boat. You wouldn't peer into their living room, so why their boat?

It's an unwritten law that all boatmen give assistance to other boatmen in distress. When you see a disabled boat, pull alongside and offer assistance. You would apreciate the same thing if you have trouble.

The boating society is one that cares not who you are but does care what you are and how you conduct yourself in the world of boats and boatmen. Be courteous and you will be welcome.

Supermarket Patron Proves Who He Is

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP) — Mrs. Margie Castle, cashier at a supermarket here, asked the stranger for identification when he wanted to cash a check.

He reached into his mouth and pulled out a denture, on which his name was branded. Mrs. Castle cashed the check.

Home Accidents Cost Over $1 Billion

NEW YORK (UPI) —Home accidents cost the American public well over $1 billion in lost wages, medical expenses and insurance overhead, in 1965, according to the National Safety Council.

More than twice the amount of disabling accidents occur in the supposed safety of the home than on the highway, according to first aid authorities, who suggest that a well-stocked first aid kit be readily available in every home.

LIGHTWEIGHT WATER CRAFT — This runabout suitable for camping trips will be on display at Northgate Shopping Center this week, where stores are featuring everything for vacation and travel. Camping equipment, once purchased, should last for years. New products stress weight saving and easily assembled devices.

Boat Camping Combines The Best In Outdoor Fun

Boat camping combines the best of two recreational worlds.

Behind the flashy rise of this hybrid outdoor sport are some substantial old-fashioned considerations. The first is economy: a family of four can go boat camping with a 14-foot aluminum craft, a fishing motor and $100 worth of camping equipment. And once the equipment has been purchased, it should last for years. Other reasons behind the phenomenal rise in boat camping are the development of a variety of lightweight new camping items, and the increase in waterside campgrounds.

Minimum camping requirements for a boat camping trip, according to outboard people, are one sleeping bag per camper, rope, a small axe, foul-weather clothing, cooking utensils and food. Admittedly this makes for a pretty Spartan affair, so you might want to add a portable cooler, a lantern or two, tent, grill, first aid kit and an insulated water jug. Of course, you also have to include essential clothing and toilet articles.

Boat camping can be as comfortable or as primitive as you want to make it, and individual preferences dictate how much gear you should take. You can get a lot of the new products into a small boat. For instance, a three-cubic-foot cooler may weigh no more than a couple of pounds and still preserve food for days.

DORSETT FARALON OFFSHORE

This is a 23 foot trailerable, blue-water, offshore fisherman—an ideal craft for skin diving, big game fishing and long-range cruising. A giant cockpit provides maneuverability for a crew of small fry and fishermen. There are two large bunks, marine toilet, ample storage and a molded Cuddy hatch with easy access to cabin or deck. Options include galley, bow and stern rails, convertible top, extra 40-gallon fuel system and engine hour meter. At Channel Boat Sales, San Rafael. Also on display this week in the Northgate mall.

No Limits In Sight For Summer Costumes

Vacation time is here and the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear offers some stylewise hints for rounding out leisure wardrobes.

Swimmers, for example, will want to replenish their beach or pool outfits with a liberal selection of swim trunks and/or mix'n'match sets of trunks and beach shirts. The choice is bigger than the number of sun-scorched bodies at Coney Island on a 90-plus Sunday. Models inspired by Oriental karate coats and trunks will rate the fashion splash they make against terry jackets and self-belted trim trunks, plaids and — newest of all — imaginative floral prints that have made their way from Hawaii into the hearts of surfers and sunners in the 49 other states.

Real sailors and fellows who just admire the salty look will go for the new deep-water inspired sailing jackets. Some are pull-overs while others have zipper fronts and they are embellished with competition stripes, draw-string closures at the neck and bottoms, stand-up or sailor collars, big, roomy, spill-proof pockets and some have convertible hoods, too.

Permanent-press finishes as well as soil- and stain-resistant finishes add to the attractiveness of the new sailing slacks and shorts. Add brushed denim to the new jackets and slacks to ward off the cold breezes on chilly days. And don't forget the updated boating shoes with dock-gripping soles. These come in lace and slip-on styles and can be had with either fabric or water-resistant leather uppers.

Real seamen appreciate the need for eye and head protection from sun, spray and salt. Hence the popularity of comfortable, close-fitting, long-billed, sailing caps. The underside of the visors areg reen for added eye comfort and the front of the cap is usually embellished with a yacht club emblem or the anchor device.

Dressy vacation occasions call for summer elegance. High on the list this summer are silk and silk-type suits. The silk suit makes the grade for dressy cocktail hours, dinners at the better restaurants and informal dances. The silk suit also goes to town and business dates.

Casual jackets and slacks include comfortable velours in models ranging from Western pullovers to cardigans and convertible turtlenecks.

Teaching Computer Is TV Star

LOS ANGELES—A computer in New York was the TV star of an hour special program given at UCLA recently. Without commercial interruption, closed-circuit television in a University of California Extension class offered a peek into the bright future of a computer as a teacher.

Presented as a demonstration in extension's new course, Computer Assisted Instruction (CAI), the "TV special" began when Carl Spring, a special representative of IBM, visited the class and telephoned Yorktown Heights near New York City and arranged for a computer to transmit digital information over normal telephone lines.

Standing by was a TV camera trained on the receiving console. In the classroom, before thirty students and guests, two television monitors offered a closer look at the "star."

What they saw was a teaching method which could free high school and college instructors from teaching routine portions of history, mathematics, grammar and other subjects.

CAI, a "tutorial" or "drill and recitation" method, is a learner-centered method which presents subject matter to a student in small steps, requiring frequent responses from him and immediately informing him of the correctness of his responses.

The student communicates with the computer on a time-shared basis by using a typewriter or other input-output device. The typewriter is his own "teaching machine" with which he interacts at his own rate of speed as he progresses through a course.

Acting as a student of American history, Spring responded to the computer's sample questions by giving vague or incorrect answers to demonstrate the computer's versatility:

Q. What did George Washington do in his childhood?

A. He felled a fruit tree.

Q. Incorrect. What kind of tree and what did he do to it?

A. He cut down a cherry tree.

Q. Correct.

Leonard Silvern, class instructor and a pioneer in CAI development, said that the primary deterrent to the immediate use of CAI may well be the cost of the input-output device through which the student communicates, rather than the cost of the computer itself.

Because CAI puts the teaching program in a central, fast-access computer, many students can communicate with the computer at the same time, learning different subjects.

Silvern said, "In a business environment a computer, because of its extremely high speed, can handle the educational program and simultaneously handle the payroll, accounting, inventory and other on-going activities.
